Dear Roamer

Greetings, Father of Our Country and a happy day to all of you celebrating his birthday. All of which reminds us however, the short little month is near its end, with mighty Martius about to enter—like a lion or like a lamb? Yes, these are the last few days to flitter, frolic, flutter, for Wednesday,—Ash Wednesday, we enter the solemn season of Lent.

Summing it all up, we've had a pretty gay, sparkling season, so a bit of settling down won't hurt. Yesterday, Mrs. James G. Metcalfe entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon and bridge at her home on Front Street.

Birthday parties for the younger folks have been on the calendar too. Little Doris Stime, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stime entertained in honor of her birthday on Monday at the home of her parents on Queen St.

Mrs. Elias Nuttle and her young son, of Denton, Md., are guests for two weeks of Mrs. Nuttle's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Simpers during Mr. Nuttle's visit in Florida.

Mr. S. Scott Beck, Jr., will join the party of Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Usilton III, Miss Virginia Jones and Mr. William S. Collins who are spending this week-end in New York. While there, Mr. Cannon attended a short course at the University of Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. Cannon will spend this week-end in Philadelphia as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison.

Mrs. Harry Deringer was a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Heberling at their apartment in Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Heberling who are residents of Cacaway Farm in Broad Neck will return to Miami Beach, Fla. Tuesday, where they have been spending several weeks.

Mrs. James G. Beck returned yesterday from a week's visit to Cynwyd Pa., where she has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tull.

AMERICAN STORE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

This week, the American Store Company has reached the Half Century mark in the retail food business. It is an event of importance, of particular interest to millions of homekeepers who are well acquainted with the familiar, convenient neighborhood American Stores.

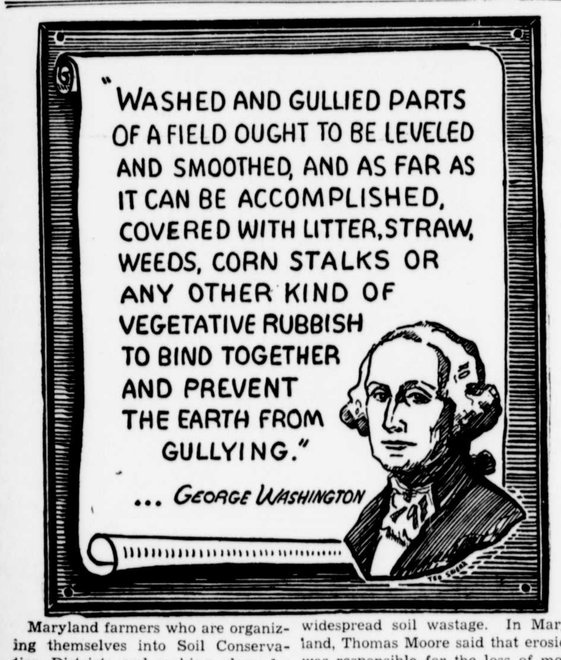
The company has planned a four week Golden Jubilee Sale of their quality food products as a token of appreciation to their valued customers.

The American Stores Company in celebrating its 50th Anniversary honors in a special way its older friends, especially those who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary this year. Couples who have been or will be married 50 years or more this year, when both husband and wife are still living, and who will register and furnish proof during the four weeks of our Anniversary Sale will receive a beautifully hand decorated, delicious, party size, Golen Anniversary Cake. All that is necessary is that the couple leave their names and address at any American Store.

It is interesting to note that this large Company, one of the leading food distributors in the United States, began business operations in Philadelphia back in 1891 with one modest store. The American Stores has developed until it now operates in thousands of neighborhoods in seven states and the District of Columbia.

Savings made in operation, together with improvements made in service throughout the years, have been Sheerfully passed on to our customers and the producers who serve us.

Cost of moving food from producers to consumers has been reduced more than 10% during the years in which modern methods have been developing. This alone results in saving millions of dollars for consumer. Producers also benefit because they receive a larger share of the consumer's dollar.



Maryland farmers who are organizing themselves into Soil Conservation Districts and making plans for effective programs to prevent loss of their soils are not starting something entirely new. Letters of George Washington show that he was concerned with the gullied and washed conditions to which the tobacco and corn lands of his state of Virginia had been reduced. With his plantation overseer at Mt. Vernon, he planned and put into effect several experiments to stop washing and gullies.

The Father of this Country was not the only one of his day to worry about soil erosion. His fellow Virginian, Thomas Jefferson, tried contour fields and hillside ditches—two measures which are widely used for the same purpose by farmers today. Jefferson said in 1817, "the fields are no sooner cleared than washed." Madison and T. M. Randolph were others who wrote deploring the widespread soil wastage. In Maryland, Thomas Moore said that erosion was responsible for the loss of more fertility than crops took from the soil.

As early as 1788, the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture offered prize awards for the best practical methods of "recovering old gullied fields to a hearty state," or for the best method of planting them to trees if they were too badly damaged for further field use.

Within the last few years, practically a revolution has taken place in Maryland agriculture through the efforts of farmers to stop the tremendous loss of soil. With the aid of the Soil Conservation and Extension Services, and under authority of the Maryland Soils Concervation Districts law, they are making and putting into effect methods that reduce the loss to a minimum.
