The Corn Dance.

From Harper's Weekly.

The men dancers have bunches of of green and yellow parrot feathers fastened to the top of their waving raven hair, while around their necks are strings of beads made of shells, feldspar and turquoise. Their bodies are nude to the waist, and are painted with a blue-white clay, sometimes merely in crude spots, while the legs and arms are frequently striped with the same or a different tone. Around the loins a Zuni or Moqui woven breech-cloth embroidered in red and black is held in place by a white cotton-girdle or sash, ending in balls and long strings waving with every movement. Below the knee masses of brilliant colored wool are knotted; over various colored and beaded moccasins are anklets of white and black skunk or goat fur; and hanging from the belt behind, a fox skin with the tail downward. Under broad armlets of tinted buckskin are sprigs of cedar; a bunch of the same is held in the left hand, while the right shakes a gourd rattle at every change of posture.

The dress of the women is a square of heavy dark blue wool, drawn over one shoulder and under the other, exposing part of the breast, while the sides are held together by ornamented silver pins. A long woven colored sash is wound around the waist. The legs are bare and notably fine; the feet small and beautifully formed. Their headdress is decidedly peculiar. It is made of an oblong piece of board or dried buffalo-hide, notched at the top, with a T-shaped piece resembling the "Tau," the emblem of life of the ancient Egyptians, cut out of the center. It is painted a light green, with red and yellow stripes and symbolic figures; on the sides and points are flecks of white eagle's down. The lower part is hollowed out to fit the head, and is held in place by thongs of buckskin fastened under the hair. Immense strings of shells and coral beads encircle the women's necks, and big Navajo silver rings or a crude turquoise hang as ear pendants. Many silver and copper bracelets dangle at their wrists as they wave the branches of evergreen from side to side in unison with the steps. Rich vermillion covers their cheeks and heightens their savage beauty. They are modest in demeanor, gracefully native in movement, and rarely take their eyes off the ground during the dance.

The dancing was kept up for seven long hours; but there was never any shirking; they stamped as energetically the last hour as the first. Any sign of fatigue would be met with renewed vigor of the chanting chorus, while the drummer would reverse his drum and thump harder on the other head. The chorus huddled closer together, gesticulating seriously with their hands, as though to emphasize the means of their songs.

At sundown they all filed solemnly into the church-yard, and kneeled down while the image of the saint was carried inside. A volley from the guns, then the Indian character asserted itself in a wild race of men and women to the estufa, where they indulged in their first refreshment of the day. Feasting was kept up far into the night, as were bonfires throughout the Pueblo and on the church tower sand walls.

School-boy Heroism.

Two boys were in a school-room, alone together, when some fireworks contrary to the master's prohibition exploded. The one boy denied it: the other, Bennie Christie, would neither admit or deny it, and was severely flogged for his obstinacy. When the two boys got alone again, "Why didn't you deny it?" asked the delinquent.

"Because there were only we two, and one of us must have told a falsehood," said Bennie.

"Then why did you not say that I did it?"

"Because you said you didn't and I would share the falsehood."

The boy's heart melted, Bennie's moral gallantry subdued him.

When the school resumed, the young rogue marched up to the master's desk, and said: "Please, sir, I can't bear to be a liar—I let off the squibs," and burst into tears.

The master's eyes glistened on the self-accuser, and the unmerited punishment he had inflicted on his schoolmate smote his conscience. Before the whole school, hand in hand with the culprit, as if the two were paired in the confession, the master walked down to where young Christie sat, and said aloud:

"Bennie, Bennie, lad, he and I beg your pardon—we are both to blame!"

The school was hushed and still, as older scholars are apt to be when something true and noble is being done—so still, they might have heard Bennie's big, boy tears drop proudly on his books as he sat enjoying the moral triumph which subdued him-self, as well as filled all the rest; and then, for want of something else to say, he gently cried:

"Master, forever!"

The glorious shouts of the scholars filled the old man's eyes with something behind his spectacles, which made him wipe them before he resumed the chair.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.
ILLUSTRATED.

Harper's Weekly is beyond all question the leading journal in America, in its splendid illustrations, in its corps of distinguished contributors, and in its vast army of readers. In special lines, it draws on the highest order of talent, the men best fitted by position and training to treat the leading topics of the day. In fiction, the ablest popular story-writers are large tribute to its columns. Superb drawings by the foremost artists illustrate its special articles, its stories, and every notable event in public interest: it contains portraits of the distinguished men and women who are making the history of the time, while special attention is given to the Army and Navy, Amateur Sport, and Music and the Drama, by distinguished experts. In a word, Harper's Weekly combines the news features of the daily paper and the artistic and literary qualities of the magazine with the solid critical character of the review.

STAND BY THE POLICY,

Sublime, Patriotic, and National,

of American for the Residents of America. Do not abandon the system which gives the country the best Opportunities for its Farmers, Mechanics, and Young People, they have ever had! No Interference with the Protective Tariff and no Repeal!
Trample upon every proposition for Unlimited Free Coinage of Silver Dollars which are worth only 72 cents on the dollar. Make them worth a full Dollar. The $145,000,000 of National Bank Notes withdrawn from circulation since 1883 have been replaced by over 325,000,000 of Silver which has been put out. Now make the people's money worth its face, for your own benefit!
Reserve the Public Lands for actual settlers and save them from monopolies and speculators! Protect and encourage the actual settler!
No interference with the progressive policies of the Republican party (repeatedly enacted into law) of building up a New Navy; Protecting the Sea Coasts; Pensioning Union veterans; excluding the Chinese; Regulating Inter-State Commerce; defending the Common Schools; Protecting American Citizens abroad; Securing Reciprocity with other American Nations; demanding Free Expression of the Popular Will in Elections, and an Honest Count; Extending American Commerce; Reviving American Shipping; Temperance; and Restraining Trusts.
The Superb Market Reports of The N. Y. Tribune are now positively the best printed by any newspaper in New York City. The Tribune is the only newspaper in New York, which sends men personally into every market in the city every day of the business week to obtain actual prices and the state of trade. The Tribune paper has also reporters from circulars, Commercial travelers say unanimously that the Tribune's Market Reports are the best. The Tribune now beats all rivals in the accuracy and wonderful completeness of its quotations. To be successful, a practical and level headed man must keep fully informed as to Prices and the State of Trade. This can be done by taking the Tribune.
Illustrations of the news of the day are freely used in the Tribune. This paper has its own corps of artists and photo-engraving plant. It contains features for the ladies and children; foreign letters and book reviews, and many special features.
No matter whether you agree with the N. Y. Tribune or not, in its sentiments, can you afford not to read its Dollar Weekly, regularly, while a reactionary party is in power and during these times of Change?
The N. Y. Tribune is the ablest, most aggressive, and soundest advocate of Republican policies. What the Republican party intends can be learned from the N. Y. Tribune. The Tribune's motto is the Truth and only the Truth. The articles of Roswell G. Horr, on the Tariff, Currency, Wages, etc., will be continued.
Remember! The N. Y. Tribune is the cleanest, purest, and best of newspapers for your family. Does a weekly newspaper, which invades the home with immorality, sensation, and falsehood, receive your sanction? The best columns and large print of The N. Y. Tribune make it the easiest paper to read.
The Tribune has the largest circulation of any Weekly in the United States, issued from the office of a Daily. We have challenged the country for a year, with no takers.
"Washington's Farewell." Write for the full illustrated Premium List of The N. Y. Tribune. A copy will be mailed, free of charge. A LETTER.

I find that many people are of the erroneous opinion that the office of STATE'S ATTORNEY will prevent me from attending to any other legal business than that pertaining to said office. I therefore adopt this method of informing my clients and friends that, EXCEPT IN CRIMINAL CASES, I am as free as any other attorney to attend to any legal business that may be entrusted to me.
