ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

Leon Errol (L), W. C. Fields and Gloria Jean in Universal's hilarious comedy, "Never Give A Sucker An Even Break." Coming on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1st to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Teamed together for the first time on the screen, Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond play the sweethearts of the immortal "Smilin' Through," also starring Brian Aherne which M-G-M brings next to the New Lyceum on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, October 27, 28, 29.

Photographed in Technicolor, the world famous love story comes to the screen with a rich musical score by Herbert Stothart as well as an all-star cast including Ian Hunter, Patrick O'Moore, Frances Robinson and little Jackie Horner.

Written by Jane Cowl and Jane Murfin, "Smilin' Through" tells of an immortal love which not even death can kill. Not even the death of his sweetheart at the hands of a jealous suitor on the eve of their wedding can make Sir John Carteret forget the lovely Moonyean. Miss MacDonald is seen as both Moonyean and Kathleen, while Aherne plays Sir John Carteret and Gene Raymond Jeremy and Kenneth Wayne. Norma Shearer co-starred with Leslie Howard in an earlier version fo the story in 1932.

Noted for his direction of poignant love tales, Frank Borzage directed "Smilin' Through," with Victor Saville, producer of such hits as "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "A Woman's Face" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," producing.

Nine familiar tunes and oldfashioned ballads are sun by Miss MacDonald.

The inimitable W. C. Fields returns to the screen in his latest Universal comedy, "Never Give A Sucker An Even Break," coming Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30, 31, Nov. 1st to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Fields has one of his strongest supproting casts in the new picture, including such well known players as Gloria Jean, Leon Errol, Butch and Buddy, Susan Miller, Franklin Pangborn, Charles Lang and Margaret Dumont.

The film brings Fields to the screen as himself. He is W. C. Fields, the comedian, who arrives at his studio to sell a story about himself to Pangborn, the producer. In his wanderings around the studio Fields meets his friends, Gloria, Butch and Buddy Errol nad others, all of whom appear as themselves.

The screen story was written by Otis Criblecoblis, extraordinary pen name for Fields himself, in collaboration with John T. Neville and Prescott Chaplin.

It takes the comedian and his screen friends on a fantastic journey to Mexico. The action reaches its climax on a mountain top where Miss Miller and Miss Dumont dwell in solitary grandeur.

Gloria Jean plays the role of Field's ward, and is featured in two elaborate song numbers.

Edward Cline, who directed Fields in a number of the comedian's greatest successes, was the director of "Never Give A Sucker An Even Break."

A Wicomico County jury, after debating the question, for two hours and forty-two minutes, re turned a verdict of "guilty" on three counts and "innocent" on four others—all that remained of a thirtycount indictment charging County Treasurer Charles W. Bennett with misfeasance in office. Of thirty counts, the Court threw out fourteen on demurrers by the defense counsel; the state, for lack of sufficient evidence to substantiate them under the law, abandoned nine of the counts. The jury went to their room with seven of the counts to pass on.

The court postponed or deferred the passing of sentence until October 25th, so that full time could be given to the case.

CRAB BACON ROLLS

1 cup steamed crab meat
1 egg
½ cup tomato juice
1 cup bread crumbs
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon celery leaves, chopped
6 slices bacon

Bone and flake the crabmeat, then add all remaining ingredients except the bacon. Mix well together and roll into finger lengths. Wrap each roll with a strip of bacon; fasten with toothpicks. Place on the rack in broiling pan so that the fat will drain off. Broil, turning occasionlly, so all sides will be browned and the bacon crisp. This makes 8 or 9 rolls, and will serve four.

The crabmeat can be replaced by lobster if desired.
