The Ellicott City correspondent of the Baltimore American, writing under date of Saturday, 23rd inst., says: "The removed case from Carroll county of Grove A. Shipley, vs. Vachel Buckingham, which began in the Circuit Court here yesterday, was concluded today by a verdict in favor of the defendant. The suit was on a promissory note for $110, given in payment for an alleged superior kind of seed wheat. There were several similar cases, removed from Carroll county, pending in this court, but the jury's verdict in this case settles the fate of the others, such an agreement having been entered into by the counsel on both sides."

Edward Young was brought here from Frederick county on Tuesday afternoon and turned over to the Carroll county authorties for trial on the charge of complicity in the robbery of the store of Genetz & Lappen, at Mt. Airy, on the night of Feburary 15th. A warrant for Young's arrest was issued several weeks ago by Justice Wm. Moore, of this city, but the accused eluded its service until he was arrested and committed to the Frederick county jail for breaking into a car of the B. and O. R. R. When given into custody of Carroll county officers he was taken before Justice Moore and demanded a further hearing, which will be given him next week. In the meantime he is held in the Carroll county jail in default of bail for his appearance.

Samuel Gamble, an experienced farmer living near Emmittsburg, says that he sees no reason why there should not be a large peach crop, inasmuch as there has not been sufficient warm weather this winter to cause the buds to advance, and, as they were in a state of dormancy when the cold wave struck this section of the country, it had no injurious effect upon them. Mr. Gamble also says that there will be a large strawberry crop. The same conditions have existed in Carroll county during the winter as those referred to by Mr. Gamble, and about the same prospect for a fruit crop exists here as in Frederick county. But all danger of blight by frost is not yet over. It is a little too early yet to predict the character of the fruit crop with certainty, although the conditions at this time are undoubtedly favorable.

A special meeting of Maryland Classis of the Reformed Church was held on last Monday morning in St. Paul's Reformed Church of this city, at which the following items of business were transacted: Rev. Dreisbach, was confirmed by the classis, and a committee, consisting of Revs. C. S. Slagle, S. M. Roeder and H. J. Macalister, was appointed to install him as pastor of said church. The following members of the Classis were present: Revs. K. O. Spessard, C. S. Slagle, H. J. Macalister and S. M. Roeder, and Elders John H. Gerke, H. Wirt Shriver, Jonas Frock, and Cyrus Feeser. Of the sixty head of cattle fed on the farm of State Senator Pinkney J. Bennett, of this city, during the past winter, forty were shipped via the Western Maryland Railroad to Messrs. Myers & Hausman, of Baltimore, several days ago, for export to Liverpool. These cattle, when purchased by Senator Bennett last fall, averaged 1000 pounds in weight. This was increased by feeding to about 1400 pounds. The forty shipped this week were in splendid condition and were conceded to have been the finest ever sent out of Carroll county. They were partially fed on wheat, as an experiment. Senator Bennett has promised, when the remaining twenty are sent to market, to furnish us a full statement of the cost of feeding and the profit realized on his experiment. He now knows that it will not fall short of a sum that will give him $1.00 per bushel for wheat and $5.00 per barrel for corn.

Rev. Joel Brown, the newly appointed pastor of Centenary M. E. Church, of this city, and his family were given a reception by the members of the congregation, in the lecture room of the Church, on Friday evening of last week. The room was tastefully decorated and presented a bright and attractive appearance. About 250 persons were present, among whom were a number from sister churches. Mr. George R. Gehr delivered, in his usual happy style, an appropriate address of welcome, to which the new pastor made a warm and feeling response. Rev. Dr. L. W. Bates, of Westminster Theological Seminary, also extended a fraternal greeting to Mr. Brown. An agreeable feature of the occasion was the service of refreshments, of ice cream and cake, in great abundance. I was a very successful and enjoyable event.

Thomas Hunter Ware, of Anacostia, D. C., became so exercised on account of the opposing influences of love and religion that he ended the matter on Tuesday night by shooting himself through the heart. A Washington despatch says Ware had been for some time "attentive to Miss Cora Lane, daughter of the Rev. William Lane, pastor of the West Lombard Street Methodist Church, in Baltimore Ware was a Catholic and the girl a Methodist. She refused to marry him unless he became a Methodist, and refused to accept a mere abandonment of the Catholic Church as a compromise. Ware shot himself rather than give up his religion." Miss Lane, we believe formerly resided in this county, when her father was pastor of the Deer Park Circuit, M. P. Church.

John Baumgardner and Harry C. Mort two of the prisoners who escaped from the Carroll county jail on Tuesday morn- of last week are still at large. Baumgardner, it is said, made his way to his home in Frederick county, near Mt. Airy, after which all traces of him were lost. Mort went with him but left him and went to his home, near Emmittsburg, in Frederick county. He was closely pursued by Deputy Sheriff William F. Tyler, and lay concealed in a hay shed by the roadside when Tyler passed and missed him. It is reported that after reaching home Mort was joined by his brother and a man named Few, after which the three went to Emmittsburg, purchased a lot of cartridges, and started across the mountains in the direction of Waynesboro, Pa. When they reached Monterey they changed their course and went towards Gettysburg, Pa., where they were several times put off a freight train on which they were endeavoring to steal a ride. Leaving Gettysburg they went in the direction of York. Officer Tyler pursued them closely and was only a few hours behind them. But they managed to elude him and have thus far made good their escape.

Barn Burned—An Incendiary Fire.

Several months ago some unknown person wrote on the door of Mr. Elijah Wagoner's barn, in Bachman's Valley, two and a half miles from this city, the words: "This barn will be burned." Little attention was paid to the matter, as it was regarded as either a joke or an idle threat. It is not certain even now that the person who wrote it meant it seriously, or became an incendiary. But the barn, wagon-shed, granaries, about twenty tons of hay, a large rick of straw, about 60 bushels of rye, a lot of corn and oats, two corn-shellers, a feed cutter, a hominy mill, a wagon or two and other implements were destroyed by fire last Saturday night. The fire broke out shortly after nightfall and, it is said, started in three places—the hay-mow in the barn, the hay-stack and the straw-rick—making it certain that it was of incendiary origin. The live stock in the building was rescued, but nearly everything else was completely destroyed. The barn was a large one, 80x40 feet, and its destruction involves a loss of $1,500, on which Mr. Wagoner had a policy of insurance for $1,200 in the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Carroll County. The produce and implements, approximating $500 in value, were uninsured, a policy covering them having expired about January 1st. The farm is tenanted by Mr. William Yingling. Since the fire Mr. Wagoner has discovered that about six feet square of the weatherboarding of an out-kitchen has been saturated with coal oil, making him apprehensive that some malicious person is contemplating the destruction of all his farm buildings.

Carrollton Items.

As Mr. James Tawney, trackwalker for the W. M. R. R., was performing his duty on Sunday morning last, at 6.15 o'clock, he noticed as he approached the crossing near Carrollton Station, a man lying beside the track, face downward. Upon closer examination he discovered that it was Calvin C. Valentine, a citizen of Carrollton. Mr. Tawney notified Jesse Magee and his son, who live near where Mr. Valentine was found, and soon after other neighbors were called. Mr. Valentine was totally unconscious. Mr. Tawney, with the assistance of Jesse Magee, Carroll Magee, Joseph Brummel, John Cullison and David Sharrer, at the request of J. E. Evans, carried Mr. Valentine to the latter's store and Noah Long went for Dr. J. T. Hering. Upon the doctor's arrival and after examination, he pronounced Mr. Valentine's skull fractured and thought his injuries would prove fatal. The doctor spent the day until after four o'clock in the afternoon trying to restore consciousness to the injured man, but without success. The doctor was then obliged to go to Westminster, and said he would return during the night. Just before he left he said it would be safe to move Mr. Valentine to a more convenient place, and Mr. E. G. Van Deusen suggested, as he was living close by, that the injured man be removed to his house, where he could be made more comfortable. He was then very carefully carried by some of his friends over to Mr. Van Deusen's house on a stretcher and placed on a bed, where he remained unconscious until 5.35 in the evening, when he quietly passed away without a struggle.

After his death he was removed to his own home, from where the funeral took place on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. He was buried at Bethel, the Rev. S. B. Craft officiating.

How Mr. Valentine received his injuries is unknown, but it is supposed that he was struck by a night freight, while on his way home down the track.

He was a son of Mr. Levi Valentine, at one time Inspector of Steamboats at Baltimore. He had been employed at the Schlosser Tannery of England & Bryan, at Tannery Station, for the past fourteen years. He was a member of the Schlosser Tannery Aid and Beneficial Society.

Mr. Valentine leaves a widow and five children, three sons and two daughters.

On Monday, 25th inst., at the request of the family, Justice Azariah Oursler held an inquest over the body. The jury, consisting of E. G. Van Deusen, foreman; Joseph Brummel, John H. Taylor, Charles Taylor, J. E. Evans, Jno. E. Houck, Jeremiah Ebaugh, Joel Ebaugh, John Cullison, Benjamin Craft, John A. Chew, and ——— ———, returned the following verdict, after examining some ten witnesses: "That Calvin C. Valentine came to his death by being struck by a train of cars on the W. M. R. R., between the hours of 12 and 7 o'clock, A. M., on March 24th, 1895, to the best of their knowledge and belief, from the evidence given."

By an oversight we forgot to notice before this, a donation given to the Rev. S. B. Craft, of Bethel Church, by the congregation and some of his friends, consisting of groceries, provisions, hay, corn, vegetables and cash, amounting in value to about $40.00.

While Miles L. Long was ditching on his farm, on last Monday, he found 25 water snakes, something unusual to find at this time of the year.

Hampstead Items.

If, as Poor Richard has said, "two removes are as bad as one fire," the people of our town may expect to witness the equivalent of a very serious conflagration next Monday, April 1st. In the general process of removing, fortunately Hampstead will not suffer any numerical loss, for very few will move out of town, while several families are expected to come among us from other places. We give the newcomers a hearty welcome and regretfully say farewell to those who are about to leave us. Dr. R. F. Wells has engaged the house now occupied by Mr. Barrick, on north Main street. The latter will remove to the house vacated some time ago by Dr. Warfield. Mrs. A. Buchman will occupy the house which she recently obtained of Mayor Thos. J. Hunt in exchange for the property in which she now lives. Mr. M. S. Yohe, the baker, will move into the mayor's house. Mr. Thomas Wells, for several years our postmaster and druggist, has rented Mr. Armacost's place, corner of Main street and Gross' road. Mr. Wells, since he left Hampstead, has been postmaster and storekeeper at Houcksville. Mr. Alphæus Stansbury takes possession of the house to be vacated by Mr. Yohe and Mrs. Shaeffer, which he recently purchased. Mrs. Shaeffer, we understand, is going to Baltimore. Mr. Samuel Shugars will take his family into that half of Mr. Cox's double house now occupied by Mr. Howard Patterson. Mr. Patterson and Mr. Eli Martin have rented the large house on Railroad Avenue. Mr. Wade Crampton has sold his western interest in the patent fence business and will not remove to Indiana as was expected. He is now busily engaged in furnishing Mr. Richard Murray's house, which he has rented. Several "flittings" have already taken place. Mr. A. Routson has gone to Grave Run, Baltimore county, where he will engage in farming. Mr. George Byers, who has been working here for some time in the cigar business, has brought his family here from Hanover, Pa., and now occupies the house opposite the post-office. The family contains several gifted musicians, and Mr. Byers already has a violin class. A few out of town removals have come to our notice. Mr. Albaugh is preparing to take possession of the farm which Mr. A. Stansbury will relinquish. Mr. David Spencer, dairymen at Spring Lake Dairy Farm, will leave to accept a similar position near Westminster.

Mr. Shell Frankforter, granite worker, is now employed in the advertising office of the Central Oil and Gas Store Company at Florence, Mass. We are told that his family will remove to that place in the near future

Richard E. Murray has sold the house in which he resides to Mrs. Beckley for $2,500. The latter will make Hampstead her home in the future.

Mrs. J. W. Murray is slowly recovering from a severe spell of nervous exhaustion, the result of the recent fire.

Mr. C. M. Murray and Mrs. John M. Bush took the Monday afternoon train for New York City, in response to a telegram which stated that their brother, Mr. Columbus Murray, was critically ill with pneumonia.

Rev. J. B. Hall, who has not been well since he returned from conference is recovering his normal condition of health. Mr. Frank Fowble has also been on the sick list for some time but is now improving.

Trade is draggy.

Flittings occur daily.

Potatoes are much higher than wheat.

Spring gardening has assumed its annual activity.

The dwelling house belonging to the late Nathan Hanna was purchased at public sale this week, by Ed. A. Snader, for $416. The lot adjoining, was sold at same time to Albert Lambert, for $140. Two other lots contiguous were offered at same time, but were withdrawn.

Sulphur Spring Lodge I. O. O. F. has purchased the vacant lot adjoining that of Frank J. Devilbiss, upon which will be erected a three story hall. Its dimensions will be 35x68 feet. The ground floor will be arranged for store rooms, the second floor for a town hall, and the third for uses of the lodge. Building operations will begin as soon as the weather permits, and pushed to a rapid completion. The hall will be quite an innovation in our town, and certainly its consummation is devoutly wished.

The old Conaway property, adjoining Dielman's Hotel, has been purchased by Louis H. Dielman. Thus an old landmark will be soon obliterated, quite to the advantage of the town.

Messrs. Shreeve & Snader, of Westminster, have established a branch office of their popular laundry here. It is in the charge of U. G. Heltibridle, who politely manages its affairs to the utmost satisfaction of his patrons.

Our "up to date" farmer-miller near here, Mr. Solomon P. Engler, has thoroughly refitted his mill with the very latest outfit of machinery. The system employed will turn out flour equal to any of the Pillsbury's, and the bread of it, when made properly, is simply superb.

The Cold Spring Creamery Company have perfected arrangements for a telephone line to this place. It is expected to be in operation within ten days.

ST. NICHOLAS

FOR YOUNG FOLKS IN 1895.

EDITED BY MARY MAPES DODGE.

The greatest year in the history of this magazine, now without a rival in its field, is the one just closing. Plans for the coming year assure even greater success than in the past.

RUDYARD KIPLING wrote his famous "Jungle Stories" for St. Nicholas, and it is a welcome announcement that these will be continued in 1895.

NAPOLEON FOR YOUNG READERS.

While the Century will have for its leading feature the new Life of the French Emperor by Prof. Sloane, one of the most popular of St. Nicholas writers takes the same character for his inspiration.

A BOY OF THE FIRST EMPIRE, BY ELBRIDGE S. BROOKS, is the story of a little lad from the streets of Paris (but of good family) who renders a service to Napoleon, and becomes one of his pages and finally an aide. He is with him at the most critical times of his life,—at the departure for Elba, in the glories of the life at Fontainebleau, and finally at Waterloo. The story glows with pageantry, and is a truthful and accurate account, based upon the best authorities and verified by the latest information, of the life of "the man of destiny." It is really a delightful story-history of Napoleon.

WEST POINT AND MAN-OF-WAR LIFE will receive attention, Lieutenant Putman writing of cadet life at the military academy, while Ensign Ellicott, of the flag-ship "Chicago," will describe the experience of our hardy seamen on the modern ships of war.

INSPIRING TALES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

Theodore Roosevelt will write a series to be called "Hero-Tales from American History," recounting famous deeds of heroism about which young people ought to know. Prof. Brander Matthews will include in his entertaining papers on "The Great American Authors" accounts of the lives of Bryant, Emerson, Longfellow, Hawthorne, Whittier, Poe and Lowell. Stories of Famous Horses in history and mythology—Bucephalus, Napoleon's and Sheridan's horses, etc.—will be told by James Baldwin, author of "Stories from the Northern Myths." City Fire Departments will be treated, and there will be two or three papers on The Boys' Brigade. The Serial Stories are many. One called "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp" recounts the marvelous adventures of a modern boy who became the incidental purchaser of Aladdin's lamp and summoned the jinn while cleaning it. A delightful story of college girls, "The Three Freshmen," will appeal to every girl; and "Teddy and Carrots," James Otis's serial of newsboy life, will be read by every boy. A serial story by Francis Courtenay Baylor is one of the features.
