Best Food for Hens this Season.

When the hens that have the run of the grain stubbles, or the threshing yard, or the wheat stacked in the mow, immediately begin to lay eggs freely, it should go to show that a liberal feeding of wheat will have the same effect. Just now, when eggs are scarce, it will be most useful to give the hens a good share of the small grain that comes from the thrashing machine, and to continue it all the winter.

It is suggested that the leaves or stems of tobacco, ground up fine, make a good bottom covering to the nest. Lice cannot live where strong-smelling tobacco is placed, and by its use hens will lay better, because they are not annoyed by the vermin found among the flock. Make a layer of tobacco, and then straw, then another of tobacco, then one of straw. The smell of tobacco does not annoy the hens, and plenty of it can be used without any fear on that score.

The way in which articles are put up has much to do with securing a ready market and good prices. Appearances count for a good deal more than we generally imagine, and first impressions carry great weight. Clean, well-assorted eggs of one size and color will always find a quicker sale at a better price than equally good ones having the different sizes and colors indiscriminately mixed, and this, too, even if the purchaser imagines himself uninfluenced by appearances.

Many farmers excuse their carelessness on the plea of poor prices. It is to be remarked that they never took any pains when prices were high, nor was it so important then. With over-production and consequent low prices, customers have become more fastidious, there is a greater amount of choice, and the neat, tempting packages are the first sold, while the selling price gives good returns for the extra trouble involved.

Coffee Roasting Advised.

A well known authority on germ diseases asserts that the practice of purchasing the coffee bean in its green or "uncooked" state and roasting it upon the kitchen range not only furnishes the family with a richer and more aromatic beverage, but serves to keep diphtheria, scarlatina and kindred germ diseases from obtaining a lodgement in the dwelling. The pungent smoke which arises from the roasting bean, it is claimed, is one of the most powerful of disinfectants and germ killers. The doors should be left open, so that the vapor may penetrate to every nook and corner and carpets, curtains, clothing, etc., may become thoroughly saturated with the smoke, which, though acrid, is not offensive.

The scientist referred to—and he is by no means alone in his opinion—avers that the odor in one's clothing is sufficient to prevent the transportation of microbes, and that its permeation of the atmosphere of the house will render innocuous those which may already have been imported in the dwelling.

Furthermore, in cases where the germ diseases may have appeared in a family the fumes of the roasting bean will more thoroughly disinfect the building, or it may be flat, than all the drugs dispensed by the health department or relied upon by the profession.

Metallic Carpets.

Lowell parties are reported to be experimenting with a process for making metallic yarns for use in carpets. The process consists of a foundation of a metal coating on an inferior surface and weaving the strands in certain proportions. The object is to secure greater durability and strength than it is possible to obtain from the use of yarns made from our animal or vegetable fibers. A non-oxidizable metal is employed and this is dissolved and applied to the surfaces of threads, rendering them like metal in appearance and general characteristics. The metallic composition is composed of aluminum, borax, alum, litharge and wax. These compounded with white lead and one or two other substances produce a metallic coating that is as flexible and soft as common paint would be, yet to all appearances the covering is as metal, very much resembling aluminum. Various substances can be used for the core or body of the thread, among other wood pulp, jute, cotton, flax, etc. The metallic coating is applied to the yarn automatically in a device consisting of a chamber in which the ingredients are put and through which the yarns are drawn, the coating adhering to the surface of the threads.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

Foremost of American Weeklies.

Circulation 168,000 Copies a Week.

First to rally from the overwhelming defeat of 1892, THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE patiently labored for two years to awaken the sleeping judgment of the Nation. Possessing an enormous circulation, equipped with a staff of competent and honest students of public questions, and itself having no object to serve except the welfare of the masses upon the farms and in the shops, scorning lies and sensational appeals, and satisfied merely to place the truth before its readers, THE TRIBUNE has sent to half a million earnest and reflecting people, weekly, a budget of honest facts, sensible arguments and friendly suggestions which have at last borne fruit in the elections of 1894. The work of the people is, however, only half done. It is necessary in 1896 to place in the chair which Grover Cleveland has not adorned, a constructive statesman of the Republican faith. To this task THE TRIBUNE now addresses itself, and invites the support of every American citizen who desires a return of the "good old times."

Roswell G. Horr, ex-Congressman from Michigan, but now of New York City, will continue to discuss Tariff, Currency, Coinage and Labor questions in THE TRIBUNE. By all odds the most witty, earnest and well-informed speaker upon the stump, he is every year sent by THE TRIBUNE to aid the local campaigns in every part of the country. He keeps in constant touch with the people, knows their wants, and addresses himself in THE TRIBUNE directly to the thoughts which are in their minds, and makes himself understood. He will gladly answer questions, asked in good faith, by readers.

All the regular features of THE TRIBUNE will be continued. For Western readers, a special array of Western news is supplied. For Eastern readers an Eastern edition is printed.

It is the intention to make the paper especially helpful to farmers and mechanics. Each class has its separate department in THE TRIBUNE; and the new inventions of mechanics, who lack the means to exploit the product of their brains, are advertised free of charge in the hope of aiding them to find a purchaser or a partner.

The market reports of THE TRIBUNE, long acknowledged to be the best in the country, will maintain their old standard; and the usual variety of foreign news letters, essays upon home topics, book reviews, articles on chess and checkers, and miscellany will be presented every week. The editorial pages of the paper sum up the most important news of the day, with comments.

THE TRIBUNE also prints, for the ladies, the very latest fashions from Paris and London, and there is a department of "Answers to Questions," conducted by a capable writer, in which all the questions of the people on miscellaneous topics are carefully answered.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE is an incomparable paper for residents who live beyond the range of THE DAILY TRIBUNE, but find it necessary to keep in touch with the best thoughts and higher interests of the world at large.

A few premiums are offered to readers and club agents.

Any friend of THE TRIBUNE is cordially invited to send for sample copies and terms, and make up a club of subscribers. We would be especially pleased to see a large circle of readers in every workshop.

THE WEEKLY, $1; THE SEMI-WEEKLY, $2; THE DAILY TRIBUNE, $10 a year. THE TRIBUNE Almanac for 1895, ready in January, 25 cents a copy.

THE CENTURY

IN 1895.

Taking advantage of the general revival of interest in the Great Emperor, The Century will print during 1895

A NEW LIFE OF NAPOLEON, MAGNIFICENTLY ILLUSTRATED.

The Century is famous for its great historical serials, and never in its history has a greater one been projected than this new "Life of Napoleon," written by Prof. William M. Sloane, of Princeton, who has spent many years in preparation for his work. Thus far no biography of "the man of destiny" has appeared in either English or French that is free from rancor and attentive to the laws of historical criticism. The Century has secured it—the great, all-round, complete and interesting history of the life of one of the most marvelous of men. No matter how much you already know of Napoleon, you will want to read this;—here is the concentration of all the lives and memoirs. The illustrations will be magnificent—the wealth of the Century's art department will be lavished upon them. Two members of the staff have just returned from Paris, where they have been securing all that is best of Napoleonic material. New portraits will be printed, great historical paintings reproduced, and Castaigne and other modern artists have drawn anew some of the great scenes of Napoleon's life of this history.

In addition to this there will be

A NEW NOVEL BY MARION CRAWFORD.

The title is "Casa Braccio," and it is a romance of Italy, full of human passion and exciting episode.

A NEW NOVEL BY MRS. BURTON HARRISON

will be published during the year. It is called "An Errant Wooing," and is a tale of wandering (and love) among new scenes of travel in Northern Africa and Southern Spain.

OTHER FEATURES

will be several familiar papers on "Washington in Lincoln's Time," by Noah Brooks, who was on terms of unusual intimacy with the War President; "The Cathedrals of France" by Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, with illustrations by Joseph Pennell. Many more serials will be announced later.

RUDYARD KIPLING.

contributes his First American Story to the December number of The Century.

THE PRICE

of The Century is $4.00 a year. "No home is complete without it." Begin subscriptions with November number. Whatever other magazines you may take, you must have The Century. All agents and dealers take subscriptions, or remittance may be made directly to

THE MORNING HERALD
FOR 1895.

The Publishers take pleasure in announcing that "The Morning Herald" has recently been enlarged from four to eight pages, and that while the price remains at one cent per copy, or $3.00 per year to mail subscribers, each edition contains as much news and more general reading matter than is printed by the Baltimore two cent dailies.

The Telegraphic Service of "The Morning Herald" is unexcelled by any other Baltimore paper.

Its News Service in the counties is thorough and reliable.

Its Market Reports are full, complete and accurate.

Its Illustrated Woman's Page is a feature that will not be found in any other Baltimore daily.

A verbatim report of the Sermon by Rev. Dr. Talmage—the celebrated Brooklyn Preacher—appears in Monday morning's edition.

"THE MORNING HERALD" will continue to be an Independent Newspaper—fair and impartial in its statements and fearless in the expression of its opinions.

"THE SUNDAY HERALD,"

Of twenty-four pages, is the best Sunday paper in Baltimore, and is sold at 3c. per copy, or $1.50 for a year.

"THE WEEKLY HERALD"

Is the cheapest and best eight-page weekly newspaper published in the United States, the annual subscription being 50c.

☞ "The Morning Herald" will be sent on trial for one week to any person sending his or her address, enclosing 5 cents, to the

ST. NICHOLAS

FOR YOUNG FOLKS IN 1895.

EDITED BY MARY MAPES DODGE.

The greatest year in the history of this magazine, now without a rival in its field, is the one just closing. Plans for the coming year assure even greater success than in the past.

RUDYARD KIPLING

wrote his famous "Jungle Stories" for St. Nicholas, and it is a welcome announcement that these will be continued in 1895.

NAPOLEON FOR YOUNG READERS.

While the Century will have for its leading feature the new Life of the French Emperor by Prof. Sloane, one of the most popular of St. Nicholas writers takes the same character for his inspiration.

A BOY OF THE FIRST EMPIRE, BY ELBRIDGE S. BROOKS, is the story of a little lad from the streets of Paris (but of good family) who renders a service to Napoleon, and becomes one of his pages and finally an aide. He is with him at the most critical times of his life,—at the departure for Elba, in the glories of the life at Fontainebleau, and finally at Waterloo. The story glows with pageantry, and is a truthful and accurate account, based upon the best authorities and verified by the latest information, of the life of "the man of destiny." It is really a delightful story-history of Napoleon.

WEST POINT AND MAN-OF-WAR LIFE

will receive attention. Lieutenant Putnam writing of cadet life at the military academy, while Ensign Ellicott, of the flag-ship "Chicago," will describe the experience of our hardy seamen on the modern ships of war.

INSPIRING TALES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

Theodore Roosevelt will write a series to be called "Hero-Tales from American History," recounting famous deeds of heroism about which young people ought to know. Prof. Brander Matthews will include in his entertaining papers on "The Great American Authors" accounts of the lives of Bryant, Emerson, Longfellow, Hawthorne, Whittier, Poe and Lowell. Stories of Famous Horses in history and mythology—Bucephalus, Napoleon's and Sheridan's horses, etc.—will be told by James Baldwin, author of "Stories from the Northern Myths." City Fire Departments will be treated, and there will be two or three papers on The Boys' Brigade. The Serial Stories are many. One called "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp" recounts the marvelous adventures of a modern boy who became the incidental purchaser of Aladdin's lamp and summoned the jinn while cleaning it. A delightful story of college girls, "The Three Freshmen," will appeal to every girl; and "Teddy and Carrots," James Otis's serial of newsboy life, will be read by every boy. A serial story by Francis Courtenay Baylor is one of the features.

of St. Nicholas, 25 cents a number or $3.00 a year. New subscriptions should begin with November, the first issue of the year. Subscribe through dealers, or remit by check, draft, or money-order to

Harper's Weekly
IN 1895.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is a pictorial history of the times. It presents every important event promptly, accurately, and exhaustively in illustration and descriptive text of the highest order.

The manner in which, during 1894, it has treated the Chicago Railway Strikes and the Chino-Japanese War, and the amount of light it was able to throw on Korea the instant attention was directed to that little-known country, are examples of its almost boundless resources. Julian Ralph, the distinguished writer and correspondent, has been sent to the seat of war, and there joined by C. D. Weldon, the well-known American artist, now for many years resident in Japan, who has been engaged to co-operate with Mr. Ralph in sending to Harper's Weekly exclusive information and illustration.

During 1895 every vital question will be discussed with vigor and without prejudice in the editorial columns, and also in special articles by the highest authorities in each department. Portraits of the men and women who are making history, and powerful and caustic political cartoons, will continue to be characteristic features. This Busy World, with its keen and kindly comment on the lesser doings of the day, will remain a regular department.

FICTION. There will be two powerful serials, both handsomely illustrated—The Red Cockade, a stirring romance of olden days by Stanley J. Weyman, and a novel of New York, entitled The Son of His Father, by Brander Matthews—several novelettes, and many short stories by popular writers.

Send for Illustrated Prospectus.

The Volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $1.00 each. Title-page and Index sent on application.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Harper's Magazine
IN 1895.

The Simpletons, a new novel by Thomas Hardy, will be begun in the December Number, 1894, and continued to November, 1895. Whoever may be one's favorite among English novelists, it will be conceded by all critics that Thomas Hardy stands foremost as a master artist in fiction, and the Simpletons may be expected to arouse enthusiasm not inferior in degree to that which has marked Trilby—the most successful story of the year. Another leading feature will be the Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc, by the Sieur Louis de Conte, Her Page and Secretary, under which guise the most popular of living American magazine writers will present the story of the Maid of Orleans. In the January Number will appear a profusely illustrated paper on Charleston and the Carolinas, the first of a series of Southern Papers.

Northern Africa is attracting more attention than at any other time since it was the seat of empires. The next volume of HARPER'S MAGAZINE will contain four illustrated articles on this region, and three of them will depict the present life there. Julian Ralph will prepare for the MAGAZINE a series of eight stories, depicting typical phases of Chinese Life and Manners. Besides the long stories, there will begin in the January Number the first chapters of A Three-Part Novelette, by Richard Harding Davis—the longest work yet attempted by this writer. Complete short stories by popular writers will continue to be a feature of the MAGAZINE.

Send for Illustrated Prospectus.

The Volumes of the Magazine begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order. Cloth cases, for binding, 50 cents each—by mail, postpaid. Title-page and Index sent on application.
