REMOVAL.

The subscriber has removed his office from Market space to North Frederick street, the late residence of Doctor Glasgow—to which place he intends also in a few days to move his family, which will enable him to be found in his office at all times.

The subscriber, from repeated applications, has determined to undertake the collection of small debts, (or those under $50) without the disagreeable aid of process. Therefore should any person be desirous of this mode in preference to having a warrant issued, by leaving or sending me their accounts, they shall have them promptly attended to, for a small consideration.

W. Y. PURVIANCE,
Justice of the Peace.

CARD.

The public are respectfully informed that Mr. GEORGE WILMOT having returned to the city, has been instantly acquitted, as not being the person to whom the serjeant delivered the notice to attend muster, and who insulted him at the time, and which was the principle cause of the notice appearing. This apology is due Mr. Wilmot, as there has evidently been a gross mistake.

FOR THE AMERICAN.

By the letter of General Winder Secretary of War, it appears that troops from the City of Baltimore in engagement at Bladensburgh did the and behaved gallantly. Among them two companies of artillery, command captains Meyers and Magruder. The posted at the bridge, over which the afterwards passed, in the front of the which they commenced, and may in respects be compared to a forlorn hope. fired their guns with judgment and ski were seen to make lanes through the e column at each discharge. They fire certain buildings occupied by the enem silenced the rockets that had been then forth. When no longer supported by flemen, and being overborne by nu they were compelled to retire. This th in good order, as an evidence of whic brought off all their cannon except one which from some cause being rendere manageable, they spiked in the presen the enemy; whose near approach threa them with destruction. By this las though they had never before been in they displayed the presence of mind and ness of veterans. Yet, the names of th commanders of that gallant band, ar mentioned in General Winder's repor though that of every other commander Baltimore troops, is particularly annou A circumstance of this nature, although festly arising from omission, and not fro sign, is certainly to be regretted. To who have completely done their duty, a imminent hazard of their lives, in defe their country, fame is generally p ecious, ought never to be withheld, even by acci The names of those two officers are ther mentioned herein, that they may be put a footing with their brother commanders the City of Baltimore; and that it ma known what part of the Baltimore arti had the honor to serve their country so f fully, upon the above mentioned occasio By this mean, the respectable and ga young men who composed those two co nies, will be known and distinguished as as their commanders.

A letter dated 20th inst. on board the S. ship Gen. Pike, received in this town, st that Com. Chauncey made use of every st gem in his power to induce sir James Ye come out of Kingston and meet him— sent the brig Jones up the lake so as to m the number of his ships, equal to those of enemy—but all to no purpose, that in the nion of the writer, they would not be able keep the Lake more than 6 or 8 weeks lon as by that time the enemy's new ship wo be ready and they should be obliged to s safety in Sackett's Harbor, as the governm had determined not to build any more ves on that Lake that the only chance left t to maintain the ascendency on this La was, to make a bold push into Kingston decide the business at once, which the wr thought would be attempted.

The writer also states, that the enem four ships at Kingston were superior, both weight of metal and seamen, (having 800 men sent out from England for the purp of manning them) and therefore was at a l why sir James did not come out.
