AMERICAN AND Commercial Daily Advertiser.

BALTIMORE: Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The account brought by a Spanish vessel from Bermuda, has the appearance of authenticity (see this day's paper)—but as she left that place on the 19th ult. we have no rational grounds to believe, that the British fleet would not sail for America; on the contrary, that they might arrive at Bermuda about the latter end of last, or the beginning of the present month.

As the famous Admiral Cockburn had arrived at Bermuda from the Chesapeake, and as Admiral Cochrane was expected there from Halifax, we are to believe, that Lord Hill would meet them at that place, and consult their plans of attack on our "assailable places."——Be this as it will, let us not slacken our means of defence, but be well prepared to meet the foe, come when he may.

THE BAYONET.

That war is a Science, is a truth which the experience of little more than two years has fully demonstrated to us—Whether a man goes to fight with a fist, a cudgel, a sword, or a bayonet, he who wields it with the most scientific dexterity, is generally the conqueror—War is indeed a most horrible science, but it is a necessary one—If any people in the world could have relied on a continued system of peace, it was the people of these United States—They long, too long, endeavored to avoid war, even to meanness; at length, they were goaded, and buffeted, and insulted, and kicked into a war.

Of all the wars recorded in History, this is the most justifiable—It is purely a war of defence—and it is come to this alternative, to fight or submit; to kill or be killed.

An invading enemy, who comes to plunder, burn, and destroy "every assailable place," is to be met and repelled by every possible means of defence and annoyance, be it what it may—The more we kill or disable of the enemy, the enemy will have fewer means of killing, destroying, or disabling us.

Much has been said of the English mode of warfare in "the free use of the bayonet"—We object to their Indian cruelties, their Henryite machinations, their burning of houses and libraries, robbing tobacco-stores, and the plundering of private houses and persons, &c. but we cannot object to their use of the bayonet, the musket, or the cannon—These are called "lawful weapons of war"—It is become OUR duty, in self-defence, speedily to become as expert as they are at the same weapons.

A great deal has been said about WASHINGTON, and his revered name has been dragged in to create clubs, to sanction sedition, and to excite rebellion—If the people of America had paid proper attention to the injunctions of this wise man, when he recommended the establishment of MILITARY SCHOOLS, we had been better prepared for war, and probably have avoided the present conflict—We had enjoyed peace so long, that we foolishly thought we never should be involved in war—Like the foolish virgins, we did not trim our lamps in time; and the enemy came upon us unprepared, and awakened us from our idle dreams of security.

Let us hear what the Father of his Country has said on "the use of the bayonet"—Whatever HE says must be listened to with attention, and should have its due weight in the minds of all impartial men; especially with the Officers of the Army and Militia—to them it must be a most important recommendation.

In the year 1777, when the American army took a position at Whitemarsh, near to Philadelphia, and when an engagement was hourly expected with the British army under Sir W. Howe, General Washington rode thro' the ranks of every brigade, and particularly urged the troops "to place their chief reliance on the bayonet."——See Ramsay's Life of Washington, p. 77.

In the preparations for the siege of Yorktown, in the year 1781, Gen. Washington gave out in General Orders as follows—"If the enemy should be tempted to meet the army on its march, the General particularly enjoins the troops, to place their principal reliance on the bayonet, that they may prove the vanity of the boast, which the British make of their particular prowess, in deciding battles with that weapon."——Page 153.

The Editors have a letter from a friend at Leonard-town, under date of Saturday, Nov. 5, which states, that "there are some British ships in the mouth of the St. Mary's."

FROM THE NIAGARA.

The Editors received letters from a friend on Saturday last, by the express mail, dated at Buffalo as late as the 30th ult. at which time the army under Gen. Izard was yet at Fort Erie, but expected, within a day or two to recross the Niagara, and take up winter quarters on this side of the river.—ibid.

Defence of Charleston. The committee of fortifications at Charleston, S. C. announce the erection of the following works, in addition to those formerly existing for the defence of the tity, viz.

Five batteries, which mount 28 from 32 to 18 pounders,
with room for 32 more in case of attack,
5 furnaces for heating shot,
with spare guns carriages and other apparatus.

The short time in which the citizens have completed those preparations reflects the highest credit on their zeal and diligence, and challanges comparison with the effective patriotism of any other town in the country.

Resolutions passed the House of Delegates on Saturday last, bestowing Swords and the thanks of the Legislature on Generals Scott and Gaines, for their distinguished gallantry during the present campaign.—Virgina pap.

Interments in the City and Precincts of Baltimore for the last week, ending Monday morning:

New-York, Nov. 5.

Arrived Portugues schr.——, Capt. Day, fr. New-London. Saw no cruizers.

Schr. Phantom, Williams, from Providence and New-London, salt and hides. Saw no cruizers.

Sloop Lady Washington, Holdridge, from New-Bedford, salt. On Tuesday afternoon, off point Judith, saw a British armed sloop capture 3 or 4 sloops, among which were the Jefferson, Forsyth, sloop Centaur both from Providence, for New-York, with salt; smack Dove, and one other.

Schr, Rattlesnake, Harding, Providence, salt.

Schr. Enterprize, Stowel, from New-Bedford, salt.

The schr. O. H. Perry, which was upset some time since in Fisher's Island sound and picked up and made a tender of by the British squadron, has since been restored to the widows and orphans of the crew who were lost, and has arrived at Stonington.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—Arrived sch. Ruby, Muery, Nantucket; sloop Union, Barrett, hence at Nantucket.

Charleston, Oct. 30.—Arrived, Spanish sch. Valentine, Antonia, Rodriques, Havanna, 17 days, in distress, bound to Eastport. On the 17th inst. in the Bahama Channel was boarded by two Carthagenian Privateers, who robbed her of her sails and sundry articles.—Cargo, 68 hhds Molasses.

Charleston, Nov. 1.—Arrived, Spanish sch. Valentida, Rodriguez, Havana, 14 days—68 hhds Molasses. Sailed from Havana in a fleet of 30 sail, principally bound to Cadiz, under convoy of a Spanish 44 gun frigate, having on board $8,000,000. In the fleet were 7 or 8 British merchant ships. Parted with the fleet two days after sailing, and on the 17th inst. fell in with two Carthagenian privateers, who plundered the Valentina of most of her bread, water, wood and provisions, and then allowed her to proceed; in consequence of which she was obliged to put in here, she being originally bound to Eastport. About 5 days since, in lat. 29, spoke the letter of marque sch. Argo, from Havana, bound to Philadelphia; she had sailed 4 days after the Valentina, in company with the letter of marque sch. Spartan, for Elizabeth City, N. C. and parted the day previous. They were in pursuit of the fleet, with the intention of picking out some of the British ships. Markets were very good at Havana for American produce; Flour 28 to 30 dollars; Rice 8 to 9 dollars.

A man of war brig came down from the Southward yesterday, close in with the land; she lay to for some time near the Light-house, and then stood off to the Eastward under a press of sail, apparently in chase.

ATTENTION!!
6th WARD

Agreeably to the invitation of the Committee of Vigilance and Safety, the citizens of the Sixth Ward are requested to meet at Gorsuch's Tavern on Tuesday evening, the 8th of November, at early candle light, where all those who are willing to aid the laudable exertions of the committee in compleating the fortifications of this city, will have an opportunity of subscribing their names for that purpose in a book prepared for the occasion, those who prefer subscribing money to hire laborers, in place of working themselves will please to come prepared for the purpose. It is hoped that every man capable of doing a days labor, or of hiring a man to work for him will appear at this meeting.

T. BYRNE'S ACADEMY

Is now open for the reception of pupils, at No. 37, Ann st. Fell's Point. The design of the Institution is to give a complete English and Scientific course of Education to youth intended for Mechanical, Mercantile or Nautical employments; and experience has proved that one half of the time formerly spent in acquiring any degree of Education is more than saved as Byrne thinks one reality worth ten thousand theories, and that parents indulge their sons in removing at pleasure from one institution to another, merely to gratify a boy who has been taught every thing and learned nothing. To prevent an imposition by the teacher as well as the taught, the progress of the pupils will be occasionally inspected by Mr. Crosbie, late master of the Military and Marine Academy, Dorset street, and a member of the incorporated society of Literary teachers in the city of Dublin.
