Some Everyday Mistakes.

From Chicago Inter Ocean.

Current natural history is sometimes very amusing. An observant country boy can give you more reliable information in half an hour than many of the writers who are accepted as authority. Two examples of the fallacies of the latter have been going the rounds. One was an article on the cricket, which was described as a very dainty insect with a delicate appetite. There is in reality but one that is more voracious, and that is the cockroach. The cricket has a robust taste for almost anything, especially farinaceous matters, and it is very destructive to clothing. A housekeeper had her lace curtains eaten up, and the writer remembers once visiting in a house where the walls had been ceiled and papered. The paper hung loose here and there, due to the crickets that gnawed through to get at the paste that had been used by the paperhangers.

Another story was of the marvelous self-control of a man who discovered that a blacksnake had concealed itself in the pocket of his coat, which he had thrown aside in the field and donned again, very stupidly, without discovering the reptile. This of itself was surprising, as it is generally from four to five feet in length and weighs several pounds. The blacksnake of the northern middle states is as harmless as the toad, and, moreover, is extremely cowardly. Its greatest fault is its destructiveness of young birds—the broods of those species which nest in low shrubs or upon the ground. But a man might carry one in each pocket and come to no harm, if his pockets were large enough and if he did not have the inherent animosity of mankind toward reptiles.

How to Cool a Cellar.

A great mistake is sometimes made in ventilating cellars and milk houses. The object of ventilation is to keep the cellars cool and dry; but the object often fails of being accomplished by a common mistake, and instead, the cellar is both warm and damp. A cool place should never be ventilated, unless the air is cooler than the air within, or at least as cool as that, or a very little warmer. The wormer the air, the more moisture it holds in suspension. Necessarily, the cooler the air, the more the moisture is condensed, and precipated. When a cool cellar is aired on a warm day, the entering air being in motion appears cool, but as it enters the cellar, the cooler air with which it becomes mixed chills it, the moisture is condensed, and dew is deposited on the cold walls and may often be seen running down them in streams. Then the cellar is damp and soon becomes mouldy. To avoid this the windows should only be opened at night, and late—the last thing before retiring. There is no need to fear that the night air is unhealthy—it is as pure as the air of midday, and is really drier. The cool air enters the apartment during the night, and circulates through it. The windows should be closed and shaded through the day. If the air of the cellar is damp, it may be thoroughly dried by placing in it a peck of fresh lime in an open box. A peck of lime will absorb about seven pounds, or more than three quarts of water, and in this way a cellar or milk house may soon be dried, even in the hottest weather.

Home Hints.

Court plaster should never be applied to a bruised wound.

Do not slice apples for pies; quarter, core and cut each quarter in two pieces.

The white of an egg stirred up with a little sugar and water is good for a child with an irritable stomach.

If you store away flat irons for a season rub them over first with a little sweet oil to keep them from rusting.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.
1895.
Foremost of American Weeklies.
Circulation 168,000 Copies a Week.

First to rally from the overwhelming defeat of 1892, THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE patiently labored for two years to awaken the sleeping judgment of the Nation. Possessing an enormous circulation, equipped with a staff of competent and honest students of public questions, and itself having no object to serve except the welfare of the masses upon the farms and in the shops, scorning lies and sensational appeals, and satisfied merely to place the truth before its readers, THE TRIBUNE has sent to half a million earnest and reflecting people, weekly, a budget of honest facts, sensible arguments and friendly suggestions which have at last borne fruit in the elections of 1894. The work of the people is, however, only half done. It is necessary in 1896 to place in the chair which Grover Cleveland has not adorned, a constructive statesman of the Republican faith. To this task THE TRIBUNE now addresses itself, and invites the support of every American citizen who desires a return of the "good old times."
Roswell G. Horr, ex-Congressman from Michigan, but now of New York City, will continue to discuss Tariff, Currency, Coinage and Labor questions in THE TRIBUNE. By all odds the most witty, earnest and well-informed speaker upon the stump, he is every year sent by THE TRIBUNE to aid the local campaigns in every part of the country. He keeps in constant touch with the people, knows their wants, and addresses himself in THE TRIBUNE directly to the thoughts which are in their minds, and makes himself understood. He will gladly answer questions, asked in good faith, by readers.
All the regular features of THE TRIBUNE will be continued. For Western readers, a special array of Western news is supplied. For Eastern readers an Eastern edition is printed.
It is the intention to make the paper especially helpful to farmers and mechanics. Each class has its separate department in THE TRIBUNE; and the new inventions of mechanics, who lack the means to exploit the product of their brains, are advertised free of charge in the hope of aiding them to find a purchaser or a partner.
The market reports of THE TRIBUNE, long acknowledged to be the best in the country, will maintain their old standard; and the usual variety of foreign news letters, essays upon home topics, book reviews, articles on chess and checkers, and miscellany will be presented every week. The editorial pages of the paper sum up the most important news of the day, with comments.
THE TRIBUNE also prints, for the ladies, the very latest fashions from Paris and London, and there is a department of "Answers to Questions," conducted by a capable writer, in which all the questions of the people on miscellaneous topics are carefully answered.
THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE is an incomparable paper for residents who live beyond the range of THE DAILY TRIBUNE, but find it necessary to keep in touch with the best thoughts and higher interests of the world at large.
A few premiums are offered to readers and club agents.
Any friend of THE TRIBUNE is cordially invited to send for sample copies and terms, and make up a club of subscribers. We would be especially pleased to see a large circle of readers in every workshop.
THE WEEKLY, $1; THE SEMI-WEEKLY, $2; THE DAILY TRIBUNE, $10 a year. THE TRIBUNE Almanac for 1895, ready in January, 25 cents a copy.
THE TRIBUNE, New York.

Harper's Magazine
IN 1895.

The Simpletons, a new novel by Thomas Hardy, will be begun in the December Number, 1894, and continued to November, 1895. Whoever may be one's favorite among English novelists, it will be conceded by all critics that Thomas Hardy stands foremost as a master artist in fiction, and the Simpletons may be expected to arouse enthusiasm not inferior in degree to that which has marked Trilby—the most successful story of the year. Another leading feature will be the Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc, by the Sieur Louis de Conte, Her Page and Secretary, under which guise the most popular of living American magazine writers will present the story of the Maid of Orleans. In the January Number will appear a profusely illustrated paper on Charleston and the Carolinas, the first of a series of Southern Papers.
Northern Africa is attracting more attention than at any other time since it was the seat of empires. The next volume of HARPER'S MAGAZINE will contain four illustrated articles on this region, and three of them will depict the present life there. Julian Ralph will prepare for the MAGAZINE a series of eight stories, depicting typical phases of Chinese Life and Manners. Besides the long stories, there will begin in the January Number the first chapters of A Three-Part Novelette, by Richard Harding Davis—the longest work yet attempted by this writer. Complete short stories by popular writers will continue to be a feature of the MAGAZINE.

Send for Illustrated Prospectus.

The Volumes of the Magazine begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order. Cloth cases, for binding, 50 cents each—by mail, postpaid. Title-page and Index sent on application.
Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Harper's Bazar
IN 1895.
Elegant and exclusive designs for Out-door and Indoor Toilettes, drawn from Worth models by Sandoz and Chapuis, are an important feature. These appear every week, accompanied by minute descriptions and details. Our Paris Letter, by Katharine de Forest, is a weekly transcript of the latest styles and caprices in the mode. Under the head of New York Fashions, plain directions and full particulars are given as to shapes, fabrics, trimmings, and accessories of the costumes of well-dressed women. Children's Clothing receives practical attention. A fortnightly Pattern-sheet Supplement enables readers to cut and make their own gowns. The woman who takes HARPER'S BAZAR is prepared for every occasion in life, ceremonious or informal, wher beautiful dress is requisite.
An American Serial, Doctor Warrick's Daughter, by Rebecca Harding Davis, a strong novel of American life, partly laid in Pennsylvania and partly in the far South, will occupy the last half of the year.
My Lady Nobody, an intensely exciting novel, by Maarten Maartens, author of "God's Fool," "The Greater Glory," etc., will begin the year.
Essays and Social Chats. To this department Spectator will contribute her charming papers on "What We are Doing" in New York society.
Answers to Correspondents. Questions receive the personal attention of the editor, and are answered at the earliest possible date after their receipt.

THE SENTINEL

—FOR—

$1.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

It cannot be sent, however, at that rate, on credit, with the risk of loss.

To deal equitably with all the subscribers the new rate will be put into operation in this manner:

New subscriptions will be received at the rate of $1.00 per annum.

Old subscribers who are in arrears will be expected to pay up the amount due at the rate of $1.50 to the date when the year now running will expire, from which time, if paid in advance, they will receive the paper for $1.00. It appears due to subscribers who have paid in advance that those who are in arrears should not be given any further advantage over them.

Subscribers outside of the county will be required to pay $1.10 per annum in advance, to cover cost of postage.

These are not living prices. You may say how do I live. I have no rent to run a store and fuel, &c., and do all of my own work. I don't pay any hands one year to do three months' work in season. This is a chance to get papering done cheap. Take advantage while you have a chance. Terms will be cash.

done by me. I can give the best references in the county.
There has been a great deal said about me being a scab workman, but it was only by those who can't compete with me in price and workmanship and are afraid of me—never by a party that I did work for. Write for samples and get my prices. I will come to see you in person and tell you what your job will cost. I can be found 300 yards from the limit of Westminster on the Littlestown turnpike.
Thankful for past favors,
