TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

Don't tell me of to-morrow!
Give me the man who'll say,
Whene'er a good deed's to be done—
Let's do the deed to-day.
We may all command the present,
If we act and never wait;
But repentance is the phantom
Of the past that comes too late.

Don't tell me of to-morrow
There is much to do to-day
That can never be accomplished
If we throw the hours away.
Every moment has its duty,
Who the future can foretell?
Then why put off till to-morrow
What to-day can do as well?

Don't tell me of to-morrow!
If we look upon the past,
How much that we have left to do
We cannot do at last!
To-day! it is the only time
For all of this frail earth;
It takes an age to form a life,
A moment gives it birth.

The Dayspring.

Needed no Lawyer.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

Judge Jim Griggs was reminded of a story by the passing of an electric car and began:

"One of the funniest things that ever happened during my connection with the Georgia judiciary was when I was first elected solicitor.

"The demands of my position frequently put me in the attitude of prosecuting a friend. It was hard, but I did it.

"An ex-sheriff of a county in my circuit—a fellow that I had known and liked for a long while—was prosecuted for making away with some money. It was an ugly charge. The evidence was conclusive against him.

"When I went down to court, he came staggering into my room about two-thirds drunk. 'Jim,' he said, 'these infernal scoundrels are trying to prosecute me—perfect outrage. I told 'em just wait till I saw Jim Griggs, and we'd fix it—I told 'em we'd let 'em know who to prosecute. And we will. Won't we, Jim?'

"I looked at him very gravely, anp said: 'Tim, I've got a dead case against you, I'm going to prosecute you, convict you and send you to the penitentiary. You are guilty. You got the money, and I've got the evidence to prove it.'

"He looked at me in perfect amazement. He was dumfounded. He straightened himself up and marched out without a word.

"His case was the first one called after dinner. The judge asked him if he had any counsel, He said no and didn't want any. He spoke in a half drunken fashion. 'But,' said the judge, 'you are charged here with a very serious offense, and if you have no money to employ a lawyer I'll appoint one for you.'

"The defendant didn't like it. He arose with difficulty. He steadied himself against a table, and speaking in a maudlin fashion said:

"'Yer honor, I said I don't wan't no counsel, and I don't want none. I meant what I said. I don't want —hic—take no 'vantage of ze state. State ain't got no counsel—what der I want with any?'"

The Englishman's Neatness.

From Washington Post.

Americans are often puzzled to account for the neatness of attire which distinguishes most English gentlemen. Few will deny that as a rule Englishmen are always well dressed. The following information comes directly from an English source, and has the weight of preponderant logic on its side:

"Most Americans buy one suit and wear it until they buy another—that is, after the first is worn too much to appear genteel. In England we do the thing differently. Instead of one suit we buy three or four, or perhaps half a dozen, at the same time. We wear one suit to-day and another to-morrow, changing as often as the fancy takes us. Result, neatness and variety, what is called being well-dressed. It costs a little more, to start with, but it is economy in the end. After the first cost, it takes no more to keep up the supply than to buy single suits, as it is only necessary to add a single suit at a time.

Cooked Breakfast While Asleep.

From the Utica Observer.

Somnambulism has in all ages furnished many curious illustrations, and among them may be noted one that occurred in a West Utica residence a few days ago.

The husband and wife were aroused by the breakfast bell ringing in the middle of the night. They arose and discovered that it was 2 o'clock, but on hastily dressing and going down to the dining-room they found breakfast ready and waiting for them.

They were greatly alarmed at the condition of things, for they at first imagined that the hired girl had suddenly gone insane.

After a few minutes, however, they discovered she was asleep. She had got up, started the fire, prepared the morning meal, and had it ready for serving, but was sound asleep all the time. The only unusual thing was her failure to put on her shoes.

To be a good listener is to possess as great an art as to be a good talker.

The girl who is the close confidante of her father makes, in nine cases out of ten, the best kind of a wife.

Look to Your Interest, People.
Big Slaughter in Wall Paper.
MY PRICES RANGE FROM 12c. TO 30c. PUT ON WALL. GILT 20c. TO 25c. ALL PAPER 8 YARDS LONG
These are not living prices. You may say how do I live. I have no rent to run a store and fuel, &c., and do all of my own work. I don't pay any hands one year to do three months' work in season. This is a chance to get papering done cheap. Take advantage while you have a chance. I will do as before, done by me. I can give the best references in the county.
Guarantee All Work
There has been a great deal said about me being a scab workman, but it was only said by those who can't compete with me in price and workmanship and who are afraid of me—never by a party that I did work for. Write for sample and price, or I will come to see you in person and tell you what your job will cost. I can be found 300 yards from the limit of Westminster on the Littlestown turnpike.
Thankful for past favors,
Very Respectfully,
jun-28 L. GLADHILL.
