Gov. Prevost has returned to Montreal from Kingston, U. C.

Extract from a letter dated Bangor, Nov. 15th, 1814.

Since I wrote you last, business has become brisk in this part of the country.

Castine, (the former shiretown of this county, 35 miles from Bangor, on the eastern side of the Penobscot and now in possession of the British) is perhaps one of the most admirable military positions in the world. The harbor is one of the finest in the United States. The British consider it a most important acquisition and are making every exertion to render it impregnable by land. The place is something like Gibraltar.

The Peninsula is elevated and connected with the main by a low neck, across which they are digging a ditch 30 feet wide.—Several batteries on the side of the hill, render this neck impassable

They are now fortifying old fort Bagaduce, in the most effectual manner. The British officers at present are quartered in private houses. Their present force is about 1500 men, commanded by maj. gen. Gosselin, and they calculate to retain this place at least as long as the war lasts.—Business is brisk and speculators are daily flocking in from every quarter. The ground floor of all the buildings near the water are occupied as stores at enormous rents, and some new buildings are erecting—in fact, the most important business of Halifax and St. Johns will be transferred to Castine.—The prices of West India goods are fluctuating. Good brown Havanna sugar is worth $14 per. cwt. Molasses 60cts per. gal. Coffee 20cts pr. lb. and Rum about $1. British goods about the same as at Halifax. The expense of living is $1,50 pr. day.—As we have been subject to 6 years war with James Madison and two years with George the 3d. we now hope to avail ourselves of the new state of things in this part of the country and receive some remuneration for our past privations. The War or rather Peace with the British is becoming very popular here.—Bos. D. Advr.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.

VIDETTE INTELLIGENCE.

PORT PENN. Nov. 24, A. M.

The fleet are now about an hour under way with a fine breeze at W. S. W. four brigs and four schrs among them, the Amelia Dorothes, Hero and Reindeer.

A large schr passed up after dark last evening, and a small sloop that left the Capes yesterday, reports the bey entirely clear of the enemy.

Extract of an intercepted letter, dated Charlotte Town, Prince Edward, Oct. 31, 1814, to a gentleman in England, received at the Portsmouth Oracle Office.

"We have had another engagement with the Yankees, and been unsuccessful, losing a General and several officers, with 800 men at Fort Erie. The war is carried on here very badly. The general opinion is that Sir Geo. Prevost is not equal to the command. He should attack the Americans like a Wellington, with an army of 10,000 men, and reserve to follow them up 5 or 6,000; he would then route them completely. The present mode of warfare is quite ridiculous, it is like school boys attacking each other. I hope our wise Ministers will see the necessity of sending out a large army early in the Spring—it is a shame they should send out so few when they have so large a disposable force at home."

Extract to the editor of the Aurora.

"DETROIT, Nov. 1.

"The supreme court of the territory of Michigan adjourned to the term in course, on Wednesday last, after a session of five weeks and three days. The first week was interrupted by the murder of two of the citizens (in the skirts of the town) by the Indians The most important trial after that, on which the decision turned respecting the abatement of all the actions depending on the day of the surrender to the British, was that of Mr. Beaugrand, accused with murdering an American citizen, when a prisoner in the hands of the Indians. This mysterious transaction received a complete elucidation, in consequence of the attendance at the court of an Indian Chief, then in the service of the British, but now included in the peace with the Americans; who exposed fully in his testimony (he being a christian, having been converted to the catholic religion) the orders he received from the British; and also the testimony of a Frenchman, an interpreter then in the service of the British, but since taken prisoner by the American troops.

"These and other witnesses who attended at this time, and who were very carefully examined by the court, threw a great light on the circumstances which had heretofore been inscrutable, respecting the massacre of the American prisoners at the river Raisin; and laid open, in the most complete manner, the conduct and policy of the British.

"It is to be hoped that some of the gentlemen who attended this remarkable trial, will favor the public with a report of it.

"The citizens, during the first week of the session of this court, embodied themselves, and marched into the woods adjoining this place, where they encountered the British Indians, who had been lurking there for some days, and killed successively, a number of valuable inhabitants; and entirely routed them in that instance, killing five of the Indians. They have, however, since returned; and a man was killed, mangled, and scalped by them, on the skirts of the town a few days past."

AMERICAN AND Commercial Daily Advertiser.

BALTIMORE: Monday, Nov. 28.

By late accounts from Canada, it appears, that reinforcements had arrived at Quebec to the amount of about fifteen hundred men—Thus we perceive, that the British force on our frontiers are continually augmenting, both with men and ships, sufficient not only to defend Canada, but also as occasion may offer of attacking our assailable places, and infesting our defenceless bays and rivers—shewing how necessary it is for our Government to be on the alert and prepared to meet the enemy whenever he can be opposed.

By these accounts we learn the loss of a British transport in the gulph of St. Lawrence, when 200 persons perished—Although this takes so many from the number of our inveterate enemies, we cannot rejoice at an event which has consigned such a number to a watery grave.

MR. SECRETARY JONES'S REPORT.

In last Saturday's paper will be seen a Report on NAVAL AFFAIRS from Mr. Secretary Jones, which, for purity of style, dignity of sentiment, and scientific knowledge, is, in our opinion equal, if not superior, to any paper of the kind on that interesting subject—We hope and trust the Government will be enabled to give to Mr. Jones's proposed improvements a speedy effect—improvements which are only wanted to aid the skill and bravery of our gallant tars, and put our Marine Establishment on a secure and permanent footing, and thereby secure to America her just and natural claims to the liberty of the seas.

We would be highly pleased to see a report on the ARMY SYSTEM, dignified with the same clearness of language, and marked with the same degree of scientific knowledge—The experience of two years and half has demonstrated, how very deficient we are in "the Science of War"—nor, after a peace of 30 years, could it be otherwise—but this experience must convince every impartial man in the Republic, that a radical improvement in that system is become absolutely necessary. A determination to perfect and bring into effect, the proposed Classification of the Militia, would in our opinion, go a great way toward furnishing a well disciplined and effective Army—If we mean to contend for an equitable peace, we must have an army—a well disciplined army, led by experienced commanders—not for three or six months, but whilst the war continues, and until we finally and effectually secure our independence both on land and upon the ocean.

The National Bank bill, after having been amended and re-amended, and discussed until the subject was nearly exhausted, was yesterday in the House of Representatives recommitted to a select committee, who may report it in an entirely new shape. We shall hazard no further predictions in relation to it.

The tax bills now engage the attention of the House, and will probably be finished before any other subject is taken up.

The lucky omen. The little superstitious notions of sailors are well known. It will also be recollected that Julius Cæsar never despised a favorable augury. Though true courage and fortitude, while profiting by fortunate signs, never is moved or concerned by the bad. The crowing of the cock on board commodore M'Donough's ship in the battle of Lake Champlain, is a well established fact. And we are likewise told by an officer of the Eagle, of a similar circumstance on board that vessel. In the midst of the "hurly burly," three jolly cheers were heard from the brave chanticleer; and one of the seamen, a petty officer, observed "now, my boys, you may fight away with good hearts, for the day is our own: I was with Nelson in battle of Trafelgar, and we had a cock crowing in the action: and I am as sure we shall get the victory to day as if I saw the colors struck." The fowl that was on board the Saratoga was carried to Sackett's Harbor by the sailors, who swore that sooner than part with it they would lose half their wages. How would we rejoice could we hear of his exulting strains on Lake Ontario.—Columbian.

AMERICAN MARINE LIST.

From the Coffee House Books.—26th.

The sloop Chance, Yearly, from Chester River, came up this morning, left there last evening. Capt. Y. reports that the day before yesterday 4 Crafts bound down were chased into Chester river by a topsail schooner, who fired a number of guns at them. Yesterday saw the above topsail schr. and a small Choptank built schr. at anchor off Love Point, supposed the crews ashore on Kent Island, as she was 4 miles from them and not chased. There has been no square rigged vessels above Sharp's Island for a long time except the brig that came up on Wednesday night to Sandy Point and went down next morning.

A report prevails that some crafts were taken in the Patapsco last night, supposed to have been decoyed by the two schooners that lay under Love-Point yesterday evening.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 17.

Loss of the privateer Harlequin.

The elegant new privateer schr Harlequin of ten long 12 pounders, and 110 men, (the best crew of any privateer which has sailed from this port) E. D. BROWN commander which sailed from this port on the 18th ult. was captured six days after sailing by the Bulwark 74. We understand the Bulwark was discovered in the night, but unabled to ascertain what she was, it being thick weather, captain Brown lay too untill day light, and when the fog cleared away, found himself under the guns of a 74, from which it was impossible to escape. The Harlequin was one of the most costly privateers which has been sent against the enemy. She was upwards of 300 tons, and fitted out at an expense of upwards of 40,000 dolls.

Boston, Nov. 21. Sailed, ship Fermina, for Amelia.

Sailed on Friday, private armed schs. Leo, captain Hewes, 7 guns and 100 men, and Charles Stewart, capt. Purcell, both of this port on a cruise—on Sunday sch York capt. Davidson, of Baltimore, 15 guns and 123 men, do. Also, letter of marque sch. Dolphin, Johnson, of Newburyport, for ———.

Ar. sch. Columbia, from Provincetown.—Left there on Thursday evening. The Newcastle came in there on Tuesday afternoon last, and sailed again on Thursday morning, and stood down back of the cape. She was the only crizer which had been in for several weeks. The officers stated that they left the Acasta frigate cruizing in Boston bay—they did not mention having made any captures lately.

ANOTHER PRIZE.

Boston Nov. 22—Arrived, British sch. Polly, (Davis late master,) Holland, prize master, prize to the privateer brig Dash, of Portland, taken the 16th inst. 100 miles to the southward and westward of Sambero light house. The Polly sailed from Halifax on the 15th inst. and was taken 8 hours out, bound to Martinique, with a cargo consisting of 744 quintals cod fish 27 bls. salmon, 36 of old wives, 42 of herrings, 5 of mackarel 109 red oak staves, 4500 hoops, 113 shooks, 7 casks and heading and 1000 of lumber.

The Dash has been out about a week, and this was her first prize. She had been chased two days by a frigate and escaped by superior sailing. The Polly saw no cruisers on her passage up.

Capt. Davis has arrived in the Polly. He informs that there was nothing new at Halifax. No later accounts from England, than the Cork fleet, which sailed 2d Oct. But few vessels of the two last fleets from England had arrived there. About 5 or 6 ships of war in port. A sloop of war and a store ship of 20 guns, with several transports under convoy, were to sail on the 21st for Martinique, to take the garrison at that place, from thence to Bermuda or Halifax. He recollects of no captured vessels having arrived there lately.

He informs that the privateer sch. Gen. Putnam, Evans, of Salem, ar. at Halifax about the 8th inst, but does not recollect who she was captured by, or whether she had made any prizes or not. She went in under a jury foremast. (The General Putnam sailed from Salem about 4 months since, and this is the first information of her since she sailed.) Capt Davis has no Newspapers on board his vessel.

Ar. at Marblehead, Monday evening, English sch. Bird, John Andrews, from Newfoundland to the West Indies, with a cargo of fish, invoiced at about 200l. prize to the Grand Turk of Salem captured 14 days since.

FOR SALE,

A TRACT OF LAND, containing 222¼ acres, situated on the Philadelphia road, a little above Herring Run, adjoining to Gen Smith's A new Turnpike lately located little to the left of the present one will pass through it, which will shorten the distance from town to about 3½ miles. Moores Run passes through the tract, the greatest part of which is covered with wood. There is a most beautiful eminence on it, and in the opinion of the best judges the above tract is superior in quality to any in the neighborhood, having 100 acres well covered with large trees, and might be turned into meadows. It is believed that the wood if cut might pay for the land A long credit may be obtained, or it will be exchanged for property in the city of Baltimore. For further information apply to
