LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. F. K. Herr, of this city, is having his dwelling repainted.

It is rumored that if the Democratic candidate for sheriff shall be elected Mr. Wm. Wilson, of Manchester, is to be his deputy.

Messrs. Thos. Zepp, Nicholas Henry and George A. Chrest, of this city, each lost a fat hog, by the prevailing epidemic, this week.

The early days of this week were quite cold and the temperature went below the freezing point several times. Ice three-eighths of an inch thick was formed.

The contributors to the flower mission this week were: Mrs. Dr. Charles Billingslea, Misses Lou Bixler and Eva Rinker.

During the month of October 33 deeds, 18 mortgages and 9 bills of sale were received for record at the Clerk's office, and 33 marriage licenses were issued.

The returns of Tuesday's election, from this county and State, and from other States also, will be received at Republican Headquarters, Odd Fellows' Hall, Tuesday night.

Election Tuesday, November 5th, 1895.

If you want to be free from bossism, vote the Republican ticket.

On Saturday last Mrs. L. Sellman, trustee, sold, at public sale, the farm of the late Albinus Poole, near Warfieldsburg, to Mrs. Margaret Poole, for $2,200. It contains 49 acres, 1 rood, 22 square perches.

REPUBLICANS! Be on your guard! Trust no story started at this late date to the discredit of any of your candidates. Lies have already been put in circulation about some of them and others will probably follow.

Splendid speeches were made at the Lowndes club meeting, in this city, on Monday evening last, by J. Cookman Boyd, Esq., and Col. Thomas S. Hodson, of Baltimore. Their arguments were unanswerable.

The distressing drought was broken by a copious rain on Thursday, replenishing the almost exhausted streams and saturating the earth so that the grain, long sown but dormant, will now spring up and not perish, as was so much feared.

On Saturday last Charles E. Fink, Esq., trustee, sold, at public sale, a house and lot in Union Bridge to J. Hamilton Repp, for $655, and a double house and a lot, in the same place, to Albert O. Friss, for $1,060. These properties belonged to the estate of the late Joseph Moore.

Rebuke the Democratic campaign leaders in Carroll county, who have prostituted the post-offices and public schools to political purposes, by voting the straight Republican ticket.

Mrs. Catharine Zentgraf, widow of the late Nicholas Zentgraf, of this city, died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. James Case, of Westminster district, on Wednesday last, aged 82 years, 1 month and 17 days. Funeral services were held at St. John's Catholic Church yesterday.

Albert Schaeffer, Wm. Y. Frizzell and Wm. Wallace Naill are all eminently worthy of the suffrages of their fellow-citizens. Make them Judges of the Orphans' Court by your ballots on Tuesday next.

A young man, who is familiarly known in this city as "Hoddy" Cress, met with a severe accident last Saturday night. He formerly resided here but his home is now in Reisterstown. He was returning home from a visit to this place by a night train, from which he jumped, or fell, striking his head on the track and tearing his scalp in a terrible manner. He was taken to his home by a friend.

The meeting of the Lowndes Republican Club on Monday night was about equal in numbers to the Democratic mass meeting on the Saturday evening previous, for the succees of which extraordinary efforts had been made, five bands and speeches by such distinguished men as Senator Faulkner having been offered as attractions. There must be a good many Democrats in the county whose hearts are not in the effort to perpetuate the autocratic reign of Gorman and Rasin.

If you want legislation by which frauds on the ballot shall be reduced to a minimum, vote for Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., and for the Republican candidates for the House of Delegates.

Two handsome imported memorial windows were placed in St John's Catholic Church, this city, on Saturday last and were dedicated on Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. McSweeney, of Mt. St. Mary's College, preached on the occasion. One of the windows was the gift of Mr. Francis H. Orendorff, in memory of his deceased wife, Mrs. Emily Orendorff. It contains a figure representing our Lord as the Good Shepherd. The other was presented by Mrs. Emily Irvin, of Baltimore, in memory of her deceased husband, John Irvin, and has in it a figure regresenting his patron saint, St. John the Evangelist.

Better men than Wm. A. Roop, the Republican candidate for County Surveyor, are hard to find. Vote for him.

Harry M. Clabaugh, Esq., Republican candidate for Attorney-General, and J. Frank Supplee, of Baltimore, will address the Republican Club at Odd Fellows Hall on Monday night. Give them a rousing reception.

Sixteen dwellings, a general merchandise store, and two stables were destroyed by fire at Woodberry, on Saturday morning last. The fire started in the store and spread to a small brick building in its rear in which illuminating oils and gasoline were stored. These exploded with such force as to scatter the burning fluids over the dwelling houses in the vicinity and thus numbers of them were speedily in flames. One of the dwellings destroyed was that of Mr. Geo. A. Chrest, a former resident of this city. Mr. Chrest owned the house, and his loss is estimated at $2,500, on which he had an insurance of $1000. Very little furniture was saved from any of the buildings. The entire loss is estimated at $20,000.

Orphans' Court.

Monday, October 28.—The last will and testament of John Stuller, deceased, admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted to Edward J. Stuller.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Julia A. Wells, deceased, were granted to Alexis E. Wells.

William H. Boose, executor of John Boose, deceased, settled first account.

George A. Davis, administrator of Lewis I. Johnson, deceased, returned list sales of goods and chattels and settled first account.

Tuesday, October 29th.—Samuel Roop, executor of Willian A. Smelser, deceased, settled first and final account.

George A. Bell and Mary J. Frizzell, executers of William H. Bell, Jr., deceased, returned list sales of bank stock and settled first and final account.

Report of sale of real estate of Wm. Marshall Mehring, deceased, finally ratified.

Report of sale of real estate of Henry Carter, deceased, finally ratified.

A Citizens' Meeting.

A citizens' meeting, called by the Fire Department of this city, was held at the City Council chamber, in the Wantz building, on Tuesday night, for the purpose of consultation in regard to the character of the building about to be erected by the department. Many citizens have expressed a desire to have a market and opera house erected in connection with the engine house and offices required for the use of the Fire Department, but, of course, the firemen are unwilling to incur the indebtedness necessary to the accomplishment of that object. They have obtained new plans for a building for their own purposes and also for a structure including the market and opera house. The first plan is for a three-story building that will provide all the accommodations required by the firemen, and include a City Council chamber, lodge room etc. This building can be erected for less than a third the cost of a structure to include market and opera house, but is so planned that these can be added at any future time. Methods were suggested and discussed for their erection at once, Messrs. John L. Reifsnider, George W. Albaugh, Wm. B. Thomas, Fred. D. Miller, Chas. C. Gorsuch, Charles E. Goodwin and others participating in the discussion. No conclusion was reached and the meeting was adjourned to Thursday night for further conference. President Lawyer, of the Fire Department, presided.

The weather was inclement on Thursday evening, and few persons were present on the occasion. No further action was taken in the matter.

The regular monthly meeting of the Department will be held at St. John's Catholic schoolhouse on Wednesday evening next, at 7.30 o'clock. It will be an important meeting and all the firemen should be present.

College Notes.

The football team defeated that of Marston School last week by a score of 38 to 0.

Dr. Lewis attended the C. E. Convention at Hagerstown, on Wednesday, and preached the opening sermon there by request.

The members of the Senior class are using the telescope morning and evening. Prof. McDaniel believes in practical astronomy.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Whaley, of Plymouth, N. C., parents of Rev. John Byrd Whaley, who died about one year ago, visited the grave of their son on the 30th ult. Prof. Whaley is buried in the Westminster Cemetery.

Professors Black and McDaniel spent Saturday last in Baltimore.

Miss Fannie Grove, '89, was married on the 25th of October to Mr. Daniel Stover, of Hagerstown, Md.

Mr. Lewis B. Lawler, '90-'91, is visiting Westminster. Mr. Lawler is in business in Rushville, Illinois.

Miss Eleanor Hopkins, of the Freshman class, who was summoned home recently on account of the death of her father, has returned to school.

Miss Laura K. Matthews, '76, on Saturday last visited the college, the first time for many years. She expressed herself as greatly pleased with the advances made in buildings and equipment.

The Freshmen and Sophomores will play a game of football on Saturday afternoon.

The Glee, Guitar and Banjo Clubs expect to make a tour of Maryland towns during the Christmas holidays. The clubs are working hard.

Hallow e'en was celebrated in the Gymnasium in a fitting manner. The usual accessories of corn and meal were not absent.

The first recital of the year given by the Musical Department took place Friday afternoon, Nov. 1st. Following was the program: Piano duett, Minstrel's Serenade, Low, Miss Simpson and Miss Buckingham; Song, For All Eternity, Marchesi, Miss Gunkel; Piano solo, Polonaise in D, Schumann, Mr. Benson; Chorus Trio, Awake, Awake, Abt, Vocal Class; Piano solo, (a) Marcissus, Nevin, (b) Valse de Concert No. 2, Wieniowski, Miss Westlake; Songs, (a) My Little Love, Hawley, (b) My Home is Where the Heather Blooms, From Rob Roy, DeKoven, Miss Lewis.

Let every Republican vote be cast straight, on November 5th, for the Republican ticket, reassessment, free school books, honest elections and good government.

Death of Mr. Henry L. Shriver.

Mr. Henry L. Shriver, a well known resident of this city, died at his home on West Main street, shortly after two o'clock, Monday morning, from the effects of an accident. Mr. Shriver was the oldest son of the late Francis Shriver, and up to the time of the latter's death had been residing with him for a number of years. Since that event he has roomed in an office building at the Shriver homestead and was in daily intercourse with his neighbors in that vicinity. On Friday they missed him and became apprehensive that he might be ill. Sometime during the evening Mr. S. C. Stoner and others went to the house and found the door locked. They called and Mr. Shriver replied that he was unable to rise. A window was forced and Mr. Stoner was the first to enter. He found Mr. Shriver lying on the floor bathed in blood from a wound in the back of his hand and wrist. It was a cut several inches in length, and had bled freely, but the hemorrhage had ceased. The manner in which the wound was inflicted is a matter of conjecture, but a blood-stained broken glass in the door of a cupboard lends color to the theory that he fell in a fit of vertigo and in doing so struck his hand against the glass. Mr. Shriver was greatly exhausted from loss of blood and murmured something about having been cutting kindling with a butcher knife and accidentally striking his hand, but it seems more probable that the wound was received in the manner first stated. He was not a robust man and died from the exhaustion conquest upon the injury. His wounded hand was dressed by Dr. M. L. Bott, a number of stitches having been necessary in the operation. Mr. Shriver leaves one daughter, who resides in Philadelphia. His sister, Mrs. Dr. Jos. M. Weller, of Cumberland, and three of his brothers, Messrs. Isaac Shriver, of Connecticut; Edwin W. Shriver, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Frank W. Shriver, of Philadelphia, attended his funeral, which took place on Wednesday morning, Rev. A. D. Melvin officiating.

Frizellburg Items.

The Star base-ball club of this place has declared ball-playing over for this season. Much credit is due them for the success they have attained. During the past season the receipts were such that they liquidated the debt from the previous year and met all the demands of the present promptly. This was not done of themselves, but with the public's patronage, and they feel proud to make the assertion. The few games afforded much amusement, and the public always exhibited unusual interest by their presence and liberal contributions.

Seven games were played, four of which were won by the Stars. The team was composed principally of ardent boys who did creditable work, but will have to await their salary. Following is an accurate statement of the finances. After the picnic the treasury contained $14.22, and from then to the present time the expenses were $9.55, leaving a residue of $4.67 in the treasury.

While Mr. Joseph Baust was returning from Westminster one day last week, he entered Mr. John Roop's mill, where he met with a painful accident. Mr. Roop was engaged in dressing a millstone, and while in conversation with him, a small particle of stone, as he supposed, flew into his eye. Thinking it nothing serious he came home, but as time advanced the pain grew more intense, and Dr. Hering was consulted. After a close inspection, the doctor discovered that an atom of steel from the pick had penetrated his eye-ball. The atom was extracted at once, and at present the eye is perfectly sound again.

Mr. Long, of Baltimore, spent last Sunday at Mr. John Zahn's.

Mrs. John Baust, who was confined to her bed with that dangerous malady, pneumonia, has been restored.

Miss Mollie Null, who has been in Baltimore all this week, will return to-day.

Mr. Alexander Little is having a coat of paint put on some of his minor buildings.

Corn-husking was delayed by quite a number for several days on account of the brittleness of the fodder.

Mrs. S. M. Bish, Mrs. Jacob Zahn, and Miss Mary Bankerd, all of this vicinity, went to Baltimore on Wednesday.

Roseville Items.

The farmers are about done with their seeding, and husking corn is now in full blast, although they find it very dry and the fodder breaks up badly. The grain is looking badly on account of the dry weather. Well nigh all have gathered their apple crop of which there has been many bushels of excellent varieties laid up for yule-tide.

The cider making at Mr. J. S. Leister's cider mill is about closed for this season, there having been 127 barrels made.

Mr. D. J. Leister has his new house completed, which is a fine structure into which he moved on Tuesday last.

Mr. Wm. Walker has his new house completed and moved into it a few weeks ago.

Mr. A. Wink has his new barn raised, weatherboarded, and ready for the roof and it is now nearing completion.

Dr. C. S. Davis, who lived in Mrs. Kate Abbott's house, moved to Greenmount about two weeks ago.

Mr. J. S. Leister's son Alvah has been very ill the past 3 weeks with typhoid fever, but at this writing is better, under the skillful treatment of Dr. J. S. Mathias.

Mrs. J. T. Albaugh was ill with quinsy the past week, but at this writing she is able to be up again under treatment of Dr. J. S. Mathias.

Mrs. Jacob Sellers has been on the sick list for about two weeks. She is better at this writing. Dr. Mathias was in attendance.

Mr. D. H. Zimmerman attended the Lutheran Synod, in Baltimore, a few weeks ago as a delegate from St. Johns Lutheran congregation.

The protracted meeting begun at Mt. Union U. B. Church on Sunday night and has been well attended. It is conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Miller. The quarterly meeting will be held at the above named place on the 9th and 10th inst., and on Sunday, the 10th, the communion services will be held at 10 A. M.

If you want a reassessment and fair taxation, vote the Republican ticket.

Vote for Wm. D. Slack, for Sheriff. He's a first class man.

Manchester Items.

On Friday evening last Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stick gave a party at their country home, Union Tannery, south of town, to the members of the fishing club and friends, which was well attended and a pleasant evening spent with this hospitable family. Among the many amusements was a social dance. The host himself, seizing the bow, furnished some lively music for the young folks who enjoyed the hop very much. When the halt was called all took up the line of march for the dining room where there were refreshments in abundance which were enjoyed by all and only at a late hour were the reluctant good nights said and all returned to their homes.

On Tuesday evening the quiet home of Mr. David Shultz was laid seige to and easily captured by a company of friends of Mrs. Shultz, who gave her a complete surprise. They soon had full control of the house and managed the affairs to the full enjoyment of the aged host and hostess as well as all who were present. After the surprise had subsided and a good social chat indulged in, refreshments were served and enjoyed by all, after which much amusement was had in the social games introduced, so that the evening will be one long to be remembered by all present. Those of the company were: Mr. and Mrs. David Shultz, Mrs. David H. Hoffacker, Mrs. E. Ganter, Mrs. A. E. B. Myers, Mrs. Ed. Albaugh, Mrs. Wm. Kuhn and children, Mrs. Leonard Smith, Mrs. Oliver Lippy, Mrs. E. Yingling, Mrs. J. W. Burns, Mrs. L. Ramer, Mrs. Lewis Redding, Mrs. Charles Loats, Mrs. N. Armstrong, Mrs. J. B. Houck, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Wm. Trout and children, Mrs. B. Burgoon, Mrs. Kexel, Mrs. W. A. Wolf, Mrs. Wm. Haines, Mrs. J. Wink, Mrs. Chas. Hively, Misses Maggie Houck, Susie Bixler, Celia Kexel, Hattie Redding, Mary Miller, and Jennie Hively.

Miss Hester Albaugh will hold a pantomine Quaker supper on November 16th, at her home on North Main street, for the benefit of her Sunday School talent. After the supper an entertaining feature will be given. It will be something new and should receive the patronage of the public in general.

Mr. Adam Rohrbaugh, at the distillery, 3 miles north of town, is lying quite ill from paralysis. A week or more ago he was trying to head off some cattle during which he got a hard fall, bruising his head, which it is supposed had much to do with the attack. At his advanced age his case is serious.

Mr. David Denlinger, wife and children recently visited his mother, Mrs. D. Denlinger, of Irving Institute.

Workmen are putting a steel roof on Dr. J. F. B. Weaver's house on North Main Street.

Mr. Lee Albaugh and workmen, of Hampstead, are painting the Reformed Church.

Mr. Geo. A. Shower has improved his house by the addition of a cornice and new roof.

There is much controversy over the game law, whether the law is up on the 1st or 8th proximo.

[The general laws of this State allow the shooting of partridges and rabbits from November 1st to December 24th; woodcock from June 15 to December 24, and pheasants from August 15 to December 24. But the general law is modified by the local law for Carroll county, which takes precedence, and the dates during which shooting of the game mentioned is allowed are as follows: Partridges and rabbits, November 8 to December 24; woodcock from June 15 to February 1, and pheasants from September 1 to January 1.—ED.]

Death of Mrs. Engleman.

Mrs. Eliza Engleman died October 25th, 1895, at 12 P. M., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Richardson, of New Windsor, after a lingering illness, aged 79 years, 1 month and 7 days. Interment at Winter's Church of which she had been a faithful member for over fifty years. She bore her affliction with wonderful courage; never a murmur of complaint, perfectly willing to leave her future with her Lord and Master. Others beside her own family have shared her love and kindness and will remember her with loving hearts, She was the mother of six children of whom two only survive her, one a daughter, Mrs. James Richardson, of New Windsor, and a son, Mr. Uriah Engleman, of Miamisburg, Ohio. She leaves sixteen grandchildren and twenty-four great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson gratefully acknowledge the kind assistance of the neighbors and friends in their affliction, for which they extend their heartfelt thanks.

Union Mills Items.

The turbine water wheel, at B. F. Shriver & Co's mill, has been several times clogged with eels, recently.

While coming down the hill near Bigg's P. O., last Sunday, Eli Butler, of Westminster, was thrown from his bicycle and severely bruised. The accident was caused by the handle bar of his machine becoming loose.

The large bell of St. Mary's Reformed Church suddenly lost its tone while being rung for service on Sunday afternoon, 27th ult. An investigation showed that it was cracked and that the fissure extended more than a foot, upwards, from the lower edge. The bell weighs over two thousand pounds and was donated to the church by Mr. John T. Dutterer. It came from the McShane foundry, Baltimore, and was put up in 1893, and as it was insured for five years it will no doubt be replaced with but little expense to the congregation.

Milton Little has the contract for Wm. H. Harner's new house which is already well under way.

Two valuable cows died from the Alderney herd of B. F. Shriver & Co., last week.

In gathering his winter apples Jonas Frock came across a pound apple that was worthy of the name, as it weighed sixteen ounces, straight, and measured fourteen inches in circumference. He says it is of the Lowndes variety.

Entertainment at New Windsor.

Last night, October 23rd, 1895, witnessed the first entertainment held in the new Odd Fellows' Hall. It was given by the Westminster Dramatic Company to a crowded house.

The curtain rose first on "A Box of Monkeys," Grace Furniss' charming little two-act comedy, with the following cast of characters:

EDWARD RALSTON, a young American,
Mr. P. C. Kennedy.
CHAUNCEY OGLETHORPE, his partner in the Sierra Gold Mine, Lord Doncaster's second son,
Mr. E. H. Manning.
MRS. ONDEGO-JHONES, an admirer of rank,
Miss Belle Orndorff.
SIERRA-BENGALINE, her niece, a prairie rose,
Miss Anna Elizabeth Shriver.
LADY GUINEVERE LLANDPOORE, an English primrose, daughter of the Earl of Paynaught, Miss Lottie Francis Moore.

The parts were well sustained, and the play was received in a most enthusiastic manner. Mr. Kennedy upheld his character in splendid style, and made a decided hit, while Miss Shriver sustained the vivacious and breezy part of Sierra-Bengaline in a most charming way.

Dickens' "Cricket on the Hearth" was then given, with the following cast:

CALEB PLUMMER. Mr. E. H. Manning.
JOHN PERRYBINGLE, - the carrier,
Mr. B. F. Crouse.
MR. TACKLETON, - - - a Toy Maker,
Mr. P. C. Kennedy.
THE STRANGER, - Mr. John Galt.
DOT, - - Miss Lottie Francis Moore.
TILLY SLOWBOY,
Miss Anna Elizabeth Shriver.
BERTHA, - Miss Belle Orndorff.
MAY FIELDING, - Mrs. Philip Kennedy.

The play, coming later and being heavier than the comedy, was nevertheless quite as well received. It kept the interest of the audience throughout. Mr. Manning, who plays elderly characters so well, made a most natural looking Caleb Plummer. Mr. Crouse was a most realistic John Perrybingle, and threw a great deal of force into his part, and Mr. Kennedy showed a good conception of the character of Mr. Tackleton. Dot was given in a most realistic and charming manner. Tilly Slowboy found in Miss Shriver a good representative, often convulsing the audience with laughter, and Miss Orndorff's rendition of the blind Bertha was simply splendid.

The play was ended with the famous "Pillow Dance," Music for the evening was furnished by the New Windsor Orchestra.

Despite the trifling hitches that usually accompany amateur performances, the company gave an excellent performance. They afforded an evening of much pleasure, and would be warmly welcomed should they ever return.

After the entertainment a very enjoyable dance was given in the hall. A number of friends from Westminster, who accompanied the Dramatic Company, was present with others from New Windsor, Union Bridge and Linwood and spent a very pleasante vening.

Carrollton Items.

As Rev. S. B. Craft was returning home from Winfield, on Sunday morning last, he drove through a gateway and returned to shut the gate when his horse started off on a run. Mr. Craft ran to catch the lines, which were hanging from the dashboard, and as he reached over to do so the earth under his feet gave way, throwing him flat upon his face on the road, which is made of broken flint stone. It is supposed he was dragged about 20 feet. The bridge of his nose was broken, his upper lip received a deep gash, and his forehead and face several severe bruises. A neighbor, Mr. Miller, saw the accident, and immediately ran to Mr. Craft's assistance, and took him to his house, where he lay unconscious for some time. Towards night, Mr. Craft recovered sufficiently to be taken home by Mr. Miller and a neighbor. At the present writing, he is feeling somewhat better, but is still suffering from his bruises. He has been conducting a protracted meeting at Winfield, for the past two weeks, and much interest has been awakened, but he will now have to rest from his labors, though he hopes to have the Rev. Mr. Saxon, of Highfield, take charge of the meeting until he has sufficiently recovered to resume his duties. Mr. Craft has the sympathy of the community in his misfortune, and all hope to soon see his cheerful face again in our midst.

The Prohibitionists of Woolery's district propose to hold a mass meeting at Mienkie's new shop at Reese, on the pike, on Saturday night, November 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Koons have just returned from Thurmont, where they had been to attend the funeral of Mr. Samuel Willhide, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Koons.

Rev. John W. Evans, of Patapsco, visited Mr. E. G. Van Deusen, on Wednesday. Mr. Evans, although looking much better, is still weak and under the physician's care.

A number of Prohibitionists of Woolery's district went to Westminster, on Wednesday night, to hear Mr. Levering and Mr. Tucker speak at a mass meeting.

A much needed rain visited us on Thursday morning and at present writing still continues. It is very welcome, as wells and springs were running dry, and the corn fodder was too dry to husk.

Personal.

Mrs. Emily Irvin and Miss Grace Irvin, of Baltimore, are visiting the family of Mr. U. L. Reaver, this city.

Miss Ene Donnelly, of Baltimore, spent a few days with friends in this city, this week.

Mr. Charles E. Hering and bride arrived in this city, from their bridal trip, on Wednesday evening.

Capt. and Mrs. O. H. P. Mathias, of Baltimore, were called to this city, this week, by the illness of Mrs. Mathias' sister, Mrs. Lawrence Zepp.

Mrs. James E. Smith and children, of this city, has returned from a visit to Mrs. Smith's mother, in Loudoun county, Va. She reports that no rain had fallen in that county since August, until Thursday.

Arthur F. Smith is the nominee of the Republican convention for State's Attorney. His speech before the Republican club last week shows that he has brains. Vote for him.

A better man than Alfred T. Buckingham for County Treasurer cannot be found in the county. Vote for and elect him.

Vote for Dr. J. J. Weaver, J., for Senator; Charles H. Smith, Chas. J. H. Ganter, Wm. F. Cover and Dr. Clotworthy Birnie for the House of Delegates, and for fair elections.

Harney Items.

The continued dry weather is causing a great scarcety of water in this neighborhood, and putting people to great inconvenience. Many must drive their cattle a considerable distance to water and haul water for family use. The wheat is greatly in need of rain. Some of the late sowing is not up yet, and the early sown is looking badly.

Farmers are well on with their corn husking. They complain much about the fodder being dry and breaking badly. The corn crop is very good considering the dry weather, but not near what it might have been.

Mr. David Clousher has an ear of corn with thirty two rows of grains. He would like to know if anybody in the county has a larger ear.

A man who gave his name as Wm. Flohr was husking corn for some of the farmers around here last week, and, while working for Mr. Ed. Shoemaker, he left some time on Friday night, taking with him a good coat, a pair of shoes and a pair of scissors. He left, however, an old pair of shoes and an old pair of overalls.

A man was found dead several miles north of this place one day last week on the farm of Mr. Lott. The circumstance caused considerable excitement at first, but it was learned later that it was one of the inmates of the alms house at Gettysburg by the name of Wolfe who was a little demented and had wandered away in the evening. The cause of his death appears to be unknown.

Mr. A. Stonesifer has had attached to his mill a 20-horse power stationery engine. In the future he will be prepared to accomodate his customers in both dry and wet weather.

Apples are very plentiful and in some places they can be bought for twenty-five cents per bushel.

Mr. Henry Linn, the oldest man in our town, is very ill. His death is expected any day.

Revival services will commence here in the U. B. Church, Nov. 10th. Evangelist Cunningham will conduct the services. The Evangelist is but 17 years of age and has been very successful in the past.

From our Regular Correspondent.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31st, 1895.

Governor Lowndes, as he is now being called on all sides, is in Western Maryland, winding up the most interesting, dramatic and sensational political campaign of recent years. The end is almost here, and by this time next week the people of Maryland will have heard of the overthrow of the Gorman-Rasin ring and the overwhelming triumph of the Republican ticket. In point of fact, however, it would be more correct to say the triumph of the forces of good government and individual freedom, for in the great fight which will end in sending Mr. Lowndes to the executive mansion at Annapolis the sturdiest warriors are not Republicans alone, but thousands of the best thinking Democrats of the state—men who can no longer brook the arrogant domination of two or three dictators, who manage party and public affairs alike for their own selfish purposes, and with a lofty disregard of all principles of justice or the wishes of the people. The Baltimore Sun recently told in plain words why thousands of decent and self-respecting Democrats this year will vote the straight Republican ticket. It was speaking of the sycophantic fealty of the petty bosses and office-holders to the Gorman-Rasin machine, and said:

"The poison of moral slavery is in the spoils system. The boss is the creator of a breed of men that is groveling and distinctly un-American—fawning toadies and cringing sycophants; men who carry into politics the same spirit that Jeames, the English flunky, shows in the service of his noble master—ready to render any service, however mean, which may be demanded by him. Our two Maryland bosses have done their full share. Our Maryland bosses have been steadily at work for years building up a following of this sort. The official atmosphere of this state and city has been thoroughly infected with the idea that servility to the bosses is the price that must be paid by all who desire to keep office or get office in Maryland or Baltimore."

The Democratic leaders are professing a confidence which they do not feel. They see upon the walls the fateful handwriting that means their doom, and yet are still shouting victory, although with slightly blanched cheeks and quavering voices. They intend to die game. The hardest blow they have been struck this year is not the wholesale disaffection within their party ranks—they have planned to counterbalance that—but the relentless, thorough exposure of all their crooked work and crooked plans for more crooked work. One of these ward heelers disconsolately remarked to a crowd of sympathizing friends the other day that "so d—d much fuss had been kicked up" this year that they would not be able to get in much fraudulent work on election day. This is very true. The citizens of Baltimore are aroused as they never were before, and are determined that this shall be a fair election. It has been found out that at least 8,000 fraudulent names have been placed on the registration books. It is now too late to have these taken off, and the best that can be done is to watch closely, and prevent, as far as possible, repeaters from voting on these names. For this work hundreds of prominent Democrats, as well as Republicans, have offered their services at the polls as watchers. Another shrewd trick was unearthed this week. At the last registration at least 2,000 colored voters were taken off the poll-books by a slick scheme. This was by getting a lot of hired colored men together, furnishing them with the names of the colored voters all over town, then having them go to the registration offices, impersonate the bona-fide voter and ask for a transfer to some other ward. The transfer would, of course, be given, and the name of the real voter stricken from the books. It is unnecessary to add, of course, that the transfer was never presented at the other ward for registration. In order to prove that there had been a heavy fraudulent registration this year, the Reform League sent out 1,100 registered letters to names appearing on the books in certain wards. Of these, fifteen were receipted for and the rest returned, as the persons to whom sent could not be found. These instances—only a few out of the many brought to light this fall—are cited simply to show the desperate measures being resorted to by the ring to retain control.

In spite of all this, the Republican ticket will sweep the city and state. The prospect, which has been bright ever since the Cambridge convention, has now become an absolute certainty, which nothing short of a miracle can divert. From present indications, it will be more than a Republican victory—it will be a landslide that will sweep everything before it. There are no more worried or frightened men in Maryland to-day than Senator Gorman and Mr. Rasin. Their notorious hold on power is about to be broken, and for that blessing the people of Maryland are profoundly thankful.

A REMARKABLE ANNOUNCEMENT.

A brief paragraph can hardly do justice to the interesting announcements which The Youth's Companion makes for the coming year. Not only will some of the most delightful story-writers contribute to the paper, but many of the most eminent statesmen, jurists and scientists of the world. No fewer than three cabinet Ministers are announced, among them being the Secretary of Agriculture, who chose for a subject "Arbor Day," the celebration of which he originated; Secretary Herbert writes on "What the President of the United States Does," and Secretary Hoke Smith on "Our Indians."

In a fascinating group of articles under the head of "How I Served My Apprenticeship," Frank R. Stockton tells how he became an author, General Nelson A. Miles gives reminiscences of his army days, and Andrew Carnegie recalls his earliest struggles in getting a business footing.

The publishers of The Youth's Companion make the following liberal offer: New subscribers who will send at once their name and address and $1.75 will receive free a handsome four-page Calander for 1896, (7x10 in.), lithographed in nine colors, the retail price of which is 50 cents. The Companion free every week until January 1, 1896, the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's double numbers free, and The Youth's Companion fifty-two weeks, a full year to January 1, 1897. Address,

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION,
195 Columbus Avenue, Boston.
