DOG GIVES ALARM AS HOME IS BURNED.

Howls of a dog sounded the alarm when the cottage of Edward Thomas on Lassing avenue, Catonsville, caught fire from an overturned oil stove. Lack of water made it impossible for firemen to save the cottage, but they were able to prevent the spread of the flames to adjoining property.

The owner's father, Harry Thomas, seventy-five, had been left alone with the dog while the rest of the family were down town. The aged man stumbled against the stove, but managed to get outside, where he fell exhausted and unable to sound an alarm.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. JENNIE M. PARKS.

Mrs. Jennie Millender Parks, aged 65 years, wife of Elisha F. Parks, died suddenly at her home near Timonium.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Lutherville, by the Rev. J. W. McCauley, assisted by Rev. Thomas B. Allison, rector of Sherwood P. E. Church.

Interment was in Druid Ridge Cemetery.

Besides her husband Mrs. Parks is survived by the following children: Mrs. Russel F. Sammis, Huntington, Long Island; Mrs. P. C. Kapp, State Line, Pa.; Mrs. George Jessopp, Jr., Cockeysville; Mrs. S. Gordon T. Parks, Baltimore; Mrs. Elisha F. Parks, Jr., Dr. Richard C. Parks, Mr. Fred. H. Parks and Misses Ida M. and Esther Jane Parks, at home.

CATONSVILLE MAN SHOOTS DOG SUFFERING WITH RABIES.

A dog thought to be suffering with rabies was shot by Compton Graham at his home on Frederick avenue, near Melvin avenue, Catonsville.

STUART JANNEY EXPECTED TO BE NAMED WELFARE DIRECTOR.

Governor Ritchie will name a successor to State Welfare Director Emory L. Coblentz, whose resignation takes effect in the very near future and the general belief is that Stuart S. Janney, a close personal friend of the Governor, and a resident of the Green Spring Valley, will be named. Mr. Janney has served on several institutional boards and has been vitally interested in the penal problem of Maryland.

EXTENSION OF FARE ZONE ON CATONSVILLE LINE ASKED.

Declaring the second fare zone on the Catonsville line of the United Railways should be extended 1500 feet, Peter Vietsch, 316 Caton avenue, asked the Public Service Commission in a letter to take some action in the matter.

Vietsch said patrons of the line had to walk considerable distance to the stores near Carroll Station postoffice. He contended a change in the zone would not cost a cent.

TWO AVIATORS BUILD PLANE IN FEW HOURS.

If you miss your boat, hunt for an airplane, and if you can't find one build one.

This is the precept laid down by two lieutenants in the Maryland National Guard Air Unit—J. Patrick Travers and Thomas B. Bourne.

They received an invitation to a week-end party near Easton. The last boat for the Eastern Shore had gone. Train service was unavailable. So they set out for Logan Field, Dundalk, where the unit's planes are kept.

But Capt. William D. Tipton, in command, declined to let his planes out for any such purpose.

The lieutenants asked permission to tinker in the workshop. They found a derelict motor, brushed the cobwebs from a pair of old wings and found some fusilages. Other parts were renovated and put together.

In less than an hour the two had a whole plane. They rolled it out, jumped in and sailed away to the Eastern Shore.
