FIRE WRECKS PUMPHOUSE

Reflection Leads Many To Think Towson Regular Abloze.

For the fourth consecutive time the Towson Volunteer Fire Company responded to a call to extinguish a blaze in the pumphouse which supplies the town with water. The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning by a passer-by who saw the reflection of the flames in the sky and called the firemen.

The roof of the building was burned and the pumps were damaged to the extent that it will be needed that the pump of the Towson Volunteer Fire Company be overhauled before the pumphouse can be put in shape for use. The damage will be considerable.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It is thought by some that it may have been started by a spark from a passing locomotive, as the pumphouse is located near the railroad tracks. It will be recalled that the pumphouse was destroyed by fire some years ago and that it was then thought that the cause was a spark from a passing locomotive.

The loss of the town is crippled and the inconvenience of not having water in adequate quantity for use in case of a conflagration or other emergency, for the Towson Volunteer Fire Company, Towson Fire Department, Towson Hose Company, Towson Hook and Ladder Company, Towson Ambulance Corps, Towson Fire Department Band, and Towson Fire Department.
