WHEN THE IMPRISONED GIANT WAKES.
Snow-covered Mount Popocatepetl, Mexico, 17,843 feet high, most active volcanic peak on the North American Continent, in the throes of a recent eruption.

Fotograms

THE LATEST IN RADIO MARVELS.
World's smallest loud speaker that really works and a midget crystal detector, held by Betty Earle and to be exhibited at the first Radio World's Fair at Madison Square Garden and the 69th Regiment Armory, N. Y.

Fotograms

ONE MORE INTERNATIONAL CUP FOR AMERICA.
Devereaux Milburn, captain of the American polo team, on the point of making a drive that scored a goal in the first of the international matches at Meadow Brook, witnessed by a vast throng, including the Prince of Wales, who saw the British team defeated by 16-5.

Wide World Photos

AND SOME FOLKS CALL THIS SPORT.
Ernest Fenz, a Swiss climber on Mount Uto, in British Columbia, facing an almost vertical cliff, while below him there is a sheer drop of six thousand feet.

International

A SPLIT PAR EXCELLENCE.
Miss Gracella Claire, specialty dancer, in a new musical comedy in Los Angeles, performing a difficult feat with the aid of the Misses Louise and Katherine Vercell.

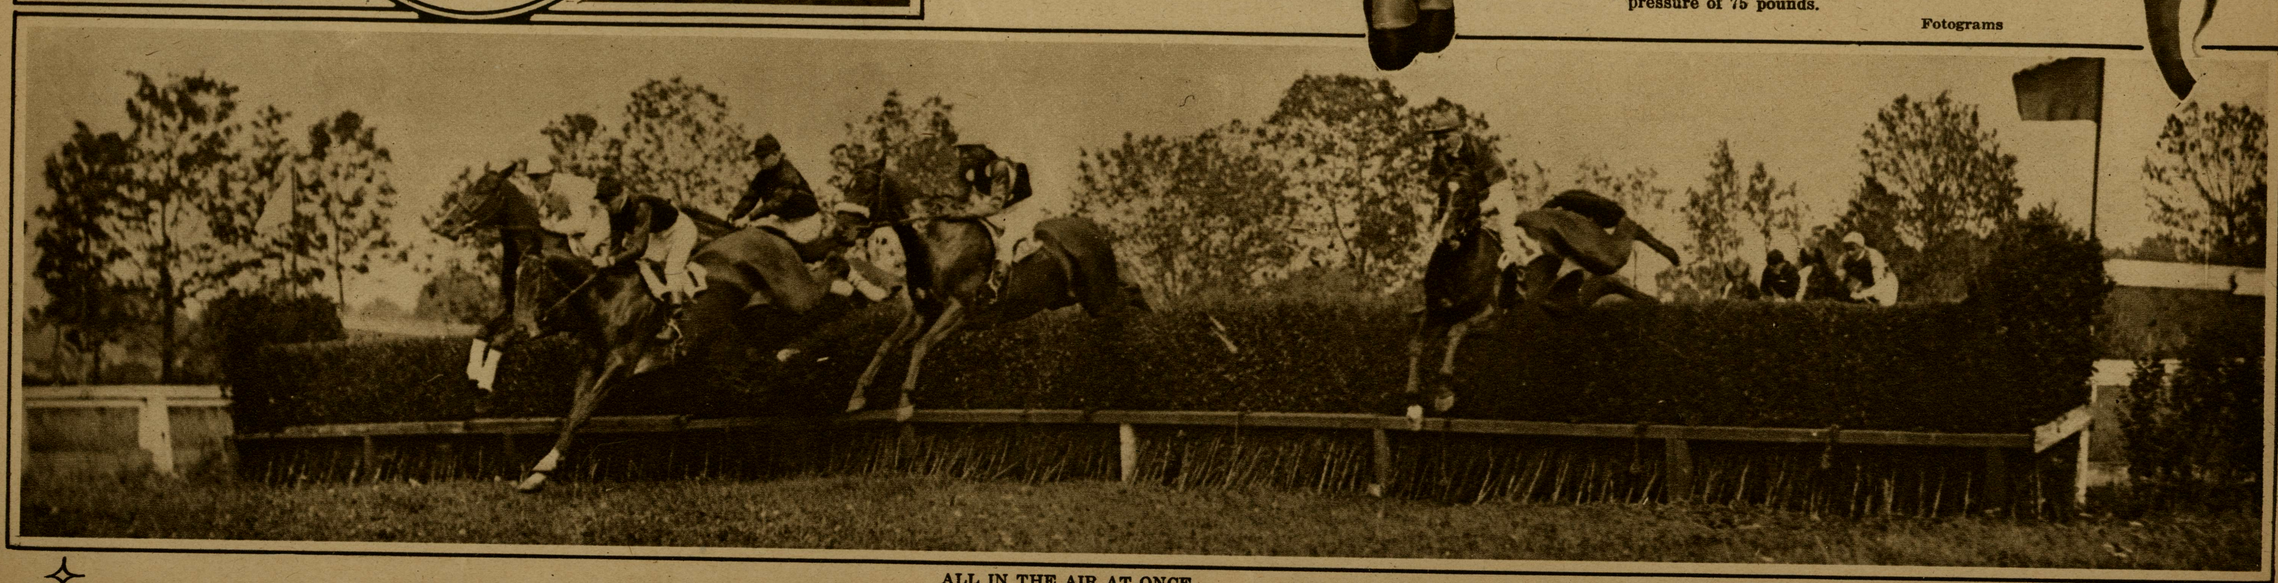
Wide World Photos

A NEW WAY OF RECOVERING LOST PROPERTY.
Two carrots picked by William Ness of Hyattsville, Md., which were found to have grown into a ring which he had lost while seeding the garden last spring.

United

A MAMMOTH FRAME FOR A CHARMING FACE.
World's largest pneumatic tire recently built for the United States Army Air Service for a purpose as yet undisclosed, 64 by 14 inches, and designed to sustain a load of 20,000 pounds at an inflated pressure of 75 pounds.

Fotograms



ALL IN THE AIR AT ONCE.
Unusual action photo of a steeplechase race at Belmont Park, won by Irish Dream, with four of the leading contestants taking a hurdle at the same moment.

Fotograms

© Maryland State Archives mdsa_sc3410_1_81-0261.jpg