CASTORIA

AN ECONOMIC MISFIT.

The farmer turned in his easy chair,
"I paid my taxes to-day," said he,
"And maybe you think it's right and fair,
But durned if it looks that way to me,
Sence I fixed the place, haint they had the face
To tax me as much again, by gee!"

"Of course I kicked! and I said 'by darn!'
I'd like to know if it's suthin' new,
When a man can't fix up his house and barn,
'Thout payin' the town and the painters, too?
It don't seem fair, and it don't look square,
To have to pay for the good you do!

"Now Lijur Jones, his fence come down,
And he burnt it up (as I allus s'posed),
And his cows got loose and ranged the town
But they taxed him less 'cause his land
w'ant closed.
It's like givin' a prize for the crossest eyes,
And the freckliest gals and the snubbest nose!

"Ef that's the way the country's run,
To tax a man for his thrivin' ways,
It 'pears to me that the more that's done
Towards improvin' things the less it pays.
Let your place run down and disgrace the town,
And your cows get into the road to graze."
—Paul Pastnor in National Single-Taxer.

From the Scientific American.

THE LAST OF THE YUKIANS.

BY ENOS BROWN.

At the time of the Spanish conquest of California the Indian population in the territory was known to have been very large. In Northern California alone it is estimated that over fifty-thousand aborigines roamed in undisturbed security all over this fertile land. With the advent of the conquerors the Indians began to decline in numbers, owing to the cruel treatment of the Spaniards and the introduction of hitherto unknown diseases which were very fatal to them, so that when the State came into possession of the Americans, not onehalf as many Indians remained in the country as existed a century before.

The destruction of the tribes progressed more rapidly even under American domination than under the Spaniards. The fatal vice of drink became more general among them and they succumbed to the new civilization. When the settlers of the country discovered how well the northern half of the State was adapted for stock raising, they appropriated the lands of the helpless Indians, and drove them back into regions less fertile. The Indians resented this hardship by killing the white man's cattle, and then vengeance, cruel, swift and strong, was visited upon the inferior race, and a war of extermination was waged. Thousands of Indians were cruelly massacred and the war ended when there were no more to kill.

Sonoma county, one of the most fertile in the State, the present home of a most prosperous and thrifty people, carefully suppresses in its annals all mention of the early treatment of the Indians by its pioneer founders. Its groves were shambles where the Indians were tortured by fire and exterminated by the sword.

Certainly, no more worthless types of humanity ever existed than the California savages. They were only a step in advance of the Australian in intelligence and were not the equal of that lowest type of humanity in the ingenuity of their devices for trapping game. The original California Indian was an abject and bestal object. Neither male nor female were clothed, except in extreme weather when their nakedness was protected in some degree by hides and skins. They ate the most repulsive reptiles, snakes, lizards and worms. Roasted grasshoppers were a delicacy only matched by a feast of tainted fish. They derived their name of "diggers" from the custom of digging into the ground for roots or game. Their sole object in living was to exist with as little trouble to themselves as possible, and they were so lazy that the laziest white who ever breathed was a monument of industry in comparison.

There still lives the remnant of this once numerous tribe at Hopland, Sonoma bounty, Calfornia. Only two or three hundred are left. There has been secured to them a tract of worthless land upon which they have settled, and where they make a feeble pretense of raising vegetables and fruit. They own a little stock and are called civilized.

The church, out of its large charity, has sent them a missionary who has taught them agriculture, and has labored unceasingly to improve their condition and morals. They have a school where the youth are taught the rudiments of education and instruction given them in the common utilitarian arts. The women make good seamstresses and fair cooks, and both sexes, when in the chapel, are exceedingly devout. Some of the most ambitious have frame houses, but many prefer homes after the picturesque style of their forefathers, formed of saplings curved at the top and covered with straw.

These people have some virtues; hospitality, for instance. The women make baskets which are sometimes artistic, being ornamented with different colored straw, woven in angular figures and with feathers from gayly colored birds. The federal government, whose wards these Indians are, is doing all in its power to protect them from their most dangerous enemy, rum, but with indifferent success.

Heavy penalties are laid upon the trader who supplies them, but an Indian will barter everything he has for a bottle of whiskey, and generally finds some unscrupulous dealer to supply him.

To this cause, and to diseases incident to civilization, the decimation of this remnant of the old Gallionomeros or Yukiah Indians may be ascribed. Every year shows their number decreased, and a generation hence will find the last of the tribe awaiting his final call.

Wall Paper!
Wall Paper!
I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the Finest and Cheapest Lines of WALL PAPER ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a potter gap nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. If you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar in wall paper.
