IMPROVEMENTS UNDER WAY AT "STONELEIGH"—WORK BEGAN ON SANITARY SEWERAGE SYSTEM

In Seventeenth Century Tract Came Into Possession Of William Govane Through Grant Made By Lord Baltimore—In 1850 It Passed To Late Robert P. Brown.

An announcement which met with a warm reception from owners of building sites in Stoneleigh stated that work would begin at once on the sanitary sewerage system that has been under consideration this winter. Irving E. Butler, president of the Stoneleigh Corporation, announced that over $20,000 would be expended in making the improvement.

Building contracts amounting to over $100,000 have already been authorized to those who plan to build homes this spring, and quite probably this amount will be doubled within the next few weeks. This is the second year for Stoneleigh and if present activity can be taken as an indication of future progress, this district will continue to occupy a prominent place in the better-class real estate development field.

Stoneleigh takes in the old Robert Brown estate, until recently known as the Von Kapf property, and is located on York road, just north of Regester avenue. It was acquired by the Stoneleigh Corporation from Frederick Von Kapf, whose residence still occupies a consppicuous spot in the development. In the Seventeenth Century this tract came into the possession of William Govane through a grant made by Lord Baltimore. More than half a century later, in 1850, it was purchased by Robert P. Brown from the Howards, and at his death came into the possession of his son, George Brown. Its picturesque setting, its delightful atmosphere of refinement is given a most pleasing historic background that dates back to the Seventeenth Century.

The garden that remains a part of the Von Kapf homestead has been carefully preserved for many years, and is probably the most interesting spot on the property. An arborvitae hedge completely surrounds the garden. The flower garden in turn is enclosed by a boxwood hedge of rare beauty. Dozens of visitors are seen about the place daily in the spring and summer when the flowers are in bloom. They are drawn by the irrisistlbie charm that is apparent at a first glance.

In order to preserve the natural beauty of Stoneleigh the engineers of the Roland Park Company were engaged to lay out the home sites. Artistic planning has played a most important part in development of the property. Consequently it has become known as Stoneleigh "the beautiful," and is generally referred to in this manner by those who are planning and building life-time homes in the section.

OLD HITCHING POST HOLDS AUTO SECURELY.

The old brokenoff hitching post in front of the Towson National Bank, which in its time has held many a prancing steed securely, held the automobile of Miss Claris Crane, of Timonium, equally as securely on Thursday.

Being "penned in" between two cars parked at the curb, Miss Crane decided by driving up on the pavement a bit she could easily back out. Not seeing the sawed-off post, the front axle of her machine became entangled with it, and to life it off, the service truck of the Court Garage had to be summoned.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Her Suffering and Restored Her Health

Momence, Illinois.—"I surely can recommend your medicine to other women who have female weakness, as it has helped me very much in every way possible. I was working in a dining room in town, and sometimes I could not do my work; had pains in the lower part of my body and had to stay in bed. One of my neighbors told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and it has surely done wonders for me. I hope all women who suffer will take my advice as the Vegetable Compound has done so much to bring back my vigor and strength."—Mrs. ALBERT E. DESCHAUD, Momence, Illinois.

DOWN-POUR OF RAIN FLOODS MANY SECTIONS OF COUNTY.

Half a mile of the North Point road was submerged Sunday last. Motorists were turned back by water about a foot in depth. The flood, caused by high water in Herring Run also overspread a section of the Philadelphia road. Many motorists outward bound from the city turned back when notified of flood conditions by police at the Philadelphia road.

On the Philadelphia road near Highland avenue, a mile farther in, water from a small stream flowed over the street and collected in large pools on both sides of the road.

A section of the Bird River road, which connects Chase Station with the Middle River road, was washed away at a point about two miles from Chase station.

Water a foot deep swept over the valley of Stemmer's Run, west of Chase's, where the run is crossed by the Golden Ring road. A number of automobiles were stalled.

At the intersection of the Philadelphia road and Red House Run, just outside of Rosedale,, motorists were delayed by water two feet deep. Gravel roads just outside of the city suffered heavily from the flood. No damage was reported to State roads or county bridges.

A part of Ralston, which is a section of Pikesville, resembled a lake. The area is 500 feet above sea level, but in a stretch of level land.

GOUCHER TRIPLES IN SIZE.

Goucher College is three times as big as it was ten years ago, when President William Guth came here from California to direct its affairs.

This fact is brought out in a circular letter published by alumnae trustees, in which President Guth is congratulated for his achievement.

The financial growth of the college is even more impressive. From an annual deficit in 1913, the books of the college at the end of the fiscal year of 1923 showed an annualsurplus of $55,669.07; faculty salaries were $53,140.59 in 1913 and were $208,800 ten years later. In 1913 the college was burdened with an indebtedness of $928,680.76, which had been wiped out in 1923. The endowment fund of the college rose in the decade from $103,812.77 to $1,500,000 in 1923.
