The beautiful home of Mrs. John D. Lisle, near Glen Falls, was the scene of an event, on Wednesday, in which many persons felt unusual interest. The occurrence referred to was the marriage of her eldest daughter, Miss Lethe C. Lisle, and Mr. John L. Reifsnider, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. The groom is a son of Mrs. Blanche Worthington, of Baltimore, and a grandson of the late Richard Hardesty. The charming residence was decorated with admirable taste, the general effect having been in ferns and golden rod. The alcove in the library occupied by the bridal pair during the ceremony was filled in with palms and had a frieze and drapery of ivy and from the centre a marriage bell of golden rod suspended. The bride, who was given away by her father, was unattended. The groom's best man was his brother, Mr. Frank Worthington, of Baltimore. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of rich white satin, with point lace and veil. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Fanny S. Pearson, of this city. The marriage ceremony was performed by Canon E. B. Taylor, rector of Ascension Episcopal Church, this city. The event excited unusual interest in social circles, the bride being a very charming and popular young lady. Many leading citizens of the State were present. On Saturday last our people were early astir arranging for picnics in this section. The members of the Band went to Shiloh and furnished the music for the Sunday School picnic at that Church. The Lutheran Sunday School of this place drove to Mr. Jacob Folk's grove at Alesia and had a day's outing. Games and other amusements gave enjoyment to the children and adults alike. A pleasant day was spent until about leaving time in the evening, when several accidents created some excitement and marred the pleasure somewhat. Mr. Jacob Warehime hitched one of his horses to a buckster wagon to pull it to a more convenient place to receive its quota of children. The horse pulled with a rush and the tongue of the wagon struck Mr. W. and knocked him to the ground. The wagon passed over him and a coop hanging low struck him on the head from which he fainted and lay unconscious for some time. Although resuscitated he was quite sick for the rest of the evening. The tongue of the wagon was run into a post fence and broken off and had to be replaced, causing a delay. Miss Hattie Redding and Miss Gabrielle Menchey were leaving for home when their horse became unmanageable. Miss Menchey jumped out and took hold of him but was thrown to the ground and the horse ran over her. It was at first thought she was badly hurt but luckily she escaped with several bad bruises.

Mr Charles W. Motter gave a party on Monday evening at his home on South Main street, in honor of his cousins, Mrs. E. K. Gernand and daughter, Miss Frances R. Instrumental and vocal music, recitations, dancing and games made up an evening's pleasure for all, and much to the credit of the genial host. At a late hour all were invited to the dining room where a beautifully decorated table was groaning under abundant refreshments which were enjoyed amid much merriment. The midnight hour had passed ere the good nights were said. Those present were: Mrs. E. K. Gernand, and Miss Frances R. Gernand, Mrs. Letitia Parke Wood, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Uniontown Items.

Mr. E. G. Gilbert has a large grain shed, 30x60, at the Democratic picnic grove, at the East End of town, to which the famous Breckenridge, of Kentucky, was brought from Washington, D. C., to deliver an address to the farmers of Carroll in the campaign of '92. He came chock full of Democracy and was wont to spread himself, but said he was throttled and was not allowed to speak in that line, but was bound to say that he was a Democrat any way. In the campaign of last fall, in his own State, he was not a 16 to 1 Democrat and did much towards the election of McKinley. And then there was Bro. Crouse, on the same occasion, who made more promises to the farmers to vote for Cleveland. $1.00 wheat would follow. Well, they got Grover and everybody knows it was not long until it took nearly two bushels for a dollar. Then came the doctor, reluctantly, who dilated about long wool and short wool in our trousers, and Free Trade. We all know what followed the latter; the depression of everything, so that it was not very long before we were forced to give up wool and be content to wear what we could pay for—cottonade.

Mr. Editor, whats the matter with the Advocate? During the last campaign I became very much interested in its 16 to 1 ideas; so much so indeed that I would borrow my neighbor's copy every week to see what he would make out of it. Now it comes to our home and I look and look, column after column, and can't see anything about it. I can find, "McKinley's Prosperity" in one column and Bradstreet's reports in another, but not a word about 16 to 1. What's the matter?

The item in last week's Advocate, announcing that an expert bicycle rider from your city was giving lessons in the art to the local correspondents of our town, on the school grounds, may be so, but as for the SENTINEL's correspondent I beg to say that I was not in it. My day has gone by for acrobatic antics but I must say that I feel slighted in not getting an invitation to witness the circus given by the lady correspondents on the occasion referred to.

A Delightful Social Event.

"Sunnyside," the home of the Misses Manahan, near Warfieldsburg, was the scene of a select and delightful gathering in honor of Misses Cora Sutton, Ida Sutton, Rose Miller, and Rachel Leister, all of Baltimore, and who have been guests of the Misses Manahan for several weeks. The evening of September 2nd was delightful, giving inspiration to each to vie with the others in being pleasant. The manner of reception and the environments were of such a nature that it was impossible to be in any other than an agreeable mood, though most likely some had apprehensions concerning this beforehand as the invitations contained the following, (and no one likes to be sold):

AN AUCTION SALE.

No check nor money need you bring.
A draught might give you cold;
We're only doing this for fun.
The buyer here—is sold.

The lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns and others made from pumpkins cut into grotesque figures, somewhat illustrating Darwin's evolution ideas regarding the monkey. The decorations for the evening were of white and yellow. The program given to each was on white paper tied with yellow bows. The bean bags, each containing fifty beans used as wampum at the auction, were made of white, worked with yellow; the articles sold were neatly folded in white paper, bound with yellow ribbon; golden rod and white lilies were the flowers, etc., etc.

Beside the auction sale, which was enjoyed immensely by all, games of various kinds, vocal and instrumental music, social conversation, and various other amusements so occupied the time that the evening was gone ere one thought. The refreshments, consisting of cakes, fruit, ice cream and chocolate, served in an elegant style, were in abundance and enjoyed by all. The following persons were present: Mrs. Manahan, the Misses Manahan; Misses Cora Sutton, Ida Sutton, Rose Miller, Rachel Leister, Addie Armacost, Jessie Armacost, of Baltimore; Carrie Smith, Florence Nusbaum, Mary Otto, New Windsor; Barbara Ensor, Jennie Roberts, Sams Creek; Melvin Chenowith, Hanover; Jennie Shreeve, Westminster; Della Baile, Ella Forrest, Florence Forrest, Medford; Messrs. H. Davis, Warfieldsburg; Burrier Cookson, Uniontown; Cossie Ensor, Charlie Roberts, Sams Creek; Heber Michael, Hanover; John Shreeve, Westminster; Jesse Myers, Ed. Myers, Walter Englar, Edgar Nusbaum, Charles Otto, Walter Selby, New Windsor.

Taylorsville Items.

Owing to a radical change in our plans the last part of last week our usual letter was not forthcoming. We shall try in the future to always be on hand.

Rev. Thos. E. Copes began on Sunday night his revival meetings on the circuit. He is holding forth now at Watersville. Mr. Copes is anxious to finish up all his meetings by Christmas.

On Saturday evening last the trustees of the Methodist Church at Morgan's Chapel met and took steps to employ a sexton and also to improve the church property by putting up a new fence &c.

The Epworth League of the Taylorsville M. E. Church did not meet on Sunday evening last but attended the protracted services held at the Bethany M. E. Church.

Rev. Copes is raising the money to pay off the debt on the parsonage and hopes to have all the amount at an early date. Mr. Copes was at New Windsor last week visiting Rev. T. S. Long, the Methodist minister there.

As announced in last week's SENTINEL the remains of James B. Cole, of Woodbine, were interred at St. James on Tuesday of last week. Deceased was born October 16th, 1856, and died August 30th, 1897. He had recently been married the second time and leaves the widow and eight children, all quite young.

As announced in last week's SENTINEL Prof. Heapes will begin his private school on Monday next, September 13th. The course will be in line with the work of last year. The prospects are for a good school. The tuition has been reduced to $25.00 for the year—40 weeks. Arrangements will also be made for those desiring to board &c., at reasonable rates.

On Saturday afternoon next, September 11th, Prof. Heapes will deliver an address before the Patriotic Order Sons of America, at Little Round Top, near Winfield, Md. There will be other speakers and music.

Mr. E. I. Stouffer and wife and Prof. Heapes go as delegates to Ellicott City to attend the Epworth League convention of the West Baltimore District.

On Thursday of next week, September 16th, Prof. Heapes will give his humorous lecture on "The Mistakes of the Other Fellow," at the Methodist tent at New Windsor. A silver offering will be taken for the benefit of the new church at that place. Everybody invited.

The St. James' Sunday School will hold its annual festival on Saturday, September 18th. Prof. Heapes will speak.

Mr. Ike Frizzell has just had burned and placed upon his farm a kiln of lime.

Mr. Reuben C. Conaway reports that up to Saturday last he had threshed this season a little over 25,000 bushels of grain, with two week's solid work before him until seeding time.

Work was begun in the public school department at Taylorsville on Tuesday last, with Mr. Geo. W. Chase as teacher. Mr. Chase is a public school teacher of marked ability. We look for a successful year.

Mr. E. I. Stouffer has added a fine lot of timothy seed to his stock in trade.

Mr. N. H. Farver made his last trip last week for Mr. Geo. W. Cushing. Mr. Cushing has had a very busy season caponing chickens.

Mr. T. A. Barnes was in Westminster last week on business relative to the new schoolhouse. The work will be pushed with dispatch but the patrons who can and have not done so should not forget that they owe it to themselves and the public to help haul brick, stone and lumber.

Mr. D. W. Dudderar lost a very fine cow week before last and a fine horse last week.

Mr. C. L. Grossnickle, our local dealer, has been buying and selling some fine cows during the last month. He sold two for $85.00 week before last.

Mr. T. A. Barnes bought a very fine mare from Mr. Hood, of Mt. Airy, last week.

There was quite a crowd on Saturday last at the sale of the Thomas Porter's property. Mr. James Trayer bought the home place. Other purchasers were: Sidney Baker, Michael McCaffrey, David E. Stem, Marshall Devilbiss, Frank Roberts, Columbus Cover and David Martin.

Mr. Geo. Grimes put out a peach orchard late last fall and picked some nice peaches from it this season.

There will be no meeting of the Epworth League on Sunday evening next because of meetings at other points.

Prof. Heapes will give an elocutionary entertainment at the M. E. Church on Friday evening, September 17th, for the benefit of the parsonage debt. Everybody invited. Admission 10 cents.

Miss Hattie Devilbiss, of New Windsor, who has been visiting Miss Addie Franklin, for some time, returned to her home on Tuesday last.

Rev. Thos. E. Copes is enjoying a visit from his brother and sister from Baltimore.

Our people from these parts, who transact a good deal of business in Westminster, complain very much about the R. R. crossing at Spring Mills, and the dangers of the ingress and egress to Westminster. Mr. Geo. Grimes came very near being caught by the Pen-Mar Express on Monday last. A "bell" is needed very much at that point.

The Autumn Century of the Cycling Ramblers.—A Great Event in Cycling Circles.

The first autumn century run of the Cycling Ramblers of this city, Sunday, September 19th, promises to be a great success. Already many entries have been booked, and many more names will be added in the next two weeks. It is proposed to not only make this a local affair, but to extend invitations to all clubs and individual riders throughout the State, and no doubt there will be a large attendance from the different sections. This run affords a chance to many bicycle riders, who have long sought an opportunity to secure some trophy in recognition of their abilities as long distance riders. It is proposed by the Cycling Ramblers to charge an entrance fee of $1.00 to each one who enters, and then to give to each survivor a handsome medal suitably inscribed. The intrinsic value of these medals cannot be determined at present, as it greatly depends upon the number who finish. It is the purpose of the club, however, to devote all the entry fees to the purchase of these souvenir medals, and of course the least number that survive, the more valuable the medals will become. However, if all who enter finish each person will get back in the value of his medal the full sum paid to enter. The course will be from Westminster to Wrightsville, Pa., on the banks of the beautiful Susquehanna river, a distance of 52 miles each way. The route runs through many beautiful towns and villages, including Littlestown, Hanover and York, Pa., and is said to be the easiest century to make in this part of the country. Barring a few hills between this city and Littlestown, the country is comparatively level, and the turnpike surface over most of the route is excellent. Provision is made for breakdowns and punctures all along the line, as repairs can be had at almost every hamlet. The time allowed to make the century will be 16 hours, recorded from the starting time of the pacemakers, who will be started about 5 A. M., giving those who wish an opportunity to finish early in the evening. The schedule, however, will be so arranged that the riders will be bunched in each town along the line. For example, the pacemakers can, if they wish, get to a town any time, but they cannot leave before a certain hour. The idea is to endeavor to get all who enter through, and not wear them out by a too rapid pace. It is customary for each community to hold some cycling event at certain periods of the season, and this event will mark the closing of the social cycling season in this community. It is hoped each rider will enter and do all he can to make the run a success. The ladies will be well cared for along the route, and already assurance is had that a number of them will enter. Every white bicycle rider is invited to enter, whether they receive a special invitation to enter or not, as it will be impossible to mail invitations to all. You can leave your entry with Mr. J. H. Krichton, the secretary of the club, at his store any time between now and 10 P. M. Saturday, September 18th. The names of those who have entered up to going to press are as follows: Eugene W. H. Lamotte, Doneah C. Nygren, Geo. R. Babylon, Harry U. Geiman, Chas. E. Cootes, J. H. Krichton, Mrs. J. H. Krichton, Edward H. Manning, Wm. Null, Wm. F. Long, Jesse Stultz, Wm. A. Stultz, J. H.
