McClure's Magazine, for 1898, will be fully up to the high standard which has made it already one of the most popular periodicals in this country, or rather, it may be said, it will be better than ever. The subscription price is but $1 00 per year and it would be difficult to invest that much money in any manner that would give better returns in pleasure and real profit than by subscribing for this magazine. Address McClure's Magazine, New York, N. Y.

The railroad office at Fairfield, Pa., on the Western Extension of the Western Maryland Railroad, is probably the only office of the kind in the country fitted up to resemble a lady's parlor. Miss Scott, of Fairfield, has been the station agent for a number of years, and has the room, occupied by her in that capacity, handsomely carpeted and furnished, and recently added a fine Lester piano to her other surroundings, from the establishment of A. M. Ordway, at Hagerstown.

About the middle of August Mr. Thos. G. Otto, of Middleburg district, seeded some ground in rye for fall pasture for his cattle. Two weeks ago the grain had headed and Mr. Otto left a number of stalks, with perfect heads, at this office. The period in which this rye reached such an advanced state of growth is something remarkable, having been less than seventy five days. The soil in which it grew must be of exceedingly good quality.

Master Clarence Schaeffer, son of Mr. Milton Schaeffer, of this city, while running, on Saturday evening last, accidentally fell and struck his left knee against a stone with such force as to cause a cut two and a-half inches in length and one-fourth of an inch deep. Being in close proximity to the knee cap the injury is necessarily a troublesome one, and Master Clarence has found it necessary to keep to his bed on account of it. Dr. M. L. Bott gave the wound the necessary surgical attention.

The trading stamp business has received a backset by a decision of Judge Scott, of the police branch of the District Court, Washington, D. C., who ruled it to be in the nature of a gift enterprise and consequently unlawful. Fines of $100 were imposed upon Washington merchants using the system. The cases have gone to the District Court of Appeals, which will probably affirm Judge Scott's decision. As Maryland law and District of Columbia law are substantially alike on the subject, the decision affects the business as practiced in this State and it may become necessary to discontinue it.

About twelve o'clock Sunday night Mr. Herbert L. Bowers, proprietor of the Central Hotel, this city, was aroused from sleep by the groaning of his wife, and found her in a semi-conscious and entirely helpless condition. He felt strangely ill himself, but was able to call for assistance, when the cause of the trouble was found to be the presence of coal gas, which had escaped into the room from the register connected with a coal stove in the room below. They made a narrow escape from asphyxiation. Dr. M. L. Bott, was summoned, and both were soon out of danger.

Mrs. Annie A. K. Schnable, wife of Mr. Conrad Schnable, whose home is near the pool of the Westminster Water Company, died at noon, on Tuesday last, of cancer, after a long illness, aged 54 years, 9 months and 24 days. Her husband and an adopted daughter survive her. Her remains were interred in the burial ground of St. John's (Leister's) Lutheran Church, on Thursday, after funeral services by her pastor, Rev. Calvin S. Slagle, of St. Paul's Reformed Church, this city. Deceased suffered intensely during her long illness, but exhibited great patience and christian fortitude.

An event, designated by a correspondent of the SENTINEL as "one of the great curiosities of the nineteenth century," occurred in the vicinity of Tyrone, this county, on Tuesday, 2nd inst. In the language of the correspondent, "one of Mrs. Joseph Myers' bees swarmed" on that day. The occurrence is certainly remarkable. The instinct or sense which leads these little insects to do what is necessary for their preservation seems to have been entirely at fault in this case, as they must inevitably perish without extraneous assistance. Our correspondent will oblige us by giving us information concerning the fate of this venturesome "swarm."

Mrs. Diana Forrest, wife of Mr. Isaac C. Forrest, near Warfieldsburg, died at her home at 10 o'clock, Thursday morning, after an illness of three weeks, of paralysis, aged about seventy-four years. Mrs. Forrest was a sister of Mr. Henry B. Albaugh and Mrs. Levi N. Snader, of this city, and of the late George P. Albaugh, father of Mr. George W. Albaugh. She was for many years a member of Pipe Creek Methodist Protestant Church, a consistent christian, a loving and devoted wife, a tender and faithful mother and a kind and generous neighbor. Of her, it may truly be said, "she was a mother in Israel." Her husband survives her and she leaves six daughters—Mrs. Joseph A. Waesche, Mrs. Leander Gladhill, of this city; Mrs. Samuel T. Otto, of New Windsor; Misses Alice, Ella and Florence Forrest. Funeral services will be held this, Saturday, afternoon at 1 o'clock, at Pipe Creek Church.

Sudden Death of a Young Lady.

Miss Hattie R. Huber, youngest daughter of Ex-Postmaster A. H. Huber, of this city, died, very suddenly, at her home on East Main street, on Sunday evening, her fatal illness lasting but about two hours. She was stricken with apoplexy at 6 o'clock and death ensued at 8 o'clock. The deceased, who was in her twenty-second year, had not been in robust health for some time, but neither she nor her family had any premonition of the sudden ending of her young life. She was bright and cheerful during the afternoon and was preparing to attend and participate in the services of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the Methodist Protestant Church, when she suddenly became alarmingly ill. But a few minutes elapsed before Dr. Jos. T. Hering, who is her father's next door neighbor, was summoned to her bedside and quickly discovered the fatal character of the attack. Miss Huber was a young lady of amiable and gentle disposition and was held in tender affection by a large circle of warmly attached friends, especially among the young people of her acquaintance, and her sudden decease, soon widely known in the community, brought deep grief to many hearts. Sympathy for her bereaved father and the other members of the stricken household is general and sincere.

Funeral services were held at the house on Wednesday morning, and were conducted by Rev. W. R. Graham, D. D., of the Methodist Protestant Church, assisted by Rev. Joel Brown, of Centenary M. E. Church, and Elders Bixler and Gaunt, of the German Baptist Church, after which the remains were interred by the side of the mother of the deceased, in Westminster Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Paul Royer, Royer Bish, Ralph Royer, Willie Royer, Nevin Royer, and Robert Gist, all but the last of whom are Miss Hattie's cousins. The floral tributes were very beautiful and almost innumerable. Miss Hattie's sailor brother, Harry, was enabled to attend her funeral, the ship to which he is attached having reached Hampton Roads only a few days ago, but her absent sister, Mrs. Alice Lawler, who resides in Rushville, Illinois, is ill and could not be present.

The New Shirt Factory.

The new shirt factory, which went into operation in this city on Monday, was forced to temporarily suspend work on the following day by an accident to the building, which was not staunch enough to resist the force of a strong gale that sprang up during the afternoon. The second story was pushed over about six inches from the perpendicular, endangering the lives of the employes, who were directed to retire, which they did in a quiet manner and without any signs of a panic. Workmen were at once employed to repair the structure and to strengthen it against any possible future danger of collapse. Its strength will be thoroughly tested before work is resumed.

Work commenced on Monday with thirty of the fifty-four machines in the building in operation. Misses Agnes Gibbins and Mary Phone, of Baltimore, are the forewomen. Mr. R. B. Ball is the general manager. Messrs. Strauss & Co., who conduct the factory, desire to employ many more women of good reputation, and when the fifty-four sewing machines now in the building shall be put in operation, will add others, up to a hundred, as operators may be procured.

The machines are operated by steam, with which the building is also heated through means of the best monern steam heating apparatus. A twenty horse power O. and S. engine is used for running the machines and providing the steam for heating purposes. The building has been heretofore described.

While the accident which rendered suspension necessary is to be very much regretted, it is perhaps fortunate that it occurred at a time and under circumstances which made the damage inconsiderable, and gave the opportunity to so fortify the structure that no fears of collapse need be apprehended.

Middle Conference Lutheran Church.

The Middle Conference of the Maryland Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church, met in St. James' Church, Union Bridge, on Monday evening last, and continued its sessions until Wednesday.

The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. P. H. Miller, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, this city. It afforded an excellent stimulus for the labors of the conference. Mr. Miller set forth ably the necessity of letting our tomorrows guide us in the light of the yesterdays, overcoming the circumstantials and the apparent, which so largely vitiate the power of duty.

Rev. S. A. Diehl, of Westminster, conducted devotional services on Tuesday morning at 8 30 o'clock. The business session opened at 9 o'clock. Rev. Robert L. Patterson, of Union Bridge, was elected president for the ensuing year; Rev. G. W. Baughman, of Uniontown, secretary; Rev. P. H. Miller, treasurer. The important discussion of the day was conducted by Revs. D. F. Garland and P. H. Miller. Their subject was, "Is the Ministry Declining in Power and Influence With the Masses? If So, Why? If Not, Why the Indifference of the Masses Toward the Church?"

Rev. Charles Reinwald, of Emmittsburg, opened the discussion, "Is the Employment of Evangelists Conducive to the Permanent Growth and Strengthening of the Church?" His attitude in this discussion was unmistakably a negative one. He deprecated the necessity of "employing" the itinerant purveyor of the Gospel, since that fact already robbed the Word of God of its sanctity and influence, as far as results are to be considered. This subject was taken up by Revs. Bredenbek, Meyers, Ritter, R. S. Patterson, Burk, Garland and Diehl, who gave a warm turn to it. If the sentiment of conference be put to vote it would be overwhelmingly opposed to the introduction of evangelists into the pulpits of the representatives present.

At the afternoon session "The Baptismal Convenant" was the topic for discussion. "Its Nature and Significance" was treated by Rev. R. S. Patterson, of Woodsboro; "How to Keep It Unbroken," by Revs. S. A. Diehl, of Westminster, and A. Bredenbek, of Thurmont.

There was a woman's missionary rally in the afternoon, and the attendance was flattering to the local interest in this branch of the church work. Rev. W. L. Remsburg made the address.

Sister Crist, of the Deaconess' Home, located in Baltimore, entertained and instructed a large audience in the evening. Rev. Luther Kuhlman, of Frederick, preached a helpful sermon on the subject: "Joy An Element of Strength in the Christian Life." At 8 30 Wednesday morning Rev. J. U. Asper, of Lewistown, conducted devotional service. A business session followed, at which various committees reported. Rev. P. H. Miller, of Westminster, made his report as missionary president, and was re-elected.

Mount Zion Church, Frederick county, was chosen as the next place of meeting. Rev. G. W. Baughman, of Uniontown, read a thesis on "Regeneration." A short business session was then held, and at 11 A. M. a most interesting meeting of the conference came to a close.

Taylorsville Items.

During the wet weather the Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg R. R. has been built and put in running order by our citizens in caucus assembled, at the store, and the conclusion has been reached that the road is a "go" and that the four important points will be Washington, Gettysburg, Westminster and Taylorsville.

On Thursday of last week, while Mr. John T. Ingals was building a bridge over the stream below the Cronk cider mill, he caught a large cat fish by striking it with his shovel. The skin was cut and the head apparently mashed. Mr. Ingals then put the fish in his dinner pail to bring home for supper. He placed the pail in "Mose" Costley's buggy and went home, forgetting it, and did not get it until Saturday night. He then put the fish in water and found it still alive after being out of water over 50 hours. Mr. Ingals decided that the fish had a charmed life and put it in Charles Tucker's spring.

Mr. R. C. Conaway left an ear of corn at the store last week which measured 12½ inches strong.

On Thursday of last week Misses Elyth and Edna Grossnickle, Clara and May Koontz, and Bessie and Alma McCaffrey, students at the academy, during the 40 minutes recess at dinner time tied an entire comforter, and now claim to be champions in that line of work. They have our thanks and later will be given an opportunity to make for themselves a record as quilters.

Rev. Copes has been doing his pastoral work in the Morgan's Chapel district during the past week. Mr. Copes has held his revival services at all of the appointments except Taylorsville. He will take a brief rest during the busy season and begin them here early in December.

Mr. Jno. Shipley has been doing some butchering lately. He tells quite a good one on himself. He says that on Saturday of last week he killed a hog and when he went to scald it found that he had not yet made the fire to heat the water. Perhaps there wasn't some hustling done around there about that time.

The foundation wall of the new school-house has been completed and the corner-stone laid. In it were put a copy of the SENTINEL and other county and city papers with other records of the school and town.

Mrs. Ella and Mrs. Maggie Barnes are now visiting Rev. A. F. Campbell, the former pastor of this circuit.

Most of our people are done their fall house cleaning.

Master Elbert Powell, of Sykesville, entered the academy this week.

Mr. E. I. Stouffer was in Westminster this week.

A number of our young folks attended a bean hulling at Mr. Gus. Brown's on Tuesday night.

Grandma Ingals has been complaining quite a good deal of late, but at present is much improved in health.

Manchester Items.

We have again gotten back to our normal state and consequently in our usual quiet way matters are moving along as though we never had had an election in old Dug Hill. Everybody seems to be well satisfied that we have the county treasurer, and party and faction have been "relegated to the rear" of good feeling and sociability, as only Americans know how to do it.

On Sunday afternoon, 31st ult., Trinity Reformed Sunday School rendered their program of Rally Day, in a creditable manner, consisting of singing, recitations and readings, with a talk on the Bible lesson for the day by the pastor, Rev. S. M. Roeder. Willing hands had decorated the pulpit and surroundings profusely with potted plants and flowers, which added much to the pleasure and beauty of the occasion.

The Junior Band did honor to Treasurer-Elect Masenheimer on Saturday evening. They were out in full force and gave him a serenade at his home on N. Main street.

Rev. Byers, of the Gettysburg Seminary, filled the pulpit of the Lutheran Church on Sunday morning last.

Rev. S. M. Roeder held communion services in Lazarus Church, Lineboro, on Sunday morning, at which a large congregation was present and a $34-collection was taken for benevolent purposes.

Miss Stella Barton, a graduate of the Baltimore School of Oratory, will give a recital in the Lutheran Church of this place on Thursday evening, November 18th, for the benefit of the Church. She will be assisted by local musical talent.

Mr. Lewis Clingan, of Frederick, paid a flying visit to friends here on Sunday.

Mrs. Lewis Brockley, of Hanover, has been visiting her sisters, the Misses Lippy.

Mrs. Henry Hutchins, of Baltimore county, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. H. Shower for several days this week.

Dr. R. S. Wells removed his personal effects to Hampstead on Tuesday, and Dr. Ruby took possession of the house vacated by him, (the Dr. Shower home) on N. Main street. Mr. Howard Stump occupied the house on S. Main street, vacated by Dr. Ruby.

Mr. J. W. Trump lost a valuable family horse on Saturday night from lockjaw. Seven weeks ago Mr. T. discovered a nail in the horse's hoof. This caused the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Myers and daughter, of Baltimore, spent some days with Mrs. B. W. Fuhrman, on York street, last week. Mr. Myers enjoyed several days hunting and got his share of rabbits. The greatest slaughter of rabbits was made by Messrs. W. H. Gettier, Frank, Charles and Horatio Loats, who bagged 41 on Saturday, 30th ult.

Hampstead Items.

Post election quietness has settled upon our town. Even the "I told you so" man finds a difficulty in securing an audience. Hampstead Republicans and Independent voters again feel proud of the district's record. Mr. Stansbury, the only successful Republican candidate for the legislature, received the congratulations of a large number of friends, who serenaded him in a body, soon after the official count was announced. Mr. Stansbury acknowledged the complimentary demonstration in a short speech, explaining how he had experienced the novel sensations of both defeat and victory in the same campaign, but unlike his opponent, in the above order. The fact is nowhere more manifest than in our district, that the independent voter is a most important factor in our county as well as state elections.

The question of good roads, which entered conspicuously into the recent political contest in certain localities, while not so strongly agitated here is beyond all dispute a most timely one. While the $18,000 which has been spent annually in the county has effected a marked change in the condition of our roads, there is yet great room for improvement. The turnpike which passes through this place is in a deplorable condition from Reisterstown, south of us, as far north as the State line. Such a thoroughfare would not be tolerated six months by any but those who have been accustomed all their lives to only second grade roads, at the best. The two tollgates near Manchester have been thrown open, but that is only a half-way measure which is far from being satisfactory.

Mr. Christopher Cooper, while helping to saw down timber one day this week, was struck in the head by a falling tree and made quite sick for awhile. His shoulder was also bruised but no bones were broken. His injuries are not considered serious.

The Heart and Hand Club will give a chrysanthemum tea, at the home of Mr. Micajah Stansbury, this, Saturday, evening, between the hours of 4 and 10 30 o'clock. The proceeds are to be devoted to the improvement of the exterior of the M. E. Church and the tea promises to be an unusually attractive and interesting affair.

A pretty and enjoyable occasion was the chrysanthemum tea given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Buchman in honor of their son, Mr. Thomas W. Buchman, on last Saturday evening. A large number of guests was present.

Mr. Mordecai Boring, of near Maple Grove, who recently purchased the Miller property, one mile south of here, has begun the erection of a dwelling thereon, which the carpenters expect to have closed in before winter. The building is being erected upon the foundation of the house which burned down two years ago, and when completed will be occupied by Mr. Boring and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gorsuch, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mr. Clifton Murray the early part of the week.

Miss Mary Wells visited friends in Baltimore several days this week.

Western Maryland vs. John Hopkins.

The Western Maryland College football team defeated the Johns Hopkins University team on the grounds of the former last Saturday afternoon, by a score of 10 to 0, six being made in the first half. Johns Hopkins played a snappy game, but appeared to be overmatched. Twice in the second half the Hopkins boys carried the ball within two yards of the goal, only to be overcome by the superior playing of the home team. Zepp, H. D. Baker and Dashell found the weak places in the Hopkins line, and went where-ever they pleased. The line-up was as follows:

W. M,	J. H.
Tagg, c.	c., Hancock.

The hospitable residence of Mr. L. O. Handley was the scene of a delightful birthday anniversary on last Sunday. The event was in honor of Mrs. Handley, who celebrated the forty-eighth mile stone of her life. Quite a number of relatives and friends were present. The day was joyfully spent in pleasant conversation, and in addition all participated heartily in a sumptuous dinner, so willingly prepared by the kind host and hostess. Rinehart and wife, Mr. Luther Hann and, daughter Mamie, Mr. Levi Handley and wife, Charles and Annie Handley, Mr. C. H. Porters Items.

We are having an abundance of rain. The rains last week did some damage to grain fields by washing. Corn-husking has been somewhat delayed by the wet weather, and there still remains a considerable portion of the crop to be housed. The corn crop is a very good one throughout this entire vicinity. The grain has made a good stand and is generally looking fine.

Mr. Geo. W. Hess, one of our teachers, who has the principalship of the Middleburg school, has rented a house in that place and his second daughter, Dora, has gone there to keep house for him and attend school.

Mr. Reese, of Owings Mills, paid a visit to friends in this section on Sunday.

Children's Home Mission day was observed at Messiah Lutheran Church on last Sabbath. The program prepared by the board was well rendered by the school, assisted by the choir. A collection amounting to six dollars was lifted for the benefit of Home Missions.

Mrs. A. H. Wallace, when last heard from, was still improving. On Friday of last week she was reported as being able to walk a little with the aid of crutches. She is expected home on Saturday.
