The tattered and torn American flag which flutters today in the breezes from the staff over the tower on the Maryland State Normal School will be replaced tomorrow (Sunday) by a new one presented by John Eager Howard Council, Junior Order American Mechanics, of Towson.

The Auditorium of the institution will be the scene of unusually interesting exercises at 3 P. M., and the gathering will be a most imposing one, for seven neighboring councils have accepted an invitation to be present, sending large delegations in full regalia with banners. BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

Readers of The Jeffersonian will not be surprised to learn that whenever we print anything derogatory to the Ku Klux Klan we receive a number of vituperative and threatening rejoinders, all of which are anonymous.

We mention the fact not because we consider it important of through any sense of martyrdom, but simply to set our friends in the Klan right on one point, and that is that the Editor of The Jeffersonian is not a Catholic, a Jew, nor has he negro blood in his veins.

Indeed, every member of The Jeffersonian staff might become a member of the Klan in good standing and possibly in time a King Kleagle, a Cyclops or a Buzzard, if it were not for one or two slight mental disqualifications. One of these is a sense of humor; the other a sense of fair play. Yea, but for these we should probably Hiram Johnson Says Intrigue And Deceit Are Being Used Against His Candidacy.

(Special to The Jeffersonian)

Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California, opened his campaign for the Republican Presidential preference in Michigan at Grand Rapids by demanding a housecleaning in the Republican party.

He argued that his candidacy is being combated with fraud and deceit. He cited the instance in Michigan when a Hiram Johnston was named as a candidate "to confuse the voters." Johnston, he assured his audience, was a mythical figure. He declared that in North Dakota every effort is being made to keep Senator La Follette's name on the ballot, although the Wisconsin Senator has asked it be withdrawn.

"This sort of thing is encountered everywhere," he declared. "Those who attempt to defraud the public commit an offense against the citizenry. Every conceivable effort is being made by certain leaders to impair the other candidacies, because they fear the smash of the Republican machine in 1924. It is necessary to clean house in the Republican

GIVES POLICE CLUE

Brother Of Policeman's Slayer Admits Giving Food And Clothing To Kin.

Walter Schmidt, who lives on a farm near Colgate, was quizzed by county police yesterday (Friday) and divulged information which it is expected will lead to the arrest of his brother, Leon Schmidt, who is alleged to have slain Patrolman Frank Latham of the Baltimore City Police Department.

Schmidt admitted he had supplied his brother with food and clothing, but denied knowing his present whereabouts.

Information gathered by the police revealed the fact that Leon Schmidt, the alleged slayer, was engaged in the bootleg business and had many friends among farmers, and it is believed one is sheltering him.

YOU CAN HELP.

"Why, I never saw anything in The Jeffersonian about it" is a familiar phrase heard by Baltimore County people upon being told of some event of which they had not heard, yet they never go farther, never take time to understand that it is an impossibility for members of The "Jeff's" staff to be here, there and everywhere to grab a bit of worth-while news.

Hence we feel urged to request every resident to make himself or herself useful in their individual neighborhoods by either telephoning or writing us, giving items of interest.

No matter whether the item appears important to you or not it is sure to interest a portion of our many readers.

By such co-operation folks will not only help us to give Baltimore county a better newspaper, but will be rendering their section a great service.

It's worth while—so "shoot" us every item that comes to your attention regardless of how much or how little interest you may consider it.
