WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1897.

Among the leading Republicans of Maryland a number desire to succeed Mr. Gorman in the United States Senate. We hope the Republican members of the Legislature will ascertain who is best fitted to represent the State in that august body and then elect him. We want no figure heads in the National Senate from this commonwealth, which was once represented by some of the ablest statesmen in the country.

The proposition of the Maryland State School Commissioners Association to petition the Legislature to amend the free schoolbook law in such manner as to give a more just and equal distribution of the book tax-fund, is eminently worthy the attention of, and prompt action by, the law making power. We do not, however, yield the same assent to the proposition favoring an increase in the State school tax, without changing the law for its distribution. By the State tax now imposed Carroll and others of the larger counties and Baltimore city already contribute a considerable sum toward the education of the children in the weaker counties. It is manifestly unfair to enlarge this contribution. Some of the counties which obtain a larger share of the State school tax than the amounts paid into the treasury by them, are able to maintain their schools four terms, while Carroll, for lack of funds, can continue hers but three terms. The additional tax would scarcely be sufficient to add another term, after a portion of the proceeds should have gone to other counties. Speaking for this county alone, therefore, we are averse to the unqualified increase in the State school tax recommended by the School Commissioners Association. We do, however, favor the maintenance of the schools for four terms, and the funds should be provided for that purpose by the county directly and not through a discounted State tax. If the Legislature is to be petitioned to require increased taxation for the support of the schools let it be provided that each county shall receive the full amount paid into the treasury for that purpose.

TO STOP ELECTION BRIBERY.

While the statutes of Maryland prohibit the bribery of voters and provide penalties for their violation, the laws are so framed that it is next to impossible to detect and convict any one who transgresses their provisions, and hence crimes of that character have become common in almost every part of the State. There are, however, signs that the public conscience is becoming aroused on the subject and is demanding legislation that may be made effective in preventing the continuance of a practice that is not only at war with the first principles of republican government, but is dangerous to the very structure of such government. The grand jury of Charles county, probably impressed with the difficulty of obtaining evidence in such cases under existing statutes, has recommended the passage of a law that can be enforced. The recommendation should be heeded. People are too apt to lose interest in the subject, except for a brief period about election times, when their attention is called to it afresh by occurrences which give ground for suspicion, if not of absolute certainty, that bribery is being practiced, to a greater or less extent, to influence the suffrages of voters. But when grand juries begin to take cognizance of it there is hope that interest will not be ephemeral and that a just sense of the vicious nature of the crime will last long enough to prompt legislators to give it sufficient attention to devise some means to supply an effective corrective. The SENTINEL will endeavor to do its share towards keeping a sense of the necessity of reformation in this matter fully alive. Will not our brother Republican editors take up the subject and press it home upon the attention of people and legislators, until public sentiment shall have crystalized into a demand, for proper legislation, that will not be denied?

The Republican party has already brought about some important and valuable reforms in Maryland. It will be the party's crowning glory to provide legislation that will effectually destroy the monstrous iniquity of election bribery.

Mayor Malster, of Baltimore, in a brief message to the City Council, recommended, in a terse but emphatic way, the passage of an ordinance to create a commission which shall "consider, devise, frame and submit to the Legislature of Maryland at its next session a draft of a new charter for the city of Baltimore." The council acted promptly upon the recommendation, passed the ordinance and the mayor promptly appointed President Daniel C. Gilman, of Johns Hopkins University, Ex-Gov. Wm. Pinkney Whyte, Ex-Mayor F. C. Latrobe, Samuel D. Schmucker and George R. Gaither, who will act in conjunction with City Solicitor Thomas Ireland Elliott, City Councilor Thomas G. Hayes and City Attorney Lewis Putzel in the preparation of a draft of the new charter. The commission is non-partizan.

Governor Lowndes has appointed as representatives of the state in the Prison Congress, which meets at Austin, Texas, December 2 to 6, Goldsborough S. Griffith, of Baltimore; William D. Slack, of Jessups; John F. Weyler, Baltimore; Dr. George H. Robe, of Sykesville; Dr. J. Percy Wade.

Mayor Malster, of Baltimore, has appointed Capt. George W. Johnson, a well known Grand Army man and ex-department commander of this State, clerk on his personal staff.

Mr. George J. Appold, a wealthy leather merchant of Baltimore, and the president of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company, died at his residence, No. 1026 North Charles street, on Tuesday aged seventy-eight years.

M. P. BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

The following report of the quadrennial meeting of the Board of Publication of the Methodist Protestant Church is from the Baltimore American of Monday:

"The quadrennial meeting of the Board of Publication of the Methodist Protestant Church was held Saturday in the rooms of the Bible Society, Charles street, near Lexington. This society has entire control of the publishing interests of the church, and all church publications are required to have its imprimatur. Mr. J. G. Clark presided, and Captain W. P. Herbert was secretary. The members of the board are as follows: Mr. W. K. Gillespie, Rev. Dr. John Scott, Mr. W. H. Sivitor, Rev. Dr. W. S. Cairns, Captain W. P. Herbert, representing the Pittsburg directory, and Mr. J. G. Clark, Dr. J. T. Murray, Mr. Daniel Baker, Dr. J. W. Hering, and Rev. Dr. F. T. Little, representing the Baltimore directory. The following, who are officially connected with the society, were present: Mr. U. S. Fleming and Rev. Dr. J. F. Cowan, of Pittsburg; and Mr. W. J. C. Dulaney and Rev. Dr. F. T. Tagg. All those present took dinner at the Carrollton.

"Several important matters were considered. Much of the morning session was taken up with a consideration of the recommendation of the last General Conference, held at Kansas City, in May, 1896, that a revision and publication of the church hymnal be made, including a general index and other changes that may seem feasible. This new hymnal will include a number of new hymns and psalms, most of the music will be changed or revised, a considerable number of old hymns will be excluded, and a ritual of the church will be added. No small part of the work has already been accomplished, and the whole matter was placed in the hands of a committee that will report back to the board. It is thought that the committee will finish its work in about twelve months, when the new hymnal will be published. The committee is as follows: Rev. Drs. John Scott, J. T. Murray, F. T. Little, T. H. Lewis, Dr. J. W. Hering, W. K. Gillespie and U. S. Fleming.

"The board passed upon the work of the committee on the revision of the new catechism. It was decided to publish the new catechism as revised. The publication will be made in a few months at the Baltimore branch. The society sanctioned the publication of a quarterly for use in Sunday schools, which will be published at the Pittsburg branch. It was also decided to admit a limited number of unobjectionable advertisements in the Teachers' Sunday School Journal, a quarterly publication. The Sunday school literature was found to be in good shape, and the condition of both publishing houses—Pittsburg and Baltimore—was satisfactory."

The first annual meeting of the Maryland Conference of Charities and Correction was held at McCoy Hall, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, on Monday and Tuesday of this week, Mr. Elisha H. Perkins, president of the conference and of the Board of Trustees of the Poor, of Baltimore, presiding. Governor Lowndes made the introductory speech at the opening of the meeting and was followed by President Gilman, of the Johns Hopkins University. Mayor Malster was unable to be present and Mr. Eugene Levering spoke for him. Senator J. W. Hering, of this city, also made an address of a congratulatory character. The proceedings were of great interest and much valuable information was given by the various addresses and the discussion which occupied the sessions of the conference after the formal opening.

The large furniture establishment of William H. Scott—Great Scott—Howard street, Baltimore, was destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon. About twenty customers, principally ladies, in addition to the staff of salesmen and other employes, were in the building when the fire broke out, and the flames spread with such rapidity that it was only by great difficulty that heavy loss of life was prevented. As it was, one customer, a lady, perished in the building. She had left her home in Baltimore only half an hour before. Her name was Mrs. Susan E. Maxon, and she leaves a husband and nine-year-old daughter. Only the presence of mind and bravery of salesmen prevented several other ladies from sharing the same sad fate. Mrs. Maxon's body was recovered. The loss is estimated at $100,000, with an insurance of $81,000.

Two cars on the Baltimore and Glyndon Electric Railway, collided near Pikesville, on Sunday, and Wm. F. Horner and Daniel Merrick, the motormen, were both killed, while the conductors and some of the passengers were more or less injured, but none of them fatally. The accident occurred through disobedience of orders on the part of Motorman Merrick, who did not lay his car at a switch as he had been directed to do until the car of which Mr. Horner was motorman had passed. Merrick was running his car at full speed, in a dense fog, when the crash occurred with terrific force. Mr. Horner was a brother-in-law of Mr. George A. Miller, of this city.

The present game law gives land-owning hunters any amount of worry and vexation along the dividing line of Frederick and Carroll counties. Sams Creek divides the counties, and also many of the farms. Last month they went over the creek to shoot on their Carroll land, and the birds flew over to Frederick. This month they can hunt in Frederick, and the birds fly back to Carroll, where the season closed on the 3rd. Smart birds, these. Must have procured a copy of the game laws.

The apple crop about Hancock has proved to be almost as valuable as the wheat crop, notwithstanding the farmers claim the apple yield was little more than half. About 2,500 barrels, or 7,500 bushels, will be shipped from Hancock.

Samuel Butts, in charge of the pumping station at the Western Maryland Railroad bridge at Cherry Run, reports many dead fish floating down the Potomac river, caused by the bad condition of the water.

Eugenia Kirby, aged twelve years, daughter of Thomas Kirby, was accidentally shot in the forehead by a young son of J. Randolph Groves, in Howard county, last week.

Mr. William H. Utler, dealer in lumber, coal and wood, died at his late home, at Glyndon, on Saturday, after an illness of three days, aged about thirty-five years. He leaves a widow, one son and one daughter.

Thomas Boone's carriage-house, barn and stabling, with contents, including horses, mules, carriages, wagons, feed and implements, on Marley Creek, Anne Arundel county, were destroyed by fire last week.

A ten-million dollar fire occurred in London, Eng., the latter part of last week.
