BRUCE QUITS SENATE FLOOR IN BONUS DEBATE—RESENTS CRITICISM AFTER SPEECH.

Insists War Stipend Would Be Illogical, Going Into Patriotic And Economic Phase Of Problem—Senator Caraway, Of Arkansas, Makes Bitter Reply.

(From the Washington Correspondent of The Jeffersonian.)

Apparently angry after he was criticised on the floor of the Senate just after he had concluded a speech in which he set forth his opposition to the proposed soldiers' bonus, Senator William Cabell Bruce of Maryland, left the Chamber while Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, was speaking.

"I should like to have the Senator remain," Senator Caraway said, "but I do not blame him for not doing so."

Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, said he would like to make a statement before the Maryland Senator went out, but Senator Bruce did not wait.

Senator Caraway declared that Senator Bruce "wants to be counted among the first to defend the Jack Dempseys and the other people who stayed out of the trenches and to condemn, with all the odium that language can convey, the soldiers who are willing to die that he and his children after him might live."

Senator Bruce said the proposed Federal soldier bonus is not only indefensible in principle, but that, as a measure of practical relief, it would be most illogical and unequal in th edistribution of its benefits.

It still remains to be seen, he said, whether a majority of former service men favor a bonus.

PLANS OWN HOME.

Towson Hghts. Bldg. Asso. New Owners Of Property On York Road.

A transaction of interest in local real estate circles is the acquisition on Tuesday of this week of the Peterson property on the west side of York Road between Chesapeaks and Pennsylvania avenues by the Towson Heights Building Association. The property has a frontage of 56 feet by a depth of about 130 feet, and is ideally situated for business purposes.

Plans have been prepared for a temporary structure on the north side of the lot, to be used as an office by the Association. Mr. Peterson, however, will continue to occupy the store and residence now on the property until the expiration of his lease, which has about a year to run.

Plans for the final development of the property contemplate the razing of the present buildings, and the erection of a permanent substantial building, occupying the entire lot, to be used for business puroses. The home of the Association will be located on the ground floor of the new building.

TOWSON MAN PAROLED

David J. Kennedy, Convicted With Him, Gets Two Years In "Cut."

James J. Franke, of Towson, convicted with David D. Kennedy, of Baltimore City,on charges of forgery and embezzlement, was paroled in a city court, while Kennedy was given 2 years in the House of Correction.

There were 14 indictments against the two men. Kennedy, who is an attorney, was accused of defrauding the National Bank of Baltimore and the Belt Automobile Indemnity Association of Chicago. One of the charges against him being made by Mrs. Emma Schlisser, of Towson, who stated he obtained $400 from who stated he obtained $400 for her he made no return.

MAN BADLY INJURED

Stumbles Crossing Railroad Track—Heard Something Whiz By And That's All.

Battered and bleeding and unable to tell what had happened to him, Clarence Whitely, twenty-five, Chesaco Park, was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore City, by Jefferson Curran, also of Chesaco Park.

Whitely, when he regained consciousness, told physicians the last he remembered was stumbling as he crossed the railroad tracks in Chesaco Park. He said he had a vague remembrance of something whizzing by him as he huddled in a ditch along the tracks.

Curran found Whitely several hours after the accident.

S. BALDWIN DEAD.

Operator Of Old Warren Cotton Duck Mills Succumbs In 91st Year.

Death claimed Summerfield Baldwin, aged 91 years.

Prior to the city's acquiring Warren for a portion of the Loch Raven water-shed, Mr. Baldwin operated the cotton duck mills in that village, which he established in 1864, and made it his summer home.

At one time he ran for Governor of Maryland on the Prohibition ticket and was the first president of the Brush Electric Light Company, which first introduced the arc and incadescent lighting system in this community.

Mr. Baldwin was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and served 40 years as lay delegate to its general conferences, and for a number of years was president of the Board of Trustees of Goucher College.

Until about three weeks ago he was able to be about, although his health has been failing for a year or more.

MOTHER SEEKS AID FROM COUNTY POLICE TO FIND SON WHO LEFT HOME.

Worried deeply by the disappearance of her son, George P. Miller, 16 years old, Mrs. J. E. Slade has written a letter to Marshal Stansbury, head of the Baltimore County Police Department, asking aid in her search for her boy. According to his mother, the boy left home about Thanksgiving time because of disagreements with his stepfather.

Mrs. Slade said she last heard from the boy December 3, when he telegraphed her from Wilmington, Del., that he would not return to his home. Mrs. Slade said she believes he is afraid to come home because he believes he will be sent to a reformatory. Mrs. Slade said she would be only too glad to have him back. home.

The boy is described as five feet nine inches tall, auburn hair, brown eyes and appears to be about 20 years old. He weighed about 170 pounds, Mrs. Slade said. The Slades live at 1321 West Fayette street, Baltimore.

WELL! WELL! LOOK WHO'S HERE.

205 DEMOCRATS AND 17 PROGRESSIVES LINE UP LIKE STONE WALL, DEFEATING MELLON PLAN

Measure Was Bold And Bare-Faced Attempt To Load Still More Of The Burdens Of Rich On Shoulders Of Middle Classes—Represents Great Victory For People.

(From the Washington Correspondent of The Jeffersonian.)

It was a grand sight that argued well for the future of the country when 205 Democrats and 17 Progresssive Republicans lined up like a stone wall in the House and defeated the Mellon plan, which was a bold and bare-faced attempt to load still more of the burdens of the rich on the shoulders of the middle classes. It should be borne in mind that every man of the 222 Representatives had been subjected for two months to a continual barrage of heavy artillery fire directed from the bomb-proofs of the entrenched wealth of Wall Street with its intricate and innumerable extensions. From the headquarters of J. P. Morgan & Co., out to the allied and associate banks of the great cities, through them to their correspondent banks, through these to their customers, more than a million persons were induced to write or wire or talk to their Representatives in favor of the Mellon plan, urging and even bullying them to vote for a measure which would bring great benefits to Morgan, Rockefeller, Mellon and a few thousands of the richest men in the country, and very small good to the remainder of the people. A lover of his country can take heart and hope from the fact that 222 Representatives resisted the concentrated attack of great wealth and its duped auxiliaries and gave the people (so far as one House could give) a tax reduction measure that will give a great and real relief to all taxpayers who pay on a few thousands of income, a good saving to those who might be termed wealthy, and a moderate serving to the rich and very rich. Under the Democratic plan (patriotically supported by 17 Progressive Republicans) single men are relieved of all tax on net income of $2,000 and married men without children on net income of $3,000, with additional exemption of $400 for each child under 18 years, with

WANTS RESIGNATION.

Senators Lodge And Pepper Urge Coolidge To Request Daugherty To Quit.

(From the Washington Correspondent of The Jeffersonian.)

The Tea Pot Dome is still boiling, Secretary of the Navy Denby has quit his post as the outcome of the oil scandal and now President Coolidge has been told by two leaders of the Republican Party that it is practically the unanimous decision of members of his party in the Senate that Attorney-General Daugherty should resign or be asked to, at least.

This step, taken primarily in the interest of the party in power, but also to partly restore public confidence, shaken by the oil exposure, was reluctantly carried to the White House after a conference of Old Guard leaders. At this conference it was decided that the Republican Party could no longer safely carry the burden of the attacks upon the Attorney-General's office, which have come with new vigor since the resignation of Denby a few days ago.

MRS. HELEN E. WISNER FILES BILL FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE.

Mrs. Helen E. Wisner, by Attorney H. Courtenay Jenifer, filed a bill for separate maintenance in the Circuit Court at Towson against her husband, Halbert C. Wisner, whom she accuses of cruelty and failure to properly provide for her. The bill states that the parties were married February 20, 1915, and that they separated in May, 1922. Judge Walter W. Preston signed an order upon the bill requiring the husband to pay his wife $10 a week for her maintenance and support, and a $50 fee to her attorney, unless cause to the contrary be shown by February 29.

JAIL-BREAKER NABBED.

Sheppard McCoy, who, with six other prisoners broke out of the Towson Jail on the night of July 14, 1919, was arrested in Cleveland, Ohio, according to a telegram reaching Baltimore county authorities.

McCoy was awaiting trial on charges of false pretense when he vamoosed. All now have been apprehended except Geo. White.

Deputy Sheriff Hiram W. Brown will leave for Cleveland today to bring the man here to face the charge of jailbreaking, he being indicted by the grand jury after his sudden departure.

ASKS CUSTODY OF CHILD

Towson Woman Petitions Court For Separate Maintenance From Husband.

Mrs. Russell Steuart Considine, of Towson; H. Courtenay Jenifer and James P. Kelley, her attorneys, has filed a bill in the Circuit Court here against her husband, John T. Considine, Jr., in which she asks for the custody of their infant child, John T. Considine 3rd, and separate maintenance for herself and child.

The bill states that the parties were married December 24, 1912, and that the plaintiff became nervously derange as a result of childbirth in February, 1915, and did not fully regain her health until May, 1923. For more than two years past, it is alleged, Mr. Considine has lived an adulterous life with Helen Marshall, on Oak avenue, Pimlco, and during that time his father and mother have had the custody of the infant child of the partiess.

Judge Walter W. Preston signed an order upon the bill requiring the defendant to pay his wife $50 a month alimony and $200 to her counsel, unless cause to the contrary be shown by March 10.
