WHO SAYS THE CAVEMEN WERE HARDER THAN THEIR DESCENDANTS?—Couple clad in bathing suits in which they flung defiance to Jack Frost while skating in almost zero weather on the Schlachtensee in the vicinity of Berlin.

Wide World Photos

IN ORIENTAL REGIONS OF ICE AND SNOW—Lake Louise resort in the Canadian Rockies, one of the beauty spots of the North American Continent, symbolic lighted by the magic country of the Winter King.

Courtesy Canadian Pacific

SEAL VALUED AT $50,000.—Talking seal, which has just been brought to the United States, kissing his trainer, Marcello. The seal is so gifted and such a source of income to its owner that a policy for the above mentioned amount has been taken out for it, covering every contingency of accident, illness or death.

International

TOUCH—Touch is the specialty characteristic of Henry Wolcott, 15 years old, who, though having no arms, has made such a gallant fight against that tremendous handicap that he has learned to draw and gives promise of becoming an excellent artist.

International

GETS BATH IN STAFF OWN BAPTISM.—Assuming a strong, strong Lady (left) gives her son Jerry a scrubbing and rinse at the [illegible] sprinkled herself in the process, though nothing is spoiled, as she had donned her bathing suit for the occasion.

International

© Maryland State Archives mdsa_sc3410_1_81-0739.jpg