CORPORAL WHITE'S LETTER.

Following is the letter of Corporal J. Clinton White referred to in last week's SENTINEL:

MY DEAR ——:

I dropped you a note from Chatanooga telling you of our safe arrival there. We found a troop train wrecked in front of us, with some soldiers killed and wounded, the track covered with debris. We had to leave our train, and marched 13½ miles between 3 and 7 o'clock that evening, carrying all accoutrements that weighed at least 50 pounds, yet there were but few that fell out of the ranks.

We passed three Mass. soldiers whose troops were just ahead of us. These three died of over-exertion or exhaustion.

That night (Saturday) we camped in a wood with the sky for covering. My supper consisted of hardtack and black coffee with two onions I stole from the colonel. Sunday morning we got up at 5 o'clock, had a breakfast of hardtack, canned beef and black coffee, after which we marched to our present situation in the midst of a deep forest.

Sunday we spent in putting up tents and laying off camp. To-day (Monday) we cleaned the company streets of leaves, bushes, etc., and swept them, so now we are fairly fixed, but far from the comforts of Pimlico. We sleep on the ground, water is one mile distant, food bad and what a great many will feel—discipline strick. Yet despite all this, the boys are quite happy. My health is excellent and stood the march O. K. I could have had my knapsack hauled in the baggage wagon as a good many did, but determined to take a soldier's life as it comes, so I carried it.

Here we are in the midst of summer, trees in full leaf, flowers blooming—the air hot.

Tho trip down was something fine—we crossed over many of the battlefields of the late war. Crossing the mountains the scenery was grand. At Round Knob, N. C., the railroad winds around the mountain, mounting higher and higher until at last we reach the top, then like a streak we dash down crossing Biltmore estate near enough to see the house and quite near the managers' houses. All about this part of the trip the scenery was wildly magnificent. The mountains rising in successive ridges until they sink away in a misty haze. Sometimes they shot up in bare bald bluffs, so high you could not see the top. Chickamauga Park in parts is a thing of beauty. Where the battle was fought there are monuments raised to the different corps and many iron tablets stating what particular action took place at that point. Outside the park—for the park does not contain all the battlefield—the Confederates have raised a fine Cavalry monument. Oll over it (the park) runs stone roads, but in parts, as where we are, the woods are but roughly cleaned, yet nearer Chatanooga it is like Druid Hill Park, as are also the lawns. This is because the battle took place there, and we are not camping on the battle-ground proper but two miles beyond. Basil Owings and John Parsons, a fellow of fine family from St. Mary's county, are my tent mates. Walter and I had to separate as both had squads assigned to us. Our reception on the way south was a continued ovation; crowds out to see and cheer us. I gave all my buttons off my coat to the pretty southern girls. We were deluged with flowers and good wishes. The southern people everywhere have a warm spot for the 5th.

My best regards to all my old friends—and tell them that the 5th Md. U. S. Vol. will uphold the honor of old Maryland.

When a fire alarm after 10 o'clock brings out a lot of women, it is understood by the men that they are whist players, and stopped in the midst of the game.

When a boy gets hold of a bull dog, he wants it to be mean and resents the efforts of his sisters to spoil its disposition by petting it.

When a fakir comes to town, and excuses any particular citizen from contributing to his scheme, the citizen cheerfully assists in working his neighbors.

The more heart we put into a hard task, the lighter our toil becomes.

On Rag Carpeting.

There is an age of progression in rag carpets, as in the more elaborate works of life. One may even go into the mountains and learn many new things. There the old women, who for years have been carpet-weavers, no longer sew their woollen and cotton strips together for their rag balls but follow an ingenious method of slip-knotting two ends together.

Cut the rags in strips about one-half inch broad. Snip near each end of each strip a little slit or opening large enough for a rag strip to slip through. Place the slits of two strips to be joined one over the other; take the opposite end of one of them and pass it through both slits; pull the loop together gently and firmly; then it holds as thread never can. The mountaineers of Maryland use this plan in preference to the old-time style with satisfaction.

Extremely pretty rugs for the bath-room are made by having balls of white cotton strips woven upon a blue thread. These rugs should be three yards in length, and have fringe of the blue thread at each end.

They wash easily, and are very pretty, and quite repay the trouble of cutting up all the old bits of white cotton which would otherwise descend to the rag-bag.

But all these simple fashions are not to be mentioned in connection with the beautiful "catalon" made by the weavers in Quebec. They manufacture the most beautiful and artistic carpets or hangings out of cotton scraps, and it is well to know, now that there is so much travel into the Queen's dominion in summer, that the Quebec weavers will work up for a trifling price any quantity of colored cotton into beautiful designs. It is not necessary either that the cotton goods shall be prepared into strips for them, as there is no additional charge for cutting and piecing out the balls. Quebec also makes a specialty of silk portieres, and its workers take the utmost pains in their combination of colors. Rag carpeting has been called native American tapestry, and sometimes in out-of-the-way corners one comes upon an unexpected display of native taste.—Harper's Bazar.

Sin of Omission.

"There is such a thing as overdoing your part," declared a man of the law who now has the knowledge gained by much experience.

'Shortly after I began to practice in the West I was called upon to defend a man who had drawn a revolver on another and threatened to kill him. The accused did not have a character above reproach, but the prosecuting witness was also shabby in reputation, and I made the most of this fact. I pictured him as a desperado of the most dangerous type, a man that was a constant menace to the community and one who would recognize no other law than that of force. Such men as he, I insisted, made necessary the organization of vigilance committees and injured the fair name of the west among the older communities of the country.

"The jury returned a verdict of guilty and my man was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. As soon as court adjourned the foreman of the jury came to me and said: 'Young feller, you spread it on too thick. After that there rip-snortin' speech of yourn we couldn't do nothin' else 'an what we done.'

"'I don't understand you sir?'

"'You don't? Why, we found the gent loot guilty 'cause he didn't shoot.''

A number of Kansas families, who live near the churches, have organized a society for debating purposes. Their first subject will be: Is God Hard of Hearing?

There is no pathway through life that does not have some roses in it.

Our names are given to us, but our lives give them their meaning.

Those who lean upon their dignity are in need of a better support.

of getting Glasses:
ONE,
to go to a first-class optician, have your eyes properly tested and get what you need;
THE OTHER,
to go to a merchant who keeps spectacles, make a "grab in the bag," as it were, get a pair that don't fit you (although it may seem so for the moment), run the risk of ruining your eye-sight entirely, and all for a very small difference in expense

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!
I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the Finest and Cheapest Lines of
WALL PAPER
ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. If you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

WALLPAPER!
Up to date Paper Hangers and Wall Paper Dealers. We don't claim to be the only firm in the county that carries a stock of
WALL PAPER,
but we are, as everybody knows, the largest dealers. We buy goods direct from the factory just as cheap as these New York Wall Paper Stores that say they give you Paper at 3 cts. per piece. We do the same and you DON'T pay any FREIGHT.
It costs more to do business in a large city and they don't give goods away and live at the same time. We WORK AS CHEAP
as any of the Paper Hangers, when you take quality of goods into consideration, and have best facilities for doing so. We are prompt. We carry a line of CHEAP READY MADE WINDOW SHADES,
from 10 cts. to 50 cts. Also make them to order. Look us up. Examine our goods and you will then come to the conclusion that we are up to the times. Work done anywhere in the county without extra charge.
