LIFE JOBS FOR POSTMASTERS

Congress has decided postmasters in first, second and third class offices shall become "career men" and may hold their jobs for life.

Legislation extending the Civil service to these offices, previously filled largely by political appointees, was enacted.

The bill would permit incumbent postmasters to retain their posts by taking a non-competitive Civil Service examination when their present four-year term ends.

Otherwise, if a vacancy occurs, the postmasters will be appointed by the President from among the three persons making the highest grade of a competitive Civil Service examination. The Senate must confirm these appointments, which will be for life.

Welfare Budget

The Midland Journal

Rising Sun, Md.

Gentlemen:

At a joint meeting of the Cecil County Welfare Board and County Commissioners held to discuss the budget of the Welfare Board for the year 1938-39, it was estimated that from $10,000. to $12,000. would be needed during the year to assist unemployables, that is, those unfortunate citizens who through physical or mental handicap are unable to work and have no other means of supporting themselves. The County Commissioners in their budget for the year 1938-39 approved $5,000. for this purpose. We sincerely hope that the County commissioners are correct in their estimate of the needs.

However, at the present time there is being expended for this type of person $500. a month which means that with very careful planning the amount granted by the Commissioners would take care of our present needy unemployables. The number in need of relief during the Summer months is always considerably lower than the number in Winter, since we are able to secure more help from relatives and friends in the form of vegetables and farm products. In Winter the cost is higher due to the necessity for supplying fuel and greater possiblility of there being sickness in the families.

This lettle is written merely to inform the citizens of our County that the Welfare Board has attempted to estimate the need of the unemployables within the County for the coming year and that they have forwarded their estimate to the Commissioners for action. Under the Act as passed by the last Legislature we cannot expect any help from the State for this type of relief until May, 1939, so, that any sums for general public assistance must come from the County Commissioners.

Very truly yours
Peirre N. LeBrun,
Chairman.
