Harney Items.

The frequent showers we have had the past week have been very good for the corn and if they continue we will have a good crop. Farmers are well on with their plowing and in many places are done. Fruit of all kinds is scarce.

A great many persons from this neighborhood attended the Adams County C. E. Convention, which was held at Round Top this year. There were a great many people present and the exercises were very good. One of the principal attractions was Professor and Mrs. Lowe, of Philadelphia, who had charge of the singing. Another interesting part of the exercises was Rev. D. F. Garland's "Echoes From Nashville."

Mrs. Lightner has given her barn a coat of paint which adds much to its appearance.

Letter From New Windsor.

MR. EDITOR:—Some weeks ago, when you were in our village, you commented favorably on the improvements in the place. The good work is still progressing. The poles for the electric light wires are all planted and they are beauties. The new plant, consisting of a 20-horse power engine, with a 250-light dynamo and storage battery, will be installed in a few weeks. Of the capacity of the Artesian well all are perfectly satisfied, as from five to ten thousand gallons of water has been pumped daily during the 40 days drought, with plenty more down there. The people who use water do so as though it would only last for that day and to keep some one else from getting more than his or her share they use all they can and waste what they can't use. Street wash hose are seen in the back-yard, after night, and the gardens in some cases have suffered little or none from the dry weather; they will find it all in the bill. The company are glad they struck a plentiful supply of water.

The town is improving slowly. Mr. James T. Lambert has built a beautiful residence, and Mr. N. H. Baile has added a back building to his home, as has also Mr. J. Wm. Snader. Mr. Nusbaum has improved his residence with a bay window and bath room and will heat his house with hot water, as will also Mr. Lambert and Mr. Baile.

The college will open September 14. Rev. Mr. Nourse, of Manasses, Va., of Washington Presbytery, will move into the college with his wife and daughter and will take charge as dean of the faculty. I understand the prospects for a school are flattering. Dr. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Dielman and Mr. Crapster are expected to remain, Mr. and Mrs. Dielman having accepted the proposition to do so. They are excellent teachers and beloved by the pupils and we trust the year will be a prosperous one for the college.

The health of the community is good. Some of our oldest citizens, while affected by the warm weather, are comfortable. Among them are: Mr. Samuel Hoffman, aged 86 years, Dr. Jesse Lambert, 84, and Mr. James Devilbiss, 85, the latter of whom has driven to see us once or twice a week. He lives at Uniontown, but we claim him.

Dry weather has been hard on gardens, potatoes and early corn fields. Late corn may be more fortunate. Linwood camp meeting will commence on Friday, and a good rain in the meantime will be a blessing and it will come sometime during the week. It is expected that with good weather six thousand persons will be present on Sunday, and preparations are being made accordingly.

A Soldier's Letter.

The following letter is from Thomas D. Bowman, formerly of Tannery, this county, who is now serving in the United States Cavalry in Cuba. He has been detailed as an orderly to General Wheeler:

Province of Santiago de Cuba, July 9th, 1898.

Dear Mother:

I am alive and well, but what I have witnessed in the past week has been awful. I have seen men drop dead all around me, but I have escaped so far without a scratch, thank the Lord.

Jack Pouder was shot in the hand, but will soon be all right again.

I don't think there will be much more fighting here for we have them surrounded and expect they will surrender.

Would have written sooner but had no paper or envelopes, and could not have mailed them if I had had them.

Don't worry about me for I am all right.

From your son,
THOMAS D. BOWMAN.

Manchester Items.

The drought, that was so general in this section for a month or more, has been broken by the frequent showers of the last week, particularly those of Wednesday, which were regular pour downs, and the drooping vegetation has already taken on new life and growth, while the husbandman is busy plowing and arranging for his late seeding. Corn is short and pushing ears but may yet give more than an average crop, with favorable conditions during the coming fall.

Quite a number of persons from this section went to Pen-Mar to the Reformed re-union on Thursday last, greeted many friends who were present and enjoyed the fine address of Prof. Wm. Rupp, of Lancaster, a former pastor of this charge, who was the guest of Dr. John Dehoff and family, of York, Pa. The Lutheran friends had a gloomy morning for their excursion on the 28th inst., yet some few made the trip.

Marston Items.

On Saturday last the Marston Athletic Club defeated the Warfieldsburg baseball team on the grounds of the former. The game was called promptly at 2.30 and was witnessed by a large crowd of persons. Warfieldsburg led at the bat and retired with one run and the first inning was closed with six runs for the Marston boys. The feature of the game was the wonderful slugging of the Marston team, making 25 hits and as many runs and knocking two pitchers out of the box. The seventh inning proved very disastrous to the visitors, as their opponents scored twelve runs. The pitching of Byers and the catching of Sundergill were excellent; also the timely stick-work of W. Franklin, knocking a home run with the bases full.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Innings.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9 Tl
Warfieldsburg	1	1	3	0	0	0	4	2	1 12
Marston	6	0	1	2	3	1	1	2	1x 26

Another game will be played by the same teams on the Warfieldsburg ground, at an early date. The Marston team would be pleased to hear from any amateur team; Frizellburg or New Windsor preferred. Send challenges to A. Cover, Marston, Md.

On Saturday evening, as a two-horse Dayton of young folks, five in number, from this place and Unionville, was returning from a festival in New Windsor, a narrow escape was made from what might have been a serious accident. As they were ascending a hill just before reaching home, the team collided with another team which had been very thoughtlessly hitched in the road without room to pass. As it was along the edge of a wood is it was so dark that it was not known to be there until it was overthrown and the wheel struck the occupants of the passing team. The wheels were so entangled that it took sometime to get straightened out. No one was hurt seriously, though the ladies received slight bruises and scratches.

Were There Two of Them?

Two fish stories, very similar in some respects, are reported, one in this paper, and the other in the Catoctin Clarion, published at Thurmont. The Clarion's story is as follows:

L. Sykes of near Keysville while gigging the other night captured a carp that measured 34 inches from tip to tip and weighed over 16 lbs. The head when severed from the body weighed two lbs. and the scales were the size of a silver dollar. How is this for a big fish.

The SENTINEL told it this way:

Sherman Sites, of near Harney, Wednesday of last week gigged a carp which weighed 16 pounds and measured 34¾ inches in length.

As the distance from Keysville to Harney is six miles in an air line and a mile or two more by the public road these places are far enough apart for each to have its own story of a great fish, but approximate similarity in the size of the fish and the name of the fisherman, and actual similarity in the method of capture give rise to the suspicion that these are two stories about one fish. Will somebody explain.

Near Bloom P. O., July 19th, 1898, Harvey McKinley Byers, beloved son of David H. and Annie Byers, aged 1 year, 4 months and 10 days.

One less at home, one more in heaven.
The little crib is empty now,
The little clothes laid by.
A mother's hope a father's joy
In death's cold arms doth lie.

Go, little Harvey, to thy home,
On yonder blissful shore;
We miss the here, but soon we'll come,
Where thou hast gone before.

By his Mother and Father.

We had a little Harvey once,
He was our joy and pride,
We loved him, oh, perhaps too well,
For soon he suffered and died.

Now on the harp he is playing,
With our mother that went before,
Around the throne of God is saying
Dear Grandma I have come too.

By his aunt Josephine Frizzell.
