Will Speak At North East

The National Christian Mission will come to Cecil County next Sunday, November 24th, in the person of Edward Hume, M. D., who will speak in North East Methodist Church at 3 P. M.

Dr. Hume is one of the team of thirty nationally and internationally known speakers who will be in Baltimore during the week beginning November 24th. He comes to address a mass meeting of all the Churches of Cecil County.

The speaker is the director of the Christian Medical Council for overseas work, an agency established by misisonary societies of the United States and Canada.

Born in Ahmednager, India, of American parents. Dr. Hume was educated in the United States. He received his medical training at John Hopkins University. In various capacities he has served in medical work in the United States, India and China, and made trips through hospitals in North India. Arabia, Iraq, Syria, and Turkey.

Dr. Hume is a student of Chinese history and has translated western medical writing into Chinese.

The speaker comes to Cecil County under the sponsorship of the Cecil County Council of Churches, which is cooperating in the Baltimore National Christian Mission Program. All Churches of the County are urged to send delegations to this great mass meeting in North East.

CECIL COUNTY FARM BUREAU

One of the outstanding events the Cecil Farm Bureau members look forward to is the annual banquet, which for a number of years has been held in North East High school under the supervision of Mrs. George Hambilton and her capable assistants.

This year the banquet is held on Nov. 29th at 7 o'clock. The speakers for the occasion are Mr. R. N. Benjamin, President of Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, and Dr. Roger Corbett, Director of University of Maryland Experiment station, who has recently come from Connecticut to Maryland.

The group singing will be led by Mr. John B. Astle, with Mrs. Lloyd Wyker at the piano.

Those wishing to attend the banquet must have their reservations in early to Mr. John Reisler, Nottingham, Pa., or Mrs. Atlee Armour, North East, Md.

The central group of Cecil Farm Bureau, Mr. Murray Cameron, discussion leader met with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Simmers, on Tuesday, Nov. 12, with thirty-seven members and friends present.

A lively discussion on what is meant by a high standard of farm living, took most of the evening. Everyone present expressed their opinion freely on the subject and finally arrived at this decision. "That it was up to the individual farmer to have a standard that fit in with his scheme of living."

Delicious refreshments were served, after which meeting adjourned to meet in December.

Mrs. W. Atlee Armour attended a Luncheon and Meeting of the National Council for Mothers and babies at the Washington Hotel, Washington, D. C., on Nov. 15th as a representative of the Associated Women of the Maryland Farm Bureau.

Investigation of insurance companies worries policy holders. It seems they have more faith in the suspect than in the prosecutor.

Entertain Farm Group

The 9th district Farmers club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris, with the president, Mr. Howard Brown, presiding. Roll Call was answered by "What the club means to me." The secretary's report was read and approved. Sixty-two dollars was reported by the treasurer.

The president informed the group that the 25th anniversary committee had made arrangements with the Research Club to hold the Anniversary meeting at eleven o'clock on Wednesday, December 4. Invitations to the past members and present have been released.

Mr. J. B. Fassitt and Mr. R. E. Browder made reports on the National Livestock Show at Harrisburg. The County Agent, Mr. J. Z .Miller, reported on the Southern States Cooperative progam at Baltimore. The following inspection committee was appointed. T. K. McDowell, Ralph Wilson and William Reynolds.

The afternoon program was opened by community singing. A debt "Finlandia" was sung by Mrs. J. B. Fassitt and Miss Helen Irene Smith, Home Demonstration Agent. The trial and defense of democracy and christianity was vividly discussed by Mr. George Gifford, Principal of Calvert High School. He emphasized the point that if democracy is not worth living for, it is not worth dying for--that we need a nationally unity or revitalized patriotism.

The story of Anne Hutchinson was presented by Mrs. J. Z. Miller showing the struggles of those who had ideals in the early days. A brief picture of the story of Armistice from mother's view point was also given by Mrs. Miller.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL

The seventh annual Standard Leadership Training School for Cecil County will be held in the Methodist Church in North East on Monday and Thursday evenings through three weeks beginning November 25.

The school is sponsored by the Cecil County Council of Churches and Christian Education. Mr. J. Paul Slaybaugh, Head Master, West Nottingham Academy, is the Dean again this year. Rev. L. Irving Insley, Rector of St. Mary's Episcopol Church, North East, will be the devotional leader.

The following courses will be offered:

A brief survey of the Old Testament by Rev. George A. Burslem, D. D., Pastor of the Presbyterian Church at St. George's, Delaware.

How to Find and Use Course materials for Juniors by Mr. William C. Graham, Principal of Rising Sun High School.

Total Youth Program by Rev. Kenneth E. Walter, Pastor of the Port Deposit Presbyterian Church.

How to Administer the Sunday Church School by Rev. G. C. Cromwell, Pastor of the Havre de Grace Methodist Church.

The first course by Dr. Burslem is of the first series. It is not a credit course, but offered for those who wish to have a part in the training school and who are not especially interested in receiving a diploma. The other three courses are credit courses for which satisfactory completion of the requirements entitles all students to certificate of credit.

The ministers and church school superintendent of all the participating churches have been urged to appoint registrars in their own churches to handle the enrollment. The last minute opportunity for registration will be offered at 7:00 on Monday evening, November 25, for half an hour before courses begin.

Opportunity to participate in this school is not strictly limited to Cecil Countians but persons in Harford and Chester Counties would be welcomed.

ELKTON WOMAN HEADS FLORIDA HOSPITAL

Miss Evelyn K. Stewart, a resident of Elkton, has been named superintendent of Everglades Memorial Hospital, Pohokee, Fla., effective Dec. 1. Miss Stewart was former assistant superintendent of the Harford Memorial Hospital at Havre de Grace.

W. N. A. AND STONY BROOK TIE

Coming from behind in the fourth quarter, the West Nottingham Academy football team played to a 7-7 tie with Stony Brook School on Long Island last Saturday.

Stony Brook recovered a Maroon fumble on the Nottingham two-yard line early in the second period. Left half back John Ryder plunged over on the first play and John Deahl, the left end, place-kicked the extra point.

Thereafter, Ryder's magnificent bombing punts kept the Southerners at bay until late in the last quarter when they put on an 85-yard scoring drive. Bob Jenkins, Nottingham's freshman left half-back, pitched a clean strike to right end Charles Rider in the end zone for a touchdown. Quarterback Sonny Brousell, whose brilliant runs off-tackle were largely responsible for the advance, added the extra point from placement.

West Nottingham will entertain the cadets of Valley Forge M. A., whom they defeated 15 to 0 last year, in the season's finale at Colora next Saturday, Nov. 23.

THE PASSING OF MRS. SOPHIA J. NESBITT (NEE BROWN)

On October 29th, 1940

HER MEMORIAL

By Her Sister Rebecca Bean, Arthor and Publisher, New York City, and Los Angeles, California

PART III

And the last Memorial to her in our memory, has been built around her precious living children. Her two brave, manly sons and their wives; her two adopted daughters, their husbands and children, and her own two grand children.

Her husband's sister passed on in 1898, suddenly, and left Esther and Evelyn. Soon, within a few months the father passed away also. The evening he was buried, "Sophia and Will," just tucked the dear little orphans into their carriage and brought them along home. These dear girls were as precious as her own sons and were treated the same. Both are now married and have happy homes and children of their own. Mrs. Esther Gregg and her husband Monte, shed sorrowing tears as they stood at the bier with their three children. Evelyn and her two sweet daughters were bowed with grief as they looked upon the face of dear "Aunt Sophie" for the last time.

Walter S., her well loved and youngest son, was caught up in the draft in 1916,--went over seas, was wounded at Argonne, in France. He returned to bless his mother in her declining years. She passed on at his home, surrounded with friends, Walter and his loving mate,-Thresa.

Dear Raymond, has traveled much. He returned from the Hawia Islands just in time to attend to business matters and to be with his mother at the last. His first wife passed on, in 1929. Stella's passing weighed heavily on his mother. Janet, his second wife, is very ill, and could not attend his mother's funeral. Raymond's son, Robert is a Senior at The University of Alabama. He is an all round athlete and was honor student last year. Robert did not dare miss his classes, to come to his beloved grand mother's funeral, Edna Jane, Raymond's daughter could not miss her studies, either. She is a teacher at Columbia University, New York City, while studying for her degrees.

As we drove to the church, where we left Sophia, we passed by Stone monuments, great beautiful gate posts and stone walls, built by the hand of Master Stone Mason, our dearly loved and respected brother her husband, William J. Nesbitt, who passed on, in 1929. For miles on every highway in Maryland, and in Port Deposit, may be seen these monumnets, erected by his thought and hand. Truly these two worth while citizens, have built a perpetual Memorial, for posterity, in and around Colora, Cecil County, Maryland. Our Memorial will be continued.

REPORT OF CHURCH EDUCATIONAL COUNCIL

"The annual meeting of the Cecil County Council of Churches and Christian Education was held at Leeds Methodist Church on Thursday, November 14th, at 7:30 P. M. Rev. Joseph B. Dickerson, president of the Council, presided. Rev. Lucian L. Powell offered the opening prayer.

Reports were submitted by several of the Committee chairmen of the Council. Leadership Training—J. Paul Slaybaugh; National Christian Mission and Cecil County Mission—Dr. J. S. Venable. In the absence of the above Youth Committee chairman, John W. Lord, the Rev. George W. Goodley, Jr., made the report.

Then followed the report of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Goodley.

The nominating committee, Rev. Robert S. Hodgson, chairman, made its report. Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Rev. Henry T. Caldwell; 1st vice-pres., Rev. Kenneth E. Walter; 2nd vice-pres., Rev. Lucian L. Powell; Sec.-Treas., Rev. Evan W. Renne; Assistant Sec., Rev. Paul McCoy. The chairmen of Standing Committees: Worship and Evangelism, Rev. S. T. Hamblin; Social Education and Action, Rev. George W. Goodley, Jr.; Christian Education, Rev. J. B. Dickerson; Interdenominational Activities, Rev. L. Irving Insley. The chairmen of Departments: Children's Work, Miss Miriam Scarborough; Youth Work, John W. Lord; Adult Work, J. Paul Slaybaugh.

Rev. Joseph B. Dickerson, the retiring president of the Council, made several helpful suggestions concerning the future activities of the council.

The address of the evening was delivered by H. E. McBride, Superintendent of Public Schools of Cecil County. He brought a stimulating message on "Young Adult Education in the Local Church."
