REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,

WILLIAM B. BAKER,

OF HARFORD COUNTY.

Election Tuesday, Nov. 8th, 1898.

While it was announced, upon apparently reliable authority, that Justice White, of the Supreme Court, had consented to accept the appointment on the Peace Commission tendered by President McKinley, it transpires that he finally concluded to decline and Senator George Gray, of Delaware, has taken his place. The American members of the Commission will be fully advised by the President as to his views and wishes on such questions as can be foreseen as likely to require adjudication between the representatives of this country and Spain, at the Paris convention for the negotiation of peace; but there will be many details arising for consideration, upon which the Commissioners will be called to act without instructions. Senator Gray is well equipped for the delicate and important duties involved and will, doubtless, render a satisfactory account of his course to the American people in the premises when the work of the commission shall have been completed.

INCONSIDERATE CRITICISM.

While an investigation of any abuses which occurred in the treatment of private soldiers, or of inefficiency in the medical or commissary departments of the army during the war with Spain, is entirely proper, it must be borne in mind, in conducting it, that many of those upon whom the responsibility rested in these matters were entirely without experience in actual warfare and hence were unable to meet that responsibility in a creditable manner. Our army was largely improvised from the walks of civil life and time was necessary, not only to make the soldiers veterans, but to reduce all the machinery of active army life to a system. Those who saw and are old enough to remember the conditions which prevailed in the Federal armies, and in the hospitals, during the first year of the Civil war, will recall that there was vast room for improvement and that those conditions were very far from satisfactory. But the school of experience taught such lessons as wrought, after awhile, the most salutary changes and brought every department of the army service to a high degree of efficiency. The writer remembers distinctly that in the hospitals at Anapolis, during many months after the war began, invalid and wounded soldiers were, to a considerable extent, without such food as was fit for the sick, except as it was provided by patriotic citizens of the State Capitol and served, in numerous cases, by the ladies of their families. At its best the hospital service provided by the government was supplemented and improved greatly by the work of the Sanitary and Christian Commissions, which, after their organization, were continued to the close of the war.

It is more than probable that much suffering among the soldiers and, perhaps, many deaths, might have been prevented during our short war with Spain, if the conditions which had to be met and the difficulties in the way had been practically understood. All this will, no doubt, be and ought to be considered in the investigation which has been ordered by the President, and which will probably be as thorough and searching as it can be made. Inexperience may mitigate the culpability of much that deserves condemnation, and the American people should seek to be fair in their judgment of those upon whom difficult and trying tasks were imposed. Let them not be too ready to find fault.

The Democratic County Convention.

The convention of the Democratic party of this county, held at Odd Fellows' Hall, this city, on Monday, to send delegates to the Congressional nominating convention which met at Elkton on Wednesday, was a very tame affair, and was not in session over fifteen minutes. It was called to order by Mr. B. F. Crouse, chairman of the county central committee, who proposed Mr. Henry Galt, of Taneytown, as temporary chairman, and Mr. Orlando Reese, of Westminster, as temporary secretary, and both were elected. Mr. Crouse maintained a supervision of the proceedings up to adjournment. No committees were appointed. A representative of each district handed a list of its delegates to Mr. Crouse who turned them over to the secretary. Dr. Jos. T. Hering moved that the temporary officers be made permanent and the motion was adopted.

The chairman then announced that the convention would proceed to the election of five delegates to the Elkton convention, and the following were placed in nomination and ele ted by acclamation: Benjamin F. Crouse, of Westminster; J. Frank Baker, of Union Bridge; J. Oliver Murray, of Hampstead; David P. Smelser, of New Windsor, and Joseph H. Kain, of Mt. Airy. The convention then adjourned.

Of the sixty-five delegates elected at the primaries on Saturday only forty-five were present and the spectators in the hall were not numerous. A prominent delegate was overheard to remark that there was no inspiration about the convention.

The Republican Congressional convention of the Sixth District met in Frederick on Wednesday, but up to Thursday night had failed to nominate a candidate. Nearly twelve hundred ballots were taken without variation, the delegates from Garrett county voting for Ravenscroft, Allegany for Pearre, Washington for Stake, Frederick for Urner and Montgomery for Gould.

The American Peace Commissioners have received their final instructions, but, notwithstanding some newspapers have made their tenor public, it is safe to say that outside of the President, his Cabinet and the Commissioners, nothing is known concerning the matter, and that newspaper statements upon the subject are the purest guesswork. In relation to Cuba and the other West India Islonds it is fully known that they are to be abandoned by Spain, the peace protocol having so stipulated. Details of the manner of evacuation, Spanish responsibility for their indebtedness, &c., are questions to be adjudicated, but interest in them is entirely overshadowed by the question of the disposition to be made of the Philippine Islands. The problems involved in this portion of the duties of the Commission cannot be easily solved. It may be safely inferred, however, that the instructions to the American Commissioners in the matter are not of a castiron character, and that a conclusion may be reached at last upon such future developments as may yet take place in the premises.

BOTH DEFINITE AND EVASIVE.

The Democratic party in the Second Congressional District of Maryland, as represented at the Elkton convention on Wednesday, while practically pronouncing for free silver and free trade, is both definite and evasive on both those issues. On the money question it resolves as follows:

"That we are in favor of sound and honest money, the gold and silver money of the constitution, and the coinage of both metals, without discrimination against either, into standard dollars of final payment and redemption, at such a ratio as shall preserve the parity in value between the two metals."

This is a bold but really feeble attempt at a straddle. Everybody knows that to attempt the indiscriminate and unlimited coinage of silver at the prevalent ratio—16 to 1—means depreciation of silver money. To change the ratio by requiring the use of the same amount of metal in value, in gold and silver coinage, would at once cause the depreciation of the six hundred millions of silver dollars now in circulation to the intrinsic value of the metal contained in them. Hence any change of the present ratio is impracticable and the indiscriminate coinage of gold and silver impossible, unless the country is willing to carry a large quantity of depreciated money as part of its circulating medium. The Elkton convention would not have been heterodox on the money question to a greater extent than thus appears, if it had boldly declared for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1.

On the question of the tariff the convention had this to say:

"That while our foreign trade has increased in spite of the iniquitous tariff laws of the republican party, it is still the duty of the democratic party, in the interests of the whole people, to insist upon a tariff for revenue sufficient for the needs of the government economically administered, and we hereby declare our allegiance to the time-honored principle of our party, that unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation, and demand a speedy reduction, so far as practicable, of war taxes."

As it has been amply demonstrated that the present tariff does not produce a larger revenue than is necessary for the proper expenditures of the government, any change by which the income of the Treasury would be reduced would be a return to the policy of the Gorman-Wilson bill, which left a large annual deficiency and increased the national debt several hundred millions of dollars during the last Cleveland administration. The folly of such a policy is too apparent to require demonstration. Taking the Democrats of the Second District of Maryland as a criterion by which a proper judgment of the party throughout the country is to be formed, it must be very apparent to practical students of political economy that that party should not be entrusted with the power to formulate a financial policy for the government, if the honor and credit of the country are to be maintained. The demand of the convention for a speedy reduction of war taxes, as far as practicable, is simply buncombe. The people know that a Republican Congress will adjust such taxes to a proper standard. Past experience with Democracy, in this respect, should make every voter who desires proper legislation wary of casting his ballot for a Democratic candidate for Congress.

The resolutions of the convention in relation to abuses in the conduct of the war with Spain, and demanding an investigation by Congress, is about what might have been looked for from such a body as the Elkton convention. Having prejudged and decided the case nothing but a conclusion in harmony with its utterances, predictaed upon uncertain knowledge, would satisfy its members.

The convention, however, did not speak for all Democrats in the district in the quotations and references given above, nor in its decl.ration that "it is not sound policy to annex to this country the semi barbarous people of the Eastern Hemisphere." There are some very pronounced Democrats in this county who do not hesitate to declare that this country should not surrender anything it has taken from Spain.

WANT MR. STEELE TO DECLINE.

The Baltimore Evening News of Thursday, among other things in relation to the proceedings of the Elkton Democratic convention, says:

The nomination of Nicholas W. Steele by the Democrats of the Second district at Elkton yesterday was in the nature of an accident. No one took Mr. Steele's candidacy seriously, and when it was announced that he had received a majority of the votes cast there was some consternation evident and very little applause, even from those who voted for the Carroll county candidate.

Prominent Democrats at the Carrollton today said that an effort will be made to persuade Mr. Steele to decline, and that the convention may be called together again and some new man named.

Some of the morning papers also allude to the suggestion that an effort will be made to induce Mr. Steele's declination, from which it may be inferred that he is not a very acceptable candidate to many Democrats whose judgment in such matters is worth consideration.

The Spanish Cortez has ratified the peace protocol with the United States, as agreed upon by the executives of the two countries.

Gen. Miles is down with malarial fever at Washington, but his illness is not considered serious.

Two valuable barns were destroyed by fire in Frederick county on Wednesday.

"Great Cry—Little Wool."

Among the resolutions adopted by the Democratic convention of the Second Congressional District of Maryland, which met at Elkton on Wednesday, was the following:

"That we earnestly call upon democrats all over the State to lay aside the differences that have divided us in our recent campaign and to unite now in a hearty and vigorous effort to elect to the House of Representatives gentlemen of character and capacity, who will restore to our State the high position which she held for so long in Congress and which, it is humiliating to feel, has been lost to us as one of the results of republican success."

And then the convention nominated Mr Nicholas W. Steele

The Empress of Austria Assassinated.

Elizabeth, Empress of Austria, was assassinated by an anarchist at Geneva, Switzerland, on Saturday last. She was stabbed in the heart and lungs with a file sharpened to a form resembling a stiletto. She was traveling incognita and was walking from the Hotel Beau Rivage, where she had been stopping several days, to the landing place of a steamer on the lake, when the assassin approached and stabbed her. Accounts are conflicting as to what followed. One report states that the empress fell, but was assisted to her feet and continued her walk to the steamer, which she boarded and then became unconscious. The steamer put out from the landing, but the captain, seeing the dangerous condition of his royal passenger, returned and she was removed to the hotel which she had left a short time before. She was stabbed at 1 P. M., and died at the hotel two hours later. The name of the assassin is Luccesi and he is an Italian. He says his purpose in going to Geneva was to kill the Duke of Orleans, but his intended victim had left.

The empress was personally known to him and learning of her presence in Geneva he followed her until an opportunity afforded to take her life.

The empress is said to have been, in early womanhood, one of the most beautiful women in Europe. She was in her sixty-first year. Her mother was a cousin of the Mad King Louis, of Bavaria. The empress was erratic in conduct and it has been suspected that she inherited a tendency to insanity. Her station, as the wife of Emperor Francis Joseph, might have made her a dangerous opponent of individual liberty, but she seems to have taken little interest in politics and the wildest anarchist could have found little cause to take her life for political reasons. Her assassin must have been moved by an inordinate desire to murder and would have made some other person a victim if the empress had not fallen in his way. The spirit of anarchy, however, is a spirit of murder, and is in utter contravention of the rights of humanity. Luccesi was only carrying out the malign and unholy theories of the dangerous element of which he forms a part. He ought to be given short shrift, but, although he was promptly arrested, he may escape the death penalty for his crime, as he must be tried, it is said, under the laws of the canton of Geneva, which prohibit capital punishment.

Members of the board of managers of the Second Hospital for the Insane, at Springfield, met Wednesday, at the office of Governor Lowndes and awarded a contract to Henry Smith & Son, of Baltimore, for the erection of four new buildings to be used for female patients. The new buildings will be of brick, 175 feet by 35, two stories high, with wide verandas, and will be built in the colonial style. Work on these buildings will begin today. H. Rohe, superintendent of the hospital, reported to the board that there were 176 patients in the institution.

Democratic candidates for Congress were nominated in four of the districts of this State, on Wednesday, as follows: Second District, Nicholas W. Steele, of Freedom district, Carroll county; Third District, Dr. J. B. Schwatka; Fourth District, Col. Jas. W. Denny; Fifth District, John S. Cummings. The Third and Fourth Districts lie wholly in Baltimore. Mr. Steele was nominated in this—the Second—District on the fifth ballot.

The Republicans of the First Congressional District of Maryland have nominated Col. Wilbur F. Jackson, of Dorchester county, as their candidate in the present campaign. Col. Jackson is a brother of Ex-Governor Jackson and was formerly a Democrat, but became a Republican on the tariff issue. He is also an advocate of Sound Money.

NO. 3665 EQUITY.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting in Equity.

James M. Pickett et al., Plaintiffs, vs. Nicholas W. Pickett et al., Defendants.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Franklin District, Carroll county, Maryland:

1. The Bill states that Warner Pickett, late of Carroll county, departed this life on May 1st, A. D. 1888, intestate, seized and possessed of valuable real estate and described in certain deeds of conveyances copies of which are filed in this case and marked "exhibits A, B, C, D, and E."

2. That said intestate left surviving him a widow, Ellen Pickett, and the following heirs at law, to-wit: James M. Pickett, who is now married and whose wife's name is Eliza J. Pickett, Edith A. Pickett, who intermarried with Solomon N. Penn, deceased, John W. Pickett, who is now married and whose wife's name is Eliza Pickett, Ida B. Pickett, who intermarried with Columbus A. Conaway, Calvin Pickett, William F. Pickett, who departed this life before his said father and who intermarried with Belle Ousterhout, left surviving him one infant daughter, Willella Pickett.

3. That the said real estate is not susceptible of division among the parties hereinbefore mentioned and cannot be divided among them without loss or injury to them and that it will be necessary and to the advantage of all said parties that said land be decreed to be sold by this Court and the proceeds divided among the parties interested according to their respective rights.

4. That all the parties to the above entitled cause reside in the State of Maryland except Willella Pickett, infant, who lives in the State of Missouri, county of Saline.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of September, A. D. 1898, ordered that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 17th day of October, A. D. 1898, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of the Bill in this suit and warn her to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 7th day of November, A. D. 1898, to answer the premises and show cause if any she have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

A CRITICAL TIME

DURING THE BATTLE OF SANTIAGO.

Sick or Well, a Rush Night and Day

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23d, says: "We all had diarrhœa in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect savior of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.
