SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1898.

Probably without a single exception the governments of Continental Europe are displeased with the terms of the American settlement with Spain, but they are not, and are never likely to be, in such accord on strictly European questions as to make common cause against this country, or to exhibit their displeasure in any other manner than by snarling.

Three months from this date Judge Louis E. McComas will retire from the Supreme Bench of the District of Columbia to enter the United States Senate, and a strong impression prevails in political circles in this State and in the District also that he will be succeeded by Attorney General Harry M. Clabaugh. Mr. Clabaugh's name appears to be the only one mentioned in connection with the judgeship, although it has been generally understood, since the Senatorial election last winter, that his friends would press his appointmtnt. There seems to be no doubt that, when the time arrives, it will be made.

The Gaulois, a leading Paris newspaper, seems to have a better conception of the effect likely to be produced upon the Philippine Islands, by their cession to the United States, than most of its cotemporaries. It says: "Both archipelagos (Philippine and Sulu) had become a heavy charge and perpetual danger to Spain. Under American domination they will show a development which even internal disturbances will be unable to arrest." This exhibits a just appreciation of the fact that wherever American government exists law and order are the rule and violence and lawlessness the exception. An example of this is seen at Santiago de Cuba, which, under the administration of General Wood, as military governor, is in a better sanitary condition than at any time during its previous history, while every citizen has grown confident that he will receive justice in any controversy that may arise between him and his fellows. Gen. Wood has placed native Cubans in office, and requires fidelity and fairness in their dealings with the people. The inhabitants of Santiago never before felt such security in their persons and property as they are experiencing at this time and they are learning to respect and desire the continuance of this law and order style of government. It may be by slow degrees, but it is reasonable to anticipate a similar effect from a just and law enforcing government in other portions of the territory brought under American domination by the results of the war with Spain.

ONLY A PRESUMPTION.

It is rather amusing to witness the efforts of anti-Imperialist (?) journals to evade the real issues involved in the overthrow of Spanish authority in the Philippine Islands. The Baltimore Sun, for instance, says: "The Filipinos were led to believe when the war with Spain began that the United States had no idea of territorial acquisitions, and that our navy was prepared to co-operate with Aguinaldo's forces on the basis of an alliance to overthrow the power of Spain, but not to add the Philippines to the United States." This assertion means, if anything, that the United States was in some way in communication with the Filipinos and gave them the assurances stated by the Sun. The general declaration that this country was not entering upon a war of conquest might have been interpreted by the Filipinos to mean that our government was prepared to free them from the Spanish yoke without compensation or reimbursement in any manner for the great sacrifice such an undertaking involved, but, as far as we are informed, no understanding, of any sort, was or has been entered into with the inhabitants of the Philippines in relation to their future disposition. Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet without assistance from the insurgents, and, in the assault upon Manila by the American forces, bodies of Filipinos had to be displaced to give the American forces the opportunity required for co-operation in their movements as an army. Practically the Americans, throughout the movement against the Philippines, pursued independent lines and apparently made no formal alliance with the insurgents.

To what extent, inferentially, then, this government may be committed to the independence of the Filipinos, may be a question. With us it has been the one question in the way of the justice of this country's acquisition of the Philip- [illegible] honor free to deal in a perfect- [illegible] pendent manner with the subject. [illegible] a mere presumption that we are in honor bound to guarantee Philippine independence, but, while we have no sympathy with dogmatic assertions to that effect, we would be glad to see the propriety of our acquisition of the archipelago made clear beyond dispute.

It is reported that Clarence Key, a grandson of Francis Scott Key, the author of "The Star Spangled Banner," died in the City of Mexico, on Thanksgiving day, and that he and his wife were in very destitute circumstances. He had been in bad health for a year, but managed to make a living as a teacher and translator of Spanish and English, but ten days before his death met with an accident which prevented him from earning money, and the proprietor of a hotel, at which he and his wife were staying, seized their baggage for debt and was about to turn them into the street, when American residents in the city discovered their condition and provided for them in a proper manner.

The War Department is preparing a bill providing for an increase of the regular army to 100,000 men.

Peace at Last.

Spain Yields to the Inevitable.

Terms of a Treaty Agreed Upon by the Peace Commissioners at Paris.

THE PHILIPPINES AND OTHER ISLANDS TO BE CEDED TO THE UNITED STATES.

The Spanish members of the Peace Commission, at Paris, agreed to the American ultimatum on Monday and terms were agreed upon as the substance of a treaty to be prepared and signed by the proper representatives of the two countries. These terms, briefly outlined, are as follows:

Abandonment of sovereignty over Cuba.

Cession of Porto Rico and all the other islands known as the Spanish West Indies.

Cession of the Island of Guam, in the Ladrones.

Cession of the Philippine Islands, including the Sulu group.

The United States refuses to assume any of the colonial debts of Spain.

For the cession of the Philippine Islands the United States will pay to Spain the sum of $20,000,000.

It is said that Spain will also be asked to sell the Island of Ualan, in the Caroline group, to the United States, but will be entirely free to accept or reject such offers as may be tendered by this country.

The inclusion of the Sulu Islands in the cession of the Philippines had not been anticipated generally, as there had been no previous intimation on the subject. These islands are in the Indian ocean, between the Mindoro or Sulu sea on the north, the Celebes sea on the south, the Island of Borneo on the southwest and that of Mindanao on the northeast. Their length is about 200 miles.

The archipelago consists of nearly 150 islands, most of them small, and divided into three groups, named after the three principal islands, Basselan, in the northeast, Sulu in the centre, and Tawee-Tawee on the southwest. Basselan is of oblong form, about 42 miles long by 6 miles broad. Sulu stretches 35 miles from east to west, with a breadth of ten miles. Tawee-Tawee is about thirty-five miles long.

The other chief islands of the group include Pata on the south, and a small group called the Tapool Islands on the southwest.

Among the trees that grow on the islands are teak and sandal woods, and among the fruits are cocoanuts, bananas, mangoes and oranges. Wild boars and deer are common. Oxen, swine, goats and poultry are abundant.

The islands were formerly noted for piracy. The whole of Sulu archipelago was under the sway of a despotic sultan, who claimed sovereignty over a large part of Borneo, but the Spaniards conquered the islands and annexed them to the colony of the Philippines. The aggregate population of the island is estimated at 75,000.

Sulu, also called Soung, the principal town of the archipelago, is situated on the northwest coast of the island of that name, has a good roadstead, and, though chiefly composed of huts, has some houses of more ambitious appearance. Its population is about 6,000.

A Terrific Storm.

A terrific storm swept the New England coast on Saturday and Sunday last, causing an immense destruction of marine property and the loss of many lives. Well nigh two hundred persons perished in the wrecks of the numerous vessels destroyed in the hurricane. Ninety-seven of these went down with the steamship Portland, which left Boston Saturday night for Portland, Maine. The Portland was wrecked on Sunday morning, off Highland Light, Mass., and every soul on board—49 passengers and 48 officers, seamen and others connected with the ship—were lost. It is estimated that about 170 vessels were wrecked during the storm, many of which were entirely destroyed.

Thirty schooners were totally wrecked at different points from Eastport, Me., to New Haven, Conn; eighty-six schooners were driven ashore, and fourteen barges, loaded or empty, were grounded. This list does not include the thirty vessels either wholly or partially wrecked in Boston harbor, nor the Boston and Portland steamer, Portland, lost with all on board, nor the big Wilson Line freighter Ohio, which went ashore on Spectacle Island, in Boston harbor; the steamer John J. Will, which went ashore, at Atlantic; the Merchants and Miners' Transportation steamer Fairfax, on Sow and Pigs' Ledge, off Cuttyhunk, nor the small steamer A. Chaffee, foundered at Rockport, Mass.

Block Island and various summer resorts on the coast were devastated by the storm. The hurricane blew down hotels and cottages and the furious insweep of the seas completed the work of destruction. Several vessels, including the fishing schooner M. M. Dyer, wrecked off Cape Cod, were set on fire by their crews before being abandoned.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

The announcement of the contents of Harper's Magazine for December shows a large number of short stories written by well-known writers and illustrated by prominent artists. The opening one, "Old Captain," by Myles Hemenway, is illustrated in color. Among the others are "An Esmeralda of Rocky Canyon," by Bret Harte; "The Second Flooding of Salina Sue," by Ruth McEnery Stuart; "The White Heron," by Fiona Macleod; "How Santa Claus was Saved," by Mary T. van Denburg, and "The Unexpectedness of Mr. Horace Shields," by Margaret Delan.

The December issue of Harper's Round Table will be a Christmas double number, with a special illuminated cover from a design by Maxfield Parrish. It will contain sixty-four pages of reading matter, instead of forty-eight pages as usual, and the leading holiday Story." As supplements will be given two full-page colored plates, suitable for framing, of war subjects, from paintings by F. C. Yohn.

Among the interesting literary features announced for early publication in Harper's Bazar are "Preference," a short serial of extraordinary charm, by Caroline Leslie Field; and "An Alien at Home," a story showing how foreign residence, if prolonged, unfits one for our rushing life, by Annie E. P. Searing.

An important series of Pictures of Pope Leo XIII., from the only photographs taken in many years, will shortly be published in Harper's Weekly. Another interesting announcement is that Mr. Caspar Whitney has returned from the Hawaiian Islands, and has again taken up the department of Amateur Sport in the Weekly.

TWO POINTED QUESTIONS ANWSERED.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for many years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. Sold by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

Pains in the chest when a person has a cold indicate a tendency toward pneumonia. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on the chest over the seat of pain will promptly relieve the pain and prevent the threatened attack of pneumonia. The same treatment will cure a lame back in a few hours. Sold by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

THE SURPRISE OF ALL.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians in Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at A. H. Huber's and Joseph B. Boyle's Drug Stores.

FREE PILLS.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. WALL PAPER!

Up to date Paper Hangers and Wall Paper Dealers. We don't claim to be the only firm in the county that carries a stock of but we are, as everybody knows, the largest dealers. We buy goods direct from the factory just as cheap as these New York Wall Paper Stores that say they give you Paper at 3 cts. per piece. We do the same and you DON'T pay any FREIGHT.

It costs more to do business in a large city and they don't give goods away and live at the same time. We as any of the Paper Hangers, when you take quality of goods into consideration, and have best facilities for doing so. We are prompt. We carry a line of from 10 cts. to 50 cts. Also make them to order. Look us up. Examine our goods and you will then come to the conclusion that we are up to the times. Work done anywhere in the county without extra charge.
