WESTMINSTER. MARYLAND.

W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1899.

The Judiciary Committee of the United States House of Representatives has come to the conclusion that General Joseph Wheeler, of Alabama; Mr. Robbins, of Pennsylvania; Mr. Colson, of Kentucky, and Mr. Campbell, of Illinois, who left their places in Congress to enter the army and participate in the war against Spain, thereby vacated their seats and "ceased to be members of the House." There is probably no doubt that this conclusion is correct. As Gen. Wheeler is the only one of the quartet elected to the Fifty-sixth Congress the hardship imposed upon the other three because of their patriotic service in the army should be mitigated in some other way. Gen. Wheeler and Mr. Campbell are Democrats, Messrs. Robbins and Colson Republicans.

A legalized society for the prevention of self-cruelty on the part of human beings is badly needed. This thought is suggested by an account of a six-days bicycle contest concluded on Saturday at San Francisco, Cal. It was a trial of the powers of endurance of the wheelmen who entered the contest, and most of whom suffered intense physical, and in some cases mental, torture as the race progressed. With swollen feet and limbs and haggard and pain-drawn faces they persisted in continuing on the track till the close. Some of them were occasionally revitalized by copious charges of electricity, only to suffer more intensely as the revivifying power of the magnetic current subsided. One, at least, experienced such a mental strain that he imagined himself on a highway, pedaling towards a distant city. Seven of them averaged over three hundred miles a day for the entire six days. These were: Miller, whose record was 2192 miles, or 365½ miles per day, breaking his own championship record by at least 150 miles; Aaronson, 2146 miles, 357⅔ per day; Fredericks, 2090 miles, 348⅓ per day; Hale, 2062 miles, 343⅔ per day; Gimm, 2060 miles, 343⅓ per day; Nawn, 2012 miles, 335⅓ per day; Alberts, 1828 miles, 304⅔ per day. The intense physical strain occasioned by these extraordinary exploits in bicycling must have a seriously damaging effect upon the health of the wheelmen engaged, and will, without doubt, materially abridge the period of their lives. Would it not be in the interests of humanity to forbid such exhibitions by law?

TO BE JUDGE CLABAUGH.

President McKinley, on Tuesday last, nominated Attorney General Harry M. Clabaugh to be an Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, in place of Judge Louis E. McComas, who will retire March 4th to become United States Senator, as the successor of Senator Gorman. This appointment has long been anticipated and is very gratifying to Mr. Clabaugh's many friends throughout this State and particularly in Carroll county, where he has been for a number of years the acknowledged leader of the Republican party.

For a decade and more Mr. Clabaugh has been prominent in the counsels of the party in the State also, and did much toward organizing and equipping its forces for ultimate victory in the campaign of 1895. Notwithstanding his political activity, however, he did not neglect the affairs of his profession, but labored assiduously to place himself in the front rank as a lawyer and attorney, and his professional success and victories in the lower and higher courts have caused pardonable pride in their achievement on the part of his hosts of friends and admirers.

SAMPSON AND SCHLEY.

A rather acrimonious controversy has been going on for some time between the friends of Admirals Schley and Sampson in regard to the respective merits of these naval heroes and the credit due to each for the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba. Admiral Schley's friends have been aggrieved that Sampson, who was Schley's junior in number, though of the same rank, has been advanced over him in the promotions which have been awarded them for their gallant services to the country. Previous to the war with Spain Sampson was one number behind Schley. He has now been advanced eight numbers and Schley but six, putting Sampson as the ranking officer, although both are still of the same grade. The controversy has subjected each of these officers to unfavorable criticism by the friends of the other, and Schley has also been blamed for alleged reprehensible conduct, in his management of the Santiago affair, by the Department of the Navy at Washington. They have both, however, borne themselves with great discretion, prudence and forbearance, and Admiral Schley has especially commended himself to the country by the calm dignity with which he has borne himself throughout the controversy, and which will more than offset the disparagement of his achievements by the officials of the department. As to the merits of the controversy they only can be ascertained after the heated opinions of indiscreet friends and pronounced enemies on both sides have had time to become normal and sane. It is a great pity that Admiral Schley's declaration, "The victory is big enough for all of us," was not recognized and accepted as a most sensible view of the whole situation.

At the annual meeting of the State Encampment, Department of Maryland, G. A. R., in Baltimore, this week, Capt. Lewis M. Zimmerman was elected department commander for the ensuing year; D. H. Moberly, senior vice commander, George Prechtel, junior vice commander.

A colored youth eighteen years of age was found dead beneath a melting snow drift in Talbot county.

An Industrial Exposition.

A movement is on foot for the purpose of establishing an industrial exposition this year, in Baltimore, for the products of manufactories in this State. Ex-Mayor F. C. Latrobe is chairman and Mr. Alexander Helper secretary of the management. A circular letter has been prepared over their signatures, explaining, briefly, the nature of the enterprise and soliciting exhibits. Several copies of this letter have been sent us, which we will be glad to transfer to manufacturers in this city, but which we deem of sufficient importance to be made known to all our readers, and therefore append in full, as follows:

123 West Fayette Street,
Baltimore, Md., February 14, 1899.

Gentlemen:—It has been determined upon to have an Industrial Exposition, or better still, a Home Product Show, and with this end in view, it is the purpose of the managers of the Exposition Company to inagurate at once, active measures looking toward the establishment of an Industrial Exhibit for this year, provided the manufacturers of this city and State will come forward and help us.

Will you, therefore, provided the management of this proposed Home Product Exposition guarantees a fund of $50,000 for the inaguration of this project, make an exhibit of your manufactured articles in a manner worthy of this proposed exposition. In view, therefore, of making known Baltimore's wonderful resources as a manufacturing center, what effort is more worthy of timely consideration and consummation than this proposed exposition of a well defined, well-planned and comprehensive exhibit of every article made in Baltimore and throughout the State, which will do so much in the way of our advancement and prosperity in the industrial march of the age?

Please let me have your answer at once, whether or not, you will make an exhibit of your manufactured articles, in view of the fact that the managers have consented to guarantee a $50,000 fund for the inaguration of this much needed Industrial Exposition in our midst.

I remain, my dear sirs,
Very truly yours,
FERDINAND C. LATROBE,
Chairman.
Alexander Helper,
Secretary.

"INSTITUTES."

If Jimmie's foresight had led him to the pond by the other road, or the "man" had stopped indoors to oversee the week's washing, a philippic on "Institutes" and the "Band" might have been left to an admiring posterity.

Kindly let it be known that said philippic was brought about by the breaking loose and "sallying forth" of one "Dan D.," (alias "Substantial Unofficial Citizen,") into the public highway, whereon, "sallying forth" along, he "mused" "guessed" and quoted largely from the antique to an audience of "Jimmie" and "man." Jimmie, however, escaped and went skating.

As has been stated, the subject, was "Institutes" and "Bands." D. D., alias S. U. C., desires to place his manly foot on both! He don't like 'em, therefore they should not be. It is plainly evident that "Dan D." has no children in schools, but is in possession of taxable property acquired by toil-hardened hands and small economies of worthy ancestors. Thus being an individual beyond the degradation of bread-winning, he can, without loss of property, and between meals, observe the activities of the laboring world, and advise as to the roundings up of the universe.

Why he should so hate "Bands" is not quite clear, for it cannot be that he has "no ear!" The "Institute" ire, however, is based upon the idea that teacher must continually dig with one kind of hoe among the young sprouts because "Dan D.," alias "Substantial Unofficial Citizen," pays taxes; that, for the same reason, "Jimmie" must not skate except in July or August; that no teacher, who wishes to preserve the respect of "Taxpayer," alias Dan D.," alias "Substantial Unofficial Citizen," should presume to mix with his kind except in weather that boils and that five Institute days in freezing weather exhibits in "teacher" total depravity and diabolical intents. But, to raise his ears to "the pleasant," "the profitable and the—— "Band" in any weather, be it hot, cold or milk-warm, rushes in the crisis; the inevitable falls; the "respect" of the Taxpaper, alias "Dan D." alias Substantial Unofficial Citizen, goes——unpreserved!

INSTITUTES.

In reading an article under the above heading, contributed to the Sentinel a short time ago by a New Windsor correspondent, the writer could not help but agree with its author when he intimated that it was a pity that a full week should be taken from the best patronized school term of the year for Institute sessions, but further than this I failed to agree for various reasons. A second writer, I hope, fully explained why the week could not, in this case, be selected at a more convenient date. I cannot agree with the first contributor in that the move for the meeting was an unwise one. To be as brief as possible let me say that at the night sessions of the institute, which the second writer dwelt upon quite freely, compulsory attendance of the teachers was not required. Furthermore, while they were very interesting and helpful to all in attendance, they were but a small item of expense and of little direct concern to teachers. The day sessions were of vastly greater service to the teachers. In these, eminent leaders gave practical lessons in the latest methods of teaching and competent specialists gave valuable hints for extending the work of the teachers along new lines, and among them just such branches of work as were suggested by Dr. Gilman, President of Johns Hopkins University, in his lecture given in the I. O. O. F. Hall, Westminster, the week following the institute. Are such suggestions likely to be far amiss? When such valuable aid can be furnished to the teachers, by the county, at less than $8.00 per day, it seems that this is economy of the best sort and that none should complain unless it be the teachers themselves. Most of the latter are caused the extra expense of getting to and from Westminster during the sessions of an institute besides paying more than their usual price for board while in attendance, and if any benefit is accrued it is given in return directly to the pupils of the schools. If the county cannot afford to pay better salaries so as to induce the best teachers to seek employment among us why not educate the teachers to this extent, especially when this can be done so cheaply? To do without these, to my mind, is false economy. It leads me to suggest that the pupils be required to furnish extra wraps for use in the schoolroom in order to save fuel.

Our ancestors, as teachers, may have prepared themseves to teach at their own expense, but I dare say that many of them could have been benefitted and made more useful in their line of duty if they had been far enough advanced to know the value of these institutes. If we were mere imitators we could continue along the lines set down by our forefathers, but being progressive we would profit by their examples and improve. It is well enough to economize, but let it not be false economy such as Dan D. is wailing for. We need more liberality (not extravagance) and less politics in the line of educating our children. Dan D's story reminds us of the moanings of a disappointed Democratic office seeker. His view may be deep enough but let him broaden it about an hundred fold.

Institutes.

Editor American Sentinel:

Dear Sir:—I have read Dan D's. replication, to use a legal term, published in last week's Sentinel, and think a rejoinder is scarcely necessary. While Dan D. does not acknowledge error in his opinion of institutes, he certainly says nothing worthy of consideration in opposition thereto. A rejoinder would be a useless waste of effort, time and newspaper space, in this case. There is nothing to be controverted.

Ed U. Cate.

Letter From North Dakota.

Editor of American Sentinel:

Dear Sir:—I thought I would write a letter to your paper a long time ago, but have not hitherto gotten at it. I have been here three summers and one winter and this is the garden spot of the world as far as raising grain is concerned I have seen three harvests and have never seen an acre of grain lodged yet, and much of it, oats and wheat, comes up to my chin. The summers are certainly delightful; but very little hot weather. The winters are delightful because there is very little warm weather. It is a dry atmosphere; never rains in winter; air is dry and it is always dry underfoot; no mud.

I worked out of doors nearly all winter at carpentering, and when the thermometer was down to 32 degrees below zero. Monday morning of that week it was 18°, Tuesday 22°, Wednesday 32°, Friday 24°, Saturday 16° below. I wore the same cord suit and overcoat I wore in Maryland. While it is a fact that we don't suffer from cold, I will tell you something else. I have a cellar under my house. Most of the houses are built this way:

I laid a board on the ground, sawed cord wood into a foot long and set them on end and laid a 2x6 on that for a foundation and built the house on that. Then boarded it up from the ground with common boards, then tar paper, then weatherboarding and banked up about six inches high with dirt. I kept potatoes, apples and glass jars of fruit in the cellar without freezing. My horses were in a stable only weatherboarded with common boards, cracks and knot holes not covered; hay against the north and west ends about three feet high; and manure never froze in the stable six inches from the boards.

While these are facts I can prove, I will tell you something else. Ground freezes from 4 to 7 feet deep and ice freezes several inches thick on the water in wells, 25 feet deep, even when the wells are covered on top with boards, yet I know I can take the same size room here that you do in Md., and I will keep it warmer here with less fuel. The air is dry here and cold don't penetrate. If it did cellars would all freeze. The land I bought when I came out only had thirty-five acres broke on it. I bought four horses and hired a hand and went to work. This year I have 300 acres out in grain.

I finished making hay first week in August; mowed five days and a half. So you can imagine how much hay I have. If the stacks were all together they would be 640 feet long and 10 feet square, or the length of 64 panels of post fence. I would advise men, especially renters, that have $1500 or more, to come out and look the country over and see its advantages. You can get a few homesteads yet for $1616, and can buy out some relinquishments at from $600 up, for 160 acres, and can buy out proved up claims for $1000 and up, according to improvements. Then you can farm your lifetime, and raise crops without spending all you raise for phosphates. Come and see. It won't cost you much.

Land is increasing very rapidly in price. Two brick yards have been running all summer and we have built a very fine large Court House, Odd Fellows Hall, 50x100, two stories and cellar under it all. There will be between $75,000, and $100,000, spent here in building. We have electric lights, and fire department, and as fine stores as any in Westminster; high school building that accommodates between three and four hundred scholars and will have to build two more rooms next spring; steam mill, six grain elevators, etc. There are more goods, groceries &c., sold in Cando, per month, than in Westminster. I will close now and write soon again and give the amount of grain raised by some of our farmers, and a history of the country from a financial standpoint.

Very Respectfully Yours,
DANIEL H. ENGLAR,
Cando, North Dakota.

FOR LA GRIPPE.

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash-av., corner Jackson-st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by Jos. D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

DANGERS OF THE GRIP.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Jos. D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

AN HONEST MEDICINE FOR LA GRIPPE.

George W. Waitt of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50 cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four Doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at A. H. Huber's and Jos. B. Boyle's Drug Stores. Regular size 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Why should we mourn for Wesley, who sleeps
Within the quiet tomb?
God only knows, if he had lived
What would have been his doom.

Oh, better far spare all our tears
For those who go astray!
For Wesley, in his quiet grave,
Is happier far than they.

Why should we weep for him whose life
Was as the flowers pure?
An ocean of our tears would not
More bliss to him secure.

He sleeps in peace, secure from woes,
Beneath the silent sod,
His earth-freed spirit knows no grief,
Communing with his God.
By his Parents.

He died in beauty, like a rose
Blown from its parent stem;
He died in beauty, like a pearl
Dropped from a diadem.
Pure and white the robe around him,
Soft and white his narrow bed,
Cold and green the soil that's o'er him
When you ask if Wesley's dead.
