It is within the range of probability that most of those who read Dan D's. verses in another column of the SENTINEL will have greater admiration for their literary quality than respect for the sentiment to which they give expression.

A slight change has been made in the schedule of the Sunday morning train going east on the Western Maryland Railroad. Its starting point is now Union Bridge and the hour 6.45 instead of 6.56. At Westminster the time of the train is 7.20 instead of 7.32 as heretofore.

Many complaints were received from subscribers for the SENTINEL, on the star route between this city, Smallwood, Gamber and other postoffices, in consequence of their failure to receive last week's paper on Saturday. Upon inquiry at the postoffice here, as to the cause of this failure, we learn that the mail carrier declined to take the sack containing the SENTINELS from the postoffice, on the date named, much to the annoyance of ourselves and patrons.

Mr. David H. Warehime, of Avondale, while sawing wood on Monday, with a circular saw, accidentally had his right hand caught by the saw, lacerating the middle and ring fingers to such an extent that amputation became necessary. The middle finger was disarticulated at the second joint and the ring finger was taken off between the second joint and knuckle. The operation was performed by Dr. M. L. Bott, assisted by Dr. Charles R. Foutz.

Westminster's sailor boy, Harry R. Huber, has entirely recovered from an attack of scarlet fever and is now on the receiving ship Vermont, at Brooklyn, N. Y.

The mounted participants in the firemen's parade, which is to take place in this city on the 7th of June, during the annual meeting of the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association, will probably form quite a numerous body, as already forty or fifty gentlemen of Westminster district alone have had their names enrolled for that purpose. It is hoped the other districts will make a proportionately good showing on the occasion.

At the annual meeting of the members of the Methodist Protestant Church of this city, held on Wednesday evening, Mr. Thos. W. Mather was elected delegate to the Maryland Annual Conference, which will meet at Crisfield, April 5th. Mr. Jesse F. Shreeve was elected alternate. The Court of Appeals has reversed the ruling of the Circuit Court for Carroll county, denying David A. Danner a trial by jury, upon a charge of the larceny of corn. Under an Act of Assembly the accused, when arrested, waived a trial by jury and elected to be tried by a justice of the peace. He was found guilty and appealed to the Circuit Court, where he prayed a trial by jury. This was refused and the constitutionality of the law providing for the waiver sustained. It was from this ruling that the appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals, which now reverses the court below and declares the law unconstitutional.

Captain Joshua Beasman died, at his home near Sykesville, on Thursday, aged seventy-seven years. He was a farmer, and was held in high regard in the community, where he was born, and where he spent his entire life. Many years ago he was captain of a local militia company, and hence the military title by which he was known. He was a Democrat and a life-long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. A widow, who was Miss Marcissa Gore, three sons—Messrs. Johnzie, Thomas and George—all of whom live in the neighborhood, and one daughter—Mrs. George Slack—survive. Mr. Beasman's funeral will take place Sunday from Freedom M. E. Church.

The 14th of March, 1899, was a day not soon to be forgotten by such of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Job Hibberd as were fortunate enough to be present at a luncheon given at "Prestwould," their hospitable home near New Windsor, on that date. The host and hostess were assisted in receiving by their charming nieces, from Riverton, N. J. Philadelphia, Westminster, Union Bridge, Avondale, New Windsor and Linwood were all represented in the company. The sociability that prevailed was evidence that all were delightfully entertained. Several of the younger ladies and gentlemen assisted in serving the many delicacies set forth and which were well calculated to gratify the most epicurean taste.

Mr. Clarence Seabrook, formerly of this city, has been elected president of a new Republican club, which was organized at a meeting held at his residence, No. 2615 Francis street, on Friday evening of last week. The new organization is called the Druid Hill Republican Club of the Sixteenth Ward. The Sunday Herald says it starts with a membership of 60 and promises to be one of the most important factors in Republican politics in that section of the city. The other officers are: Vice presidents: J. E. McGinnis, J. Q. A. Sands and Judge Mann; recording secretary, T. W. Foard; corresponding secretary, Edgar Roe; treasurer, Edward Pels; sergeant at arms, Theodore Remmy. Mr. Seabrook has also been appointed one of the conferees for the selection of a Republican candidate for the Second Branch, City Council.

A fatal accident occurred on the Baltimore and Hanover turnpike, about three and a-half miles below Hampstead, at 4 o'clock, Thursday afternoon. The victim was Charles Alban, aged twenty-one years. Mr. Alban was in the employ of Mr. L. E. Fowble, near Grace Church, Baltimore county, and was driving a one horse wagon on the turnpike. As he approached a field on the farm of Mr. Wm. Benson he was informed that men were blowing up stumps in it, with dynamite, and that a cartridge had just been set and was about to be exploded. He left the wagon and held the horse by the bridle when the explosion took place and a large piece of the stump was hurled against his temple, causing his death in a few minutes. There was little outward appearance of the force of the blow on the young man's temple, but the concussion was, of course, terrific, as the piece of stump was taken to Hampstead and its weight ascertained to be twelve lbs. It was thrown a distance of two hundred and fifty feet before striking the unfortunate victim of the accident. Young Alban was a brother of Mr. Thomas Alban, of Hampstead, and of Mr. William Alban, who resides on the old Alban homestead, near Grave Run Mills. Two other brothers and a sister also survive him. His body was taken to the home of his brother Wm.

The Wanderer Has Returned.

Davy Stoner, after six months wandering, is back at the home of his grandfather, Mr. Emanuel Stoner, in this city. Most of the SENTINEL'S readers will remember, from an account published in September last, that Davy and his brother Paul, who had been set to work at some trifling task in their grandfather's nursery, failed to return to the house at the noon hour and could nowhere be found. It was six weeks before they were heard from, and then Paul, who was fourteen years old, wrote from Kansas City, Mo., to say that he was with his father at that place, and that he had parted from Davy at St. Louis. From that time until Thursday morning not a word was heard from the latter and his grandparents did not know whether he was living or dead. He reached here, however, sometime during Wednesday night and went to his grandfather's about four o'clock, Thursday morning.

He states that after Paul left him at St. Louis he went with a party of men, by steamer, to Memphis, Tenn., and later to Natchez, Miss., and New Orleans, La. At the latter place he became acquainted with a party who was about starting to Tampa, Fla., and accompanied him on the trip. From Tampa he went to St. Augustine, and then turned his face northward. He passed through Georgia into Tennessee, and visited Nashville, the capital of the latter State. From Nashville his journey led him into Virginia and he crossed that State to Washington, D. C. He left Washington Wednesday afternoon and, arriving at Baltimore, took a train, by mistake, which left the main line of the Western Maryland Railroad at Emory Grove and went up the Baltimore and Harrisburg division. Leaving the train at Glyndon he boarded a freight which brought him to this city. He arrived here fairly and comfortably clad and apparently none the worse for his long trip. It is said that he gives an intelligent description of some of the places he visited and was by no means on unobservant traveler. His return was an occasion of relief and rejoicing to his relatives here, who had been much distressed because of their ignorance of his whereabouts. He is in his seventeenth year.

Judge Roberts Sustained.

In the famous mandamus case of Walter McCrea against Chief Judge Charles B. Roberts, the Court of Appeals, to which the case was carried from the opinion of Judges Jones and Revell, has rendered its judgment sustaining their decision. The opinion was given by Judge Briscoe, who said:

This is an appeal from an order dismissing a petition for mandamus asked by McCrea against Judge Roberts. The Act of 1894, ch. 6, regulates the sale of liquor in Carroll county. Section 4 provides that persons desiring a license shall file the application with the clerk of the Circuit Court. Nine reputable freeholders must sign the certificate of application. On the 25th of October, 1898, Walter McCrea filed an application in proper form, for a license to sell in Gamber, with a certificate signed by eleven persons. An objection was filed signed by forty-nine persons. The objection stated two reasons: First, the application was not signed by nine reputable freeholders of the neighborhood; second, the parties who did sign were not sufficiently acquainted with McCrea to certify that he was a fit person for the license. Judge Roberts heard the case, and refused to issue the license. Application was made to Judges Revell and Jones for mandamus to compel Judge Roberts to issue the license, alleging that McCrea had complied with the requirements of law.

It is a settled law of this court, says the opinion, that no judge can issue a mandamus against another judge. Goldsborough vs. Lloyd (SE. Md., 376) Nor is this a case of a refusal to exercise or arbitrarily to exceed jurisdiction. The respondent says he exercised judgment and discretion after a full hearing of the case, and the demurrer to the answer admits these facts. He may have made error, but he cannot be compelled to undo what he has done. The appellant, McCrea, urges that the act is unconstitutional, because the judges, by it, are compelled to perform other than judicial functions. The Court of Appeals is of opinion that the act is constitutional, and that the duty imposed on the judges by the act is of a judicial character. Order affirmed.

Gosnell Items.

Mt. Olive Sunday School, of this place, is very busy practicing for the Easter entertainment which was heretofore announced for Easter Sunday.

Owing to the bad weather and muddy roads, the people of this vicinity seem to be getting very much behind with their spring work and are longing to see spring come again.

Barnes-Myers.

A very happy event took place in this city on the 15th inst., when Mr. Silas A. Barnes and Miss Annie V. Myers were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The wedding was solemnized at the M. P. Church, Rev. W. R. Graham, D. D., officiating. The bride was attired in a gown of steel colored henrietta cloth trimmed in white taffeta silk and chiffon, with hat and gloves to match. The groom wore the regular conventional black After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were driven to the depot where they took the fast mail for a wedding tour to Washington, D. C., and other points

A Silver Wedding.

Mr. Nathan H. Baile, the genial cashier of the First National Bank of New Windsor, and Mrs. Mary Smith Baile, the oldest daughter of the late John Smith of Wakefield, celebrated their silver wedding on Friday, March 10th at their very delightful home in New Windsor. A host of friends called to extend their congratulations and to share the generous hospitality of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Baile have one of the best appointed homes in Carroll county. An extensive addition was built last summer, giving spaciousness, great convenience of arrangment and at the same time affording opportunity for the introduction of the most modern improvements in lighting, heating and water supply. The house, beautiful itself, was made still more beautiful by elaborate decorations of laurel wreaths, and a profusion of blooming potted plants and cut flowers, all showing to the best effect under the soft glow of many pink-shaded tapers.

In the front parlor, where Mr. and Mrs. Baile received, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Geatty, (Mrs. Geatty being an only sister of Mr. Baile,) the flowers were pink carnations and azaleas; in the rear parlor, where the flowers were chiefly palms and ferns, Mrs. Charles Hibberd and her little daughter Corrine dispensed a tempting refreshment in the way of lemonade sangaree. In the dining room, the general color scheme of pink was carried out in the ribbons from the electrodes to the corners of the table, in blooming pink hyacinths surrounding the table center piece of La France roses, and in the daintiest dishes of pink bon-bons. Here were served oysters, salads and ices with the usual accompaniments under the direction of Mrs. Baile's sisters—Mrs. Emmons, Mrs. Fenby, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Joseph W. Smith, Mrs. Dennis A. Smith and Mrs. Paul Smith.

In the library, the decorations were pleasantly varied in color by the use of white hyacinths, lilies and Nephetos roses. Here Mrs. Clara Billingslea and Mrs. Mary Baile, of Westminster; Mrs. Louis Stouffer, and Miss Kate Slinglutt, of New Windsor, and Miss Anne R. Curley, of Baltimore, poured coffee. Mrs. Louis Dielman, the Misses Dielman and Miss Kleifisch, of New Windsor, with great finesse, looked after the general welfare, so to speak, of all the guests, a very necessary part in the success of all such social functions.

Mr. and Mrs. Baile were the recipients of a number of very handsome tokens of the high esteem in which they are held—the express words, "no presents," on the cards of invitation to the contrary notwithstanding. The occasion was evidently a very happy one to the parties most interested, and they seemed to enjoy so much the pleasure of having their friends present with them. But the pleasure was a reciprocal one and the appropriate little silver souvenir which each one carried away will pleasantly recall this wedding anniversary. Some of those present were: Judge L. P. Slingluff and daughter, Mr. Granville S. Haines and wife, Mr. Ed. Roop and wife, Mr. Evan Haines and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Job Hibberd, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hibberd, Mr. Granville and Miss Nellie Hibberd; Rev. J. A. Norse and wife, of New Windsor College; Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Purnell, of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Maggie Mehring and brother, of Thurmont; Dr. and Mrs. John J. Buffington, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Beacham, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Snader, Mrs. Jane Carter; Mrs. Birely, of Frederick; Mr. James Clemson and wife and Miss Laura Clemson, of Linganore; Mrs. J. R. Ramsdell, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Anne Repp; the Misses Cole, of New Jersey; Mr. Solo. Ecker and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Thomas, Mrs. T. H. Lewis, Mrs. Clara Baile, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Grimes, Mr. Chas. T. Reifsnider, Dr. Charles Billingslea, Prof. W. R. McDaniel, Mr. Jos. W. Smith, of Westminster; Mr. Geo. E. Emmons and Mr. Paul Smith, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Dennis Smith, Mrs. Mervin J. Echels, of Philadelphia; Dr. E. B. Fenby, of Baltimore.

A Well Deserved Promotion.

Mr. William T. Manning, chief engineer of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, having resigned that position has been succeeded by Capt. P. H. Irwin, of this city. The station is one of great importance and can only be filled by a civil engineer possessing the highest qualifications of the profession. Capt. Irwin has been connected with the engineering department of the B. & O. R. R. for eighteen years and the best proof of his fitness for the first place in that department is the thoroughly efficient manner in which his duties have been hitherto discharged. His education as a civil engineer has been thoroughly practical as well as theoretical. In his early experience he had charge of the management of the Western Maryland Railroad at a most difficult period in its history, and then displayed admirable executive ability. He has added thorough devotion to his chosen profession to his fine natural ability, and by careful study, close observation and faithful attention has attained to his present eminence as an engineer. He is thoroughly equipped for the high and responsible duties of his new position, and his appointment is exceedingly gratifying to his many friends in this community.

Base Ball League.

As each year Base Ball Clubs make claims and counter-claims as to the championship of the county, it was proposed by the Westminster Base Ball Club that all the Clubs in the county, which have any such pretensions, should form a league and play a series of games with each other according to a prearranged schedule. This suggestion has met with the approval of enough clubs to form a small league, but in order to give every club in the county a right to make application for membership, the manager of the Westminster Base Ball Club repeats the announcement made some time previous to this, and invites applications from all such clubs as have not yet responded.

As it is necessary to begin active preparations at once, all clubs which wish to enter the league should immediately notify the manager of the Westminster Base Ball Club of their desire to either join, or receive information concerning the scheme, which the manager who will direct the affairs of the league until an organization is effected, will willingly furnish.

Linwood Notes.

Every week the readers of the Sentinel see within its pages items from other sections of the county but seldom anything from Linwood. This might seem to be either because there is nothing transpiring here, or there is no one who feels sufficient interest in what is going on amongst us to let the public know about it.

Improvements have been made here within the past year of which we have reason to be justly proud. Among the most important was the building of a large and commodious hall, the first story of which furnishes a very suitable room wherein our newly established public school is held. The upper story is admirably adapted to the use of our large and flourishing Union Sunday School, and as a place for holding other suitable public gatherings. The cost of erecting this building was $1500. Besides providing the ground on which to erect it, our enterprising townsman, Mr. Jos. Englar, has met this expense individually. In order to re-imburse him for this outlay, and to carry out the original design to promote the religious, moral and intellectual welfare of the community, a company has been formed, under the corporate name of the "Linwood Union Literary Association." This company is prepared to issue stock certificates of the par value of ten dollars a share. Most of these have already been taken, but a few still remain to be purchased by those who have the ready cash and are willing to help along a good cause.

Nor are we socially dead. The rigors of the winter through which we have just passed did not prevent the holding of a number of socials, generally of the nature of a surprise to some of the members of the families visited.

None of these has resulted more satisfactorily than that held at the home of our valued friends, Mr. Nathan Englar and wife, on the evening of the 9th inst. To witness the surprised expression of our jovial host as he entered the room was sufficient recompense for any effort we made to get there. The exercises of the evening consisted of readings and recitations, followed by Linwood's favorite pastime—acting charades. After these literary and social features were concluded, came that which never fails to engage the willing attention of all robust human beings, the opportunity to replenish the "inner man." The superior excellence of this feast did much credit to the ladies engaged in its preparation. Nor did our genial host permit the opportunity to pass without emphasizing in a remarkable degree his well established fondness for desserts of a cooling nature.

With a desire to give further opportunity for the enjoyment of their friends and also a pleasant surprise to their father and mother, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Shriner arranged to have "The Circle" meet at their pleasant home on Monday evening, the 13th. The granddaughter, Miss Carrie Englar, would also have been surprised had not some one unwittingly "Sade" something to her about it. A royal welcome and hearty hand shaking were given on our arrival and the evening was pleasantly spent in our accustomed literary and social way. The special talent of the ladies in charge to arrange an attractive repast was fully demonstrated as we entered the spacious dining room, and all present were well served with the many good things their willing hands had prepared. For the final course "cold tea" was served by Mrs. Griffin. This was new to the most of us and created a great deal of merriment, the expressions of the ladies' countenances, in particular, having been anything but what they would desire if sitting for a picture. The proverbial "wee sma' hours" did not fail to arrive on time, when we all departed for our homes, feeling glad to have been there.

Harney Items.

We are accustomed to having great changes in the weather, but the greatest change of late has been in eggs; they fell from 24 to 8 cts. per doz in less than two weeks time.

Thieving in this place is getting to be quite common. Some very bold acts have been perpetrated of late.

We notice in the last proceedings of the school board that they have ordered the schools to be continued this year during part of the summer term. This, of course, will meet the approbation of the teachers, as they all advocate four terms.

Sales are very numerous and cows command the highest price of all stock.

Mr. Wm. Cornell has built an addition to his dwelling house.

Mr. Geo. Shriver will build a new house near here on the road leading to Littlestown, to be used as a tenant house.

Mr. Grant Kiser, with his family, left for Indiana this week, where he will make his future home.

Manchester Items.

We are almost daily reminded that spring is near from the flittings see-sawing back and forth on the street, indicating that already many persons have changed their homes for the year. Mr. Clinton Lippy, who moved to his new home south of town, was snow-bound and on account of the blockade had to drive through the fields to get to the house from the Westminster road. But the moderate weather since last week has melted the drifts and the winds have put our roads in pretty good trim.

The free concert and oyster supper held in the I. O. O. F. Hall, on Saturday night, by the members of Trinity Sunday School, was a grand financial success. The concert drew a large crowd who patronized the ice cream and supper tables to their full capacity until a late hour, when the settlement showed a net balance for the treasury of $37.00. The young ladies and gentlemen in their continental dress made a fine showing upon the stage and rendered their song of ye olden time with much credit and with the appreciation of the audience. The art gallery and tea table were enjoyable features and contributed their shares to the treasury.

Monday night was a red letter period in the history of Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F., having been the occasion of a return visit from the members of Eagle Encampment No. 158, Hanover, Pa., who arrived in private conveyances during the evening at the Franklin House, where they were met by a committee of reception and escorted to the Hall to a regular meeting of Carroll, at which the work of the Royal Purple degree was exemplified to an exalted brother. The ceremony of reception and responses over, the line of march was taken up to the Hotel de Sullivan, where plates were laid for 39 persons who were banquetted upon bivalves and their belongings, to the satisfaction of all. The banqueters lingered at the festal board for two hours in social chat and speech making, until the midnight hour was in sight when the visitors were sent rejoicing upon their homeward trip.

Mr. Harry M. Smith, superintendent of Emanuel Lutheran Sunday School, and Mrs. C. M. Eyster, as a committee, bought a Vose piano for their school in Baltimore last week, which will be in place at Easter, when a musical will be given in the Sunday School room for the benefit of the treasury.

Miss. Effie Palmer gave an entertainment with her scholars at the Old Fort schoolhouse, on Thursday evening of last week, which was largely attended and much enjoyed by all present.

Our band was re-organized last week with 18 members who are having weekly rehearsals in the Hotel de Sullivan Hall.

Mr. Tine Menchey is pushing the Firemen's building to completion since the moderate weather has set in.

Mr. Geo. A. Shower is confined to bed with a large carbuncle on his knee which has caused him much suffering for some days. For some months he has had a series of boils and carbuncles of which this seems to be the worst.

The personal effects of the late Henry H. Miller were sold on Saturday last, at public sale, at the late home on York street, by the executors.

Mr. Chas. W. Motter is home from his three-weeks' stay in Baltimore, and the latch string of the bachelor's hall is again on the outside.

At the time of the sale of Mrs. P. H. Stouffer, on Tuesday, a very interesting game of baseball was played by the Lorene Academy students, of Uniontown, and the Pipe Creek school boys. The game was a hotly contested struggle until the close of the third inning, when the score stood a tie. In the last part of the fourth Edward Stuller stepped into the box and struck two men out and shut Pipe Creek out of a run. At that they became discouraged and the umpire called the game for the home team by a score of 9 to 0, in favor of Lorene Academy boys. For the Sentinel.

A Delightful Occasion.

On last Saturday, by special invitation, a number of ladies and gentlemen repaired to the hospitable residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carlisle, near Sam's Creek P. O., where they were sumptuously entertained. Never, perhaps, in the history of this grand old homestead was hospitality and general good cheer so abundantly and lavishly dispensed as on this particular occasion. After the heartiest welcome was accorded by the host and hostess to each and every one, they gave themselves up to a free and unreserved interchange of conversation characterized at times by great good humor. Dinner being announced Mr. Uriah Englar, father of the genial hostess, was honored with a position at the head of the table. The choicest viands were then discussed with keen appetites in a most substantial manner. Oysters, stewed and scalloped, chicken, plump Maryland biscuit and light loaf, garnished with rich golden butter, prime ham, salad, sparkling jelly, coffee and chocolate, ice-cream and cake, and everything that the culinary art could produce to tempt and please the appetite, were served in abundance. The sentiment generally expressed by all present was that they had rarely participated in a more sumptuous entertainment. Those present were: Mr. Uriah Englar, Mr. Abdon Carlisle, Mr. E. T. Snader, Mr. and and Mrs. John H. Roop, Mr. and Mrs. William Gorsuch, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Devilbiss, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Nusbaum, Mr. and Mrs. George Englar, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smelser, Mrs. Wesley Repp, Mr. J. Ezra Stem and others. Owing to the condition of the roads several were unable to be present.

Letter From Cuba.

MANZANILLO, CUBA,
FEBRUARY 27th, 1899.

SIR:—February third, 1899, Co. I, 4th U. S. V. I., started on a ten-day march, making our stopping point at Vequite, about 22 miles from Manzanillo, Cuba. We had left the barracks at Manzanillo about 6 o'clock on the morning of February 3rd, marched about 13 miles and then pitched camp for the rest of the day. When we got to the old camping site along the river's edge we pitched our tents, built an old camp fire and made old army bean-soup, which all of our old soldiers of the Civil War used to enjoy. After we had eaten our dinner we all took a bath and then we hoisted the American flag over our camp. There were about 20 or 30 Cubans present when we raised the flag. They cheered Old Glory, when she fluttered from the top of the flag staff. Such a sight I had never witnsssed before in all my life, as I thought while we were raising the flag that those Cubans would go wild. They swarmed about us like bees, crying: "Americana! Americana! Much awayna much awayna!" in the language that the Cubans use, meaning in our language, "Americans are good." On the morning of the fourth we broke camp, packed up our goods and started on our journey to Veguita, a distance of nine miles from where we encamped the day before. We arrived at Veguita about 8 o'clock and then we were all assigned to quarters in an old Spanish bank and store room, which had been vacated by the Spaniards during the Spanish-American War. After we had been duly assigned to quarters we all took a bath, which made us feel quite refreshed after our march through the dust and heat, and then we settled down and planned out for a good time, which was promised to us by our company commander, Capt. Neal P. Geary. But notwithstanding all these facts news came to us by the adjutant that we would be compelled to make a forced march to El Cannon, a distance of 23 miles from Veguita, to meet General Rabi, as he was about to make an attack on us. We left Veguita at 6 o'clock in the morning and got to El Cannon at 10 o'clock, covering the distance of 20 miles in 4 hours. We traveled at the rate of 5 miles an hour, but alas when we got to El Cannon, we found nothing of Rabi, as it was only a fake. We came to the conclusion that it was done only to see if they could make a forced march if it should be necessary to do so. When we got in El Cannon we pitched our tents and then we took another bath and we staid at El Cannon about ten days or more. The first night we lay in camp at El Cannon, we had guards posted all around our camping ground, on a close look out for Rabi, but alas! he never put in his appearance. On the second night one of the pegs used to fasten down the guy ropes gave way and struck the captain's tent. He thought some one had shot, and arose out of his bunk and got all his company out to search for Rabi. He saw lights flashing at a distance and took them to be signal lights, and started some of his men out in search of them, but they were nothing but fire bugs.

Yours Respectfully,
EDWARD COPENHAVER,
Co. I, Fourth U. S. V. I.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by Jos. D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H Dielman, New Windsor.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I have tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned—JOSH EDGAR, Germantown, Cal. For sale by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Dielman, New Windsor.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. H. Huber's and Joseph B. Boyle's Drug Stores; every bottle guaranteed.

BISMARCK'S IRON NERVE

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25 cents at A. H. Huber's and Joseph B. Boyle's Drug Stores.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at A. H. Huber's and Jos. B. Boyle's Drug Stores.
