ANOTHER.

Ten thousand men obeyed his lightest word,
He pressed a button at his desk, and, lo!
Men who for years had struggled on and on
Awoke to find their dreams of riches gone,
And bowing servants saw him come and go.

He spoke, and markets rose forthwith or fell,
He governed all that mighty wealth will buy!
Fame, honor, power, homage, he possessed,
And yesterday you would have called him blest—
But millionaires and paupers have to die!

The shouting in the market still goes on,
Though whispering servants tiptoe through his hall,
How poor was I beside him yesterday!
How rich to-day beside his pulseless clay!
Make fast the lid and let the curtains fall.

—S. E. Kiser in Cleveland Leader.

When first hatched, the young lobster is less than half an inch long, and in its habits totally different from the adult. The first few weeks of its life are spent at or near the surface, swimming about, and it is not until after the fifth or sixth moult that it sinks to the bottom, even then less than an inch in length. At this period of its life the lobster is still shrouded in mystery, his long journey to the ocean bottom completely removing him from observation. Until four or five inches long they are too small to be held in the lobster-traps, and too nimble to be approached direct. Sometimes specimens two or three inches long are found under stone near the coast; but from the time they sink into the ocean up to this period they are rarely found.

Anna—"She refused him, as she thought he would propose again."
Jane—"And did he?"
Anna—"Oh, yes. But it was to another girl."

The atmosphere is so clear in Zululand that, it is said, objects can be seen by starlight at a distance of seven miles.

Kind words, like fragrant flowers, are admired by all.

The Center of the Eye.

Should come directly in the center of the lens—sometimes—not always.

Whether your eye should look through the inner, outer, upper or lower part is immaterial to you, but that it should look through the right part is the greatest importance. The wrong glass wrongly placed will injure your eye. The right one, rightly adjusted, will strengthen it. A knowledge of the muscular eye, that will enable us to place the lens properly, is what we offer you with every pair of glasses we adjust.

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. If you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of WALL PAPER
