CORRESPONDENCE
1759

Samuel Galloway Incoming Letters

MS. 1994

SIDE TWO

Province. The particulars of the taking that place are sent home long ago & no doubt are made publick. The French retired to Wenango & Presq' Isle from whence its probable they will make an attempt to retake the place before we can take the Fort in the Spring, but the works are daily repairing and a considerable Garrison is left at Loyal Hanning & Rhea's Town to be ready to march to their assistance on the first Intelligence. Mr. Pitt in his Majesties name has demanded the same or a greater Number of Troops to be furnished by the respective Governments for the next Campaign, but the Plan of the several Expeditions to be carried on against the French are not yet communicated to the Governors by ~~the~~ General Amherst, but he has appointed them to meet him soon at this place to settle Matters agreable to the plan concerted. Poor Forbes is at Death's Door, Nature quite worn out & its scarcely possible he can last much longer. I have the pleasure to assure you that your Daughter Polly has behaved extremely well of late & improves very fast.
I state be glad to hear from you by every Opportunity and am Dr. S. Your very affectionate Bro.

B. Chew

Phila. 25. Feb. 1759

Let me know if you have got me a Chariott