CORRESPONDENCE
1765

Samuel Galloway incoming Letters

MS. 1994

SIDE ONE

Mary Ogle married Robert Richardson in 1765.
See "A Colonial Governor in Maryland"

My Dear Brother

I last night unluckely at the assembly when your letters came therefore could not see the post who brought them & left word he should go early this Morning so that tis impossible for me to pretend to send the things should he have agreed to take them. but will send them as soon as the Sugge goes de recte as you desire I thank you for goodness in offering to come up for me I should be extreamly glad to see you but beg you will not come up for me as I cannot think of leaveing Sister so entirely alone as she must be in my absence. she is now in great spirits she yesterday received a letter from Tommy he was safely arrivd after a passage of 28 Days. not one has wrote me to who miss Ogle was going to be Marry'd but from what polly writes I think it must be Ridout I will let you know by the post whether the bill you sent is excepted pray give my love to my brother & Polly I thank her for my letter & would answer it was it in my power My love to all my friends and beleive me to be your truly

~~A[illegible]~~ May the 4th

Affectionate Sister
M. G.

I have been vastly anxious to hear Selem had won the Race I am very glad to hear it