Some of the members of Carroll Encampment No 17, I. O. O. F., with their families and friends, had a day's outing on Saturday last at the falls near the Hoffman junction. During the morning the boys went to the head waters of Sharrer's dam and seined. The fun was far in advance of the catch. The girls enjoyed bathing in the Gunpowder. By the time dinner was announced all the appetites were sharpened for the bountiful repast under the wide spreading maples. Thirty persons did full justice to chicken, ham, eggs, salads, cakes, &c. The afternoon was spent in games and social chat. All reached home just before the storm. The only accident was from a misunderstanding between a gentleman and his horse to walk into the falls for water. The gent prevailed and the horse went in with a rush and one of the ladies had her husband to hang up on the bushes to dry.

On Thursday evening of last week two straw riding parties were carried by the Grove Bros., the one, 44 in number, by Mr. Nelson Grove, to the house of Mr. Conrad Nagle, near Greenmount, the other, 18 in number, by Mr. Charles Grove, to W. C. Stick's Hotel, Hampstead. Both events were fully enjoyed by all and the midnight hour was past ere home was reached.

Mrs. Samuel Miller, of North Main street, gave a party on Thursday evening of last week in honor of her sister, Miss Shaffer, of Baltimore. Music was a prominent feature during the evening, by the Misses Roeder, and sociability in general was enjoyed by all as well as the abundant refreshments served during the evening.

Miss Fannie G. Ross came to the front with the Misses Boetler, of Baltimore and Mrs. Hutchins, of Baltimore county., with a cake walk at the home of Mrs. J. M. Motter, South Main street, on Friday evening, which was a unique affair in our society. The characters were well gotten up and maintained to the full enjoyment of all present. The cake was awarded to Mrs. Georgianna Jackson, who championed her character to the unanimous satisfaction of the judges. Abundant refreshments were served the large company present.

On Monday evening 34 of our ladies and gentlemen drove to the Stick Hotel, Hampstead, for supper pre-arranged by some of our epicureans. The hotel was soon in their possession and host and hostess did much to make the stay pleasant. Music, games and other social features kept all on the alert so that when the invitation to the dining room was given all were ready to do their part, and spring chicken and hot rolls were made to disappear quite freely. It was near the midnight hour ere home was reached.

On Sunday, the Areon Quartette of this place, by special arrangement, entertained the audience at Emory Chapel, Baltimore county, with some choice selections, both afternoon and night. The members were Miss Edna Lamotte, soprano; Miss Minerva Loats, alto; Mr. Edward Handy, tenor; Mr. Jacob Hoffman, bass.
