1767 Samuel Galloway incoming Letters SIDE ONE 1994

Dr Sir Phila 29th Octr 1767

I would have wrote you before if I had in my Power to get any thing settled. Mr Chew was obliged to go to New Castle with the Governor, and when he returned I carried Rawling to him, and he refused to give security without he was suffered to name Stephenson, as one of the Arbitrators, which he or I could not consent to at any rate, nor would Mrs Shippen and Allen, be concerned with him, which I was afraid would put the Matter of indeed Mr Chew was desirous it should be so, as he thought it much better to buy or sell than devide, which Rawling has just now agreed to and has promised to enter into a Bond to morrow and leave out Stephenson I hope this is for the Better. Mr Chew has been so kind as to say I shall not want Money if I pay it soon. I think he will serve me if he can. I shall go to Lancaster on Sunday with Mrs Shippen & Allen, and shall leave a letter here to be sent you letting you know what is done and will write you from Lancaster if any Opportunity offers. I am Dr Sir y affect.
