The County Commissioners were engaged chiefly in routine business, at their meeting on Monday. A special pension of $3 was granted to Mary Stuller, of district No. 7; one of $5 to Rosanna Bart, of district No 9; and one of $5 to Richard Richardson, of district No. 11.

Immediately after the adjournment of the Republican county convention on Monday, the new County Central Committee met and organized by re-electing George E. Sharrer, chairman, and Dr. George E. Omaha newspapers contain extended sketches of the life of Rev. Dr. H. W. Kuhns, of that city, who died suddenly on the 19th inst, as related in last week's SENTINEL. These papers all speak in terms of the highest praise of the deceased clergymen and credit him with having done much to promote the interests of Omaha. Among his many acts in this direction was the inception and location of the State Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, in that city.

Mr. George Rolshouse, of Allegheny City, Pa., spent from Saturday till Monday last with his nephew, Mr. Oscar D. Gilbert, of this city. While Mrs. Reuben Bish, of Cranberry Sta. was at work in her pantry, Wednesday, a cider bottle burst and a piece of the flying glass struck her on the nose, which was split its entire length. Another piece struck her left arm, cutting into the bone and making a gash two inches long. Dr. Mr. L. Bott, of this city, rendered the necessary surgical treatment in the case. It was fortunate that the glass did not strike her eye, as it would, in all probability, have destroyed it.

While Rev. W. O. Livingston and wife, of Deer Park circuit, were out driving on Wednesday last, their horse became unmanageable and ran at a terrific gait down a steep hill, colliding with a fence, overturning the buggy and throwing the occupants violently to the ground. Mrs. Livingston was rendered partly unconscious by the accident, and both of them sustained a number of severe bruises. Fortunately neither of them were seriously injured. The accident occurred near the residence of Mr. Martin Bitzel, who very kindly cared for the injured parties until they fully recovered and then took them home. The buggy was partially demolished.

Deer Park Methodist Protestant Church held a Christian Endeavor rally on Sunday afternoon and evening, which proved to be a decided success in every way. The church was very beautifully decorated with golden rod and flags and was filled to overflowing at each service. The exercises were conducted in a very spirited manner, showing that the society at that place is wide awake. Excellent addresses were delivered by Rev. S. W. Coe, of Finksburg; A. G. Dixon and W. M. Lucas, of Westminster Theological Seminary. The pastor, Rev. W. O. Livingston, also made some remarks. Mr. Geo. W. Mather, president of the county C. E. Union, was present and took part in the program.

Miss Mary E. Bell, daughter of Mr. George A. Bell, of No. 194 East Green street, was made very happy by a birthday party, given her at her home, on Wednesday evening. Since then he has not been heard from, and it has been ascertained that his wife, who was Miss Minnie Stuller, has not been at Marston recently. The turnout with which Cockran has driven to parts unknown consists of a small black gelding, 6 years old, weighing 900 pounds and being somewhat sunburned; falling top buggy with black body and red running gear, harness, whip, lap spread and two rubber blankets. The buggy is supposed to have the name of John E. Eckenrode, as manufacturer, somewhere about it. Cochran is described as being 5 feet, 5 inches high, weighs 160 lbs., has dark hair and stubby beard, and wore a dark suit, brown slouch hat and blue mackintosh.

Mrs. Catharine A. Bernstein, wife of Mr. John Bernstein, of this city, died at her home on East Main street, shortly before six o'clock, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Bernstein had been in failing health for several years, but her death was very sudden. Mr. Bernstein left her at home about four o'clock and was absent for a short time. When he returned he found her in an unconscious condition, in which she remained until she died, about an hour later. Apoplexy was the immediate cause of her demise. Mrs. Bernstein was 77 years old on the 17th ult. Her marriage with Mr. Bernstein took place 37½ years ago. She was a daughter of the late Wm. and Susan Mitten and a sister of Messrs. Nelson, Henry and Augustus J. Mitten, the last named of whom resides in Baltimore and is the only remaining member of the family. She was a member of the Lutheran Church. Death of Wm. H. Piper.

Died, suddenly, near New Windsor, on the 8th inst., Wm. H. Piper, aged 62 years. Mr. Piper had been complaining at times for several years, and was obliged to stay in the house for weeks at a time. He was possessed of energy and industry such as few persons manifest, and many times, before he was really able, he went to work. He was a day laborer, post-fencer, wood chopper and ditcher—almost anything that he was called on to do, he did, except work with a horse. Outside of that he was the most faithful day laborer in the district, and he was sought after by all the farmers within his reach. He never when able, or rarely, was without employment. When his day's labor was done the money was always paid him with pleasure, the employer knowing he was paying for an honest day's work. When he received the money, he used it for home comforts, never luxuries. Having been a bachelor, he used every cent on his aged parents to make their lives happy, and a friend has ventured the assertion—a pretty broad one—that Billy Piper earned more money by the sweat of his brow and carried it home, to his father, mother and sister, than any other man of his years in Carroll county. What a lesson can be learned from this faithful son by, oh, so many young men who are circumstanced as this man, and instead of spending their hard earned cash on excursions, beer and tobacco, should carry it home to their wives and children. What a lesson. How many more happy homes there would be. Billy had accumulated a very comfortable home and two acres of land, beside caring for a family of four persons for thirty years, and he always had a pair of fine porkers, a large wood pile and a fat flour barrel. He was a model son, an honest man and a pattern for any young man. He was a constant reader of the SENTINEL for 10 years past. He was buried at Sams Creek cemetery. Rev. Mr. Meeks gave a beautiful talk. Elder Franklin assisted in the services.

Your correspondent received, this week, from one of the learned professors of Carroll county, who is now holding an academy, in high esteem, the following text, written in Latin, and says that recent events demand an explanation to a sermon preached from it: "Deus creavit caelum et terram intra sex dies." As neither the time for explanation, nor sermon is set forth in the demand we do not infer that the answer to the request is an immediate expectation; therefore, if the professor is in true earnest, and will defer his demand until after the political campaign is over, it will be our pleasure to answer his questions, "Deo volente."

On Monday evening last, a committee of Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F., had a banquet prepared for the membership in the lower room of the hall. After the regular routine of business was over, the members repaired to the room, where they had a good social time around the festive board, enjoying the chicken, chips, coffee, milk, &c. Just as the ice cream was being served, the door was thrown open and to their astonishment in marched their wives and lady friends, fully equipped with the good things for a royal feast. They were welcomed with a shout. Soon they had the cloth spread and the table was made to groan under the weight of substantials and delicacies which were enjoyed by the ladies to the fullest extent while the gallant gentlemen were serving them with hot coffee, ice cream, &c. About the time this double banquet was concluded, Joe, the harper, and his comrade marched into the hall and furnished first class music for the dancing which followed until a late hour. The members of this organization have been enjoying festive occasions of this kind for several years, but generally independently of the ladies. The chairman of the arrangement committee, in sending the invitation to Mr. W. C. Stick, of Hampstead, closed by saying: "Be sure and come; the women are not in it." This Mrs. Stick accepted as a challenge and at once set plans to work and with the aid of the ladies here the surprise was successfully carried out. Although the evening was among the worst of the season she came fully prepared for the occasion, and she now enjoys the satisfaction of having knocked out her challenger, and borne the banner emblazoned with the motto: "The Women Were In It." Suddenly in Union Bridge, September 24th, 1899, John S. Repp, aged 77 years.

IN MEMORIAM OF CATHERINE, WIFE OF JOHN A. GRABENHORST, WHO DIED AUGUST 31st, 1899.

"Gone but not forgotten."

I saw thee suffer, heard thy sighs,
With throbbing heart and drooping eyes,
But now you calmly sleep at last,
All grief, all pain, all suffering past.

Catherine, you are not forgot,
Nor ever will you be;
As long as life and memory last,
I will remember thee.

A precious helpmate from me has gone,
A voice I loved, is stilled,
A place is vacant in my home,
Which never can be filled.

My darling now has gone to rest,
Beneath the tree of life,
She leans upon the Saviour's breast
So free from pain and strife.

O! dear wife, how can I give you up?
It seems to me unjust
To lay you in the cold damp earth,
To moulder into dust."

—From her dear husband, Andrew Grabenhorst.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Barbara Lucabaugh, who died five years ago, to-day, September 27th, 1894.

"Gone but not forgotten."

The night dew that falls,
Though in silence it weeps,
Shall cover with verdure,
The grave where she sleeps.

And the tears [illegible] have shed,
Though in [illegible]t they flow,
Shall long [illegible]emembered
Wherever [illegible] go.

By her Sister.
