WEDDING BELLS.

Smith-Petry.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Petry, near Pleasant Valley, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday afternoon at half past two o'clock. The pleasant home was tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums and evergreen for the occasion. Miss Corda Burns, of Mansfield, Ill., was bridesmaid and Mr. Chas. Brown, of Westminster, best man. The maid of honor was handsomely gowned in figured tafeta cloth, and wore white chrysanthemums. The groom wore the customary black. The ceremony was performed by Elder Uriah Bixler, of the German Baptist Church. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Upton Myers, sister of the bride. Misses Carrie Warner and Treva M. Eyster also sang some choice selections. As announced in the Sentinel Dr. Chas. Blackshear, professor of chemistry in the Woman's College of Baltimore, gave us his interesting illustrated chemical lecture on "Combustion," on Friday evening last. The doctor had with him a small sized chemical laboratory and during the evening gave some very beautiful illustrations of his subject. The subject, though technical, was handled in such an interesting manner that the people regretted when he stopped, though he had talked nearly 1½ hours. We feel a just pride in the start which our lecture course has made, and would assure Dr. Blackshear that should he ever return to this part of Carroll county he would have a much larger and equally interested audience.

On Friday evening, December 15th, Rev. B F. Clarkson will give one of his humorous lectures at Academy Hall. Mr. Clarkson needs no introduction to the people of this community. To the people we would say: "Remember the date and come early." We are not yet enabled to announce the date of Dr. Goucher's lecture, but it will be some time in December.

On Tuesday last Mr. David Cover had a most miraculous escape from serious injury. In some way his foot became entangled in the trace of one of his work horses, which became frightened and dragged Mr. Cover at full speed from his barn through Winfield as far as the G. A. R. Hall, a distance of over 200 yards. As the horse turned into Mr. Easton's yard Mr. Cover's foot was liberated and he escaped with a number of bruises, but as far as we have been enabled to learn, no further injury.

Although we are enjoying this beautiful autumn weather that enables the farmer and mechanic to finish their belated work, yet it does not meet the wants of the many persons who are ready to butcher and arrange the curing of their meat products, though some have already done so and by next week this work will be general and the weights of many heavy porkers known.

On Thursday evening of last week fifteen members of Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F., went to the Stick Hotel, Hampstead, and enjoyed a prearranged rabbit roast; the supper certainly was par excellence, and the host and hostess did themselves big in the general get up of the affair and the warm reception given their guests. When supper was announced and all seated around a neatly decorated table, with a bountiful supply of salads, sauces, &c., each was served with a fine roasted rabbit, dressed with oysters. This excited very considerable merriment, but while it proved an excess of rabbit to some, others picked the bones clean and cleared up their surroundings with alacrity and dispatch. None, however, needed a second supply. A good social time, with games and chat, made the affair pleasant and long to be remembered.

Dr. Henry Jones, of Ohio, who is a native of this district, after some years of absence came East to visit friends, and had a bad spell of toothache. He went to Shrewsberry and had the tooth extracted. It was quite a difficult task and the dentist fractured the jaw bone. Several splinters were taken out and it is supposed he took cold in it. It became inflamed and pained him so severely that a physician was called to attend him, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Joshua Albaugh, three miles from this place. He grew worse and other physicians were summoned. As lockjaw set in Dr. J. H. Preston, of this place, was finally called in and at once made use of anti-toxin. The second application unlocked the jaws and at last reports he was doing quite well, indicating a speedy recovery to his usual health.

While at the coach shop of Mr. W. L. F. Bergman a few days ago we were shown a new hearse, Mr. B. is building, to be used in his undertaking department. It will be purely white for children and young persons. It reflects a great deal of credit upon the enterprise of the builder.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Geckler, whose home is with Mrs. J. M. Motter, on South Main street, fell and struck her shoulder, causing much pain. When Dr. Preston was called he found it dislocated. He reduced the dislocation and made her as comfortable as possible.

A company of ladies is in rehearsal to give the melo drama, "The Boose Family," in the I. O. O. F. Hall, of this place, on Thanksgiving night. They will be assisted by Baltimore talent, in readings and recitals, with a good sprinkling of fine music. It promises to give our people a fine evening's entertainment. The proceeds are for church purposes.

Those from a distance at the funeral of Mrs. Oliver Lippy, on Saturday last, were Mrs. Raber and son, of Philadelphia; Mr. Harman and sons, Woodberry; Mr. Young and wife, Glen Rock; Mrs. Woods and daughter, Westminster; Mr. Geo. Whitmer, Table Rock, Pa.; Mrs. Nickey, of Catonsville.

The Misses Crouse, of Westminster, spent Tuesday with Miss Sallie Masenhimer.

Mrs. Chas. J. Everhart gave a taffy pulling at her home on Wednesday evening of last week, to a company of friends. There is a mania here among the boys and young men to watch up and steal the taffy and caramel, when set out to cool, and they generally succeed. At this party there were rival parties and the young men made an attack upon the boys who mistook them for the men of the company and quite an amusing chase followed for a half mile.

The grand jury concluded its work on Thursday, submitted its report and was discharged. The report is as follows:

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Court for Carroll county.

The Grand Jury for the November term, 1899, have been assembled for 10 days. During their deliberations they have earnestly endeavored to discharge their duty honestly and fearlessly without fear and without malice. As the result of their labors they make the following report:

Total cases heard 51, witnesses issued for 87, witnesses examined 94, constables examined 12, cases presented 34, cases dismissed 17, indictments found 34.

As instructed by the court we visited the County Jail and instituted a thorough examination in regard to the building as a safe and secure place for the retention of prisoners and also inquired into the sanitary condition of the said building. Our examination resulted in finding as follows: The building, as has been verified at different times by the escape of prisoners, is in our judgment unsafe. Such repairs should be made as soon as possible to strengthen the building that would assure the authorities that prisoners placed therein could be kept with security and safety. The sanitary condition also demands some attention. We recommend that water closets be placed in a number of cells, as it is really necessary where prisoners have to be placed in solitary confinement, and we would respectfully urge that this matter be given immediate attention and also that a water closet be glaced in the dwelling part of the building. We would also reccommend that some arrangement should be made for the separation of male and female prisoners. Such improvements would be conducive not only to the good health of the prisoners, but also to the people who reside in the dwelling portion of the building.

We would reccommend that prompt attention be given to the ventilation of the grand jury room.

The county jail, under the efficient custodian, Sheriff Ephraim Haines, we found the building to be kept in as orderly and as cleanly condition as the existing circumstances permitted.

In reviewing the work of the term, whilst there have been some infractions of the laws, yet on the whole we have been favorably impressed with the general good order prevailing throughout the county, which speaks in commendation for its citizens.

Having now finished our labors, upon submitting this report, we respectfully ask to be discharged.

Robert Sellman, Foreman.

In memory of Goldie A. Steele, who died six months ago, to-day.

Gone from earth, yes gone forever,
Tear-dimmed eyes shall gaze in vain;
We shall hear her voice, oh! never,
Never more on earth again.

Home is sad, oh! God, how dreary;
Lonesome, lonesome every spot;
Listening for her voice till weary,
Weary for we hear it not.

God of love, send us some token
From the spirit world above,
That these hearts, all crushed and broken,
May be healed by heavenly love.

By her Parents.

In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, George W. Stoner, who died one year ago, November 22nd, 1898.

One mournful year has vanished,
Think we while our teardrops start;
But the memory of our dear father
Still is fresh within our hearts.
Oh! the misery of that dreary night,
When we stood around his bed
Till death stole upon him softly,
And we knew his soul had fled.
Ah! since then our lives are saddened—
Since that night our hopes are slain;
But his voice seems softly saying,
Courage! we shall meet again.

By his Wife and Children.
