The case of Mr. Grove A. Shipley against Mrs. Irene C. Bennett, administratrix of the late State Senator Bennett, which was tried before the Circuit Court during the recent jury proceedings of the February term, was finally argued before the judges this week and judgment rendered for the defendant. The case was a suit on bond. The history of the case in brief is that a mortgage held by the late Benj. W. Bennett on the real estate of George W. Pickett and wife was assigned by Mr. Bennett's executor, the late Pinkney J. Bennett, to Mr. Shipley, the plaintiff, to whom he gave a bond for $400 to secure him against loss in the event of a traction engine, on the property, being sold by Mr. Pickett. Mr. Pickett held that the engine was personal property and was not covered by the mortgage. He disposed of it and Mr. Shipley brought suit to recover on the bond. Much interest attached to the case, which was full of legal technicalities.

"Antrim," Judge Harry M. Clabaugh's country residence at Taneytown, was burglarized on Saturday night last and a robbery perpetrated, the full extent of which is not accurately known. Sometime during Saturday night the judge's farmer, Mr. Witherow, noticed a light in the house and at once suspected the cause. On Monday two young white men, Harry Feeser and Walter Angell, of Taneytown or vicinity, were arrested in Hanover, Pa., and brought to this city by Sheriff Motter, where Justice Wm. Moore committed them to jail for a hearing to-day, on the charge of having perpetrated the robbery.

Mt. Airy Post Office Robbed.

The postoffice and drug store of Mr. Walter R. Rudy, at Mt. Airy, was raided by burglars about 2 o'clock, Thursday morning, and stamps amounting to $950 and $300 in money taken by the robbers The story of the burglary is substantially as follows, as told by Mr. Charles C. Riddlemoser, assistant night operator at the telegraph office in Mt. Airy. Mr Riddlemoser went to a pump nearby to get a bucket of water and seeing the door of the drug store, which is also the postoffice, open, and supposing that Postmaster Rudy's clerk, Mr. C. D. Routzahn, was in the store, called to him, but was surprised by a masked man presenting a revolver at him and compelling him to go inside and sit down on the bucket he had with him to get water.

After blindfolding and searching Mr. Riddlemoser the robbers proceeded to blow open the safe with dynamite. The safe was completely demolished by the explosion, blowing the door wide open. A large hole was made in the ceiling and another in the floor. After rifling the safe, taking the stamps and money, two of the robbers left and the third watched Mr. Riddlemoser until the others were at a safe distance, when he was released.

After the explosion Mr. E. L. Shipley, the night telegraph operator, thinking Riddlemoser was overstaying his time, went to look for him and arrived just in time to see the last robber leaving.

This is the third time the postoffice at Mount Airy has been robbed, but the loss on previous occasions was comparatively little. The robbery was evidently done this time by professionals. The door of the postoffice was forced with a jimmy, which the burglars left when they retreated.

Before going the burglars searched Riddlemoser, he says, and as only some small change was found on him he was told to keep it and get himself a few "bracers in the morning, as he would doubtless need them after his experience." Mr. Riddlemoser says the three men wore masks, that one was very tall and wore a black overcoat and another one was of medium height and wore a light overcoat. He was unable to describe the third man.

Postmaster Rudy received $650 from the Citizens' National Bank of Frederick last night for Jones & Co., bankers, but, being afraid to have too much money on hand, sent it to Mr. Jones; otherwise it, too, would have been stolen.

Union Mills Items.

A more honorable or just man than was Mr. John Leister is seldom found, and when, on the 10th inst., after an illness of only a few days, of pneumonia, he closed his eyes in the sleep that knows no waking, our community was deeply impressed with the truthfulness of the saying that "death loves a shining mark." Mr. Leister always treated his neighbors and friends with kindness and good will, and in all his business dealings he was a model of fairness and honesty. For many years he resided on his farm, in Big Pipe Creek Valley, and by strict attention to his pursuit of agriculture made a success of it and at the time of his death was regarded as a man of considerable wealth. A year or two ago he purchased a house in this village where he had since lived and in which he died. He was twice married. His first wife was a daughter of the late Joseph Myers, of near Frizellburg. Several children, all now dead, were born of this marriage. His second marriage was to Miss Susan Flickinger, by whom he is survived and who is now lying upon a bed of sickness and was unable to attend her husband's funeral. Mr. Leister was a consistent member of the German Baptist Church and was prominently identified with the building of the church of, that denomination in this place. His burial took place on Thursday morning at Meadow Branch meeting house. Elder Charles D. Bonsack officiated, and undertaker Groft had charge of the funeral arrangements. The pall bearers were: Charles E. Nusbaum, Samuel Messinger, George D. Humbert, Nelson Koontz of J., George G. Myers, Ephraim J. Yingling. Mr. Leister was aged seventy-four years.

Next week closes the work of the public schools for the year. We have not heard of any subscription schools in this part of the county, but trust they will not be neglected. Carroll county, though one of the richest in the State, will never take her place in the front ranks until she pays more attention to the education of her youth, and she will not have done her whole duty until she establishes the rule of four full terms a year for her public schools. There is material sufficient in Winfield as there is in most of the districts, for a subscription school, and if possible to have one, the opportunity should not be neglected by parents, pupils or teacher. A summer term to the young, if properly run, is as much as the other three. Mr. Ward, who closes a successful year, has infused his high school and college training into his work with evident results. At the close of his work he will go to the city. We have heard nothing but good reports from all the public schools in this part of the county. The Academy offers a special revised course, preparatory to teachers' examination, to all advanced pupils beginning April 23rd.

H. W. Streaker and Robt. Brandenburg are supplementing their regular course with a course of law.

MINOT, Ward Co., N. D.

Dear Mr. Null and Scholars:

We are now in N. Dakota, and I liked the ride very well. I like the country very well, and I should like to know how you and your scholars are. I got tired of the ride. We saw many things, and we saw lots of pretty country on the way out here. We are all well, and we have got a nice car to live in. I helped to eat a big potato and think it better than Maryland potatoes. I like the country better than Maryland. I saw an Indian and he was an ugly fellow, and I enjoy the country very well.

From your scholar,

PAUL E SHORB.

Mr. Jesse Babylon, an aged citizen, who has been critically ill, is improving again.

To prove that Oakland Mills have boomed this part of the county just cast your eye about this vicinity and behold the towns that have recently sprung into existence, beginning with that much sought for place, Oaklahoma, and note, if you please, the growth of said place; then turning eastward about two miles you will find the new and beautiful village of Hansonville, referred to by your correspondent of that place; and behold the rapid growth of said place in a few years. A little further up the road you will find another new town springing into being by the name of Parkersburg, which has hitherto been neglected by your numerous correspondents. Here too is found mechanics of all sorts who are quite proficient in their line of work. And in the near future another town will spring into existence on the other side of Morgan's Run, as Mr. N. W. Steele has purchased the Shipley farm, which is to be laid out in town lots with avenues running in all directions, thereby making the situation and convenience more desirable than the other named towns. The name of this village has not been selected, so that will be left for the Mayor and City Council to decide.

B. PARSONS. For sale by W. Scott Zepp, Druggist, Westminster.
