SOME BOER WORDS DEFINED.

From Youth's Companion.

To abate somewhat the havoc that ensues when the average reader encounters a dispatch filled with Boer names and expressions, the New York Tribune has explained the meaning and pronunciation of the Boer words most frequent in the reports, some of which we quote below:

Oom Paul means Uncle Paul and is pronounced Ome Powl.

Bloemfontein means Bloom Spring, and pronounced Bloom-fonetine.

Majuba, a Kaffir word, is pronounced ma-yoo-ba.

A veldheer, or field lord, is a Boer general.

The veld is the field.

The veldwatchteren are the field watchers or military police.

Kloofs is pronounced klofes and means clefts or ravines.

Joubert, the name of the Boer general, is pronounced Yow-bert.

The Jonkheeren, pronounced yonkhairen, are the young lords or members of the first and second orders of the legislature.

The Raad Huis, pronounced Rahd Hoys, is where they meet.

Uitlander is pronounced Oytlahnder.

The rand, where so much gold is found, means the border.

Witwatersrand means Edge of the White Water.

Kopje means little head, and is used to describe a hill or small eminence.

A laager, pronounced lah-her, means a camp.

A trek is a journey.

Boer means a rustic.

Mountain Rats in Colorado.

H. P. Ufford, writing in the Century of "Out of Doors in Colorado," describes the mountain rat as the only plague worse than the Canadian jay, popularly known as the "camp-robber." Of the rat he says:

This fierce rodent is nearly twice the size of the Norway species, and is always ready for a fight. Besides his bellicose propensities, he is an arrant thief. The miners have a saying that he will steal anything but a red-hot stove. He does not steal to satisfy hunger alone; he appears to be a kleptomaniac. Provoked by the depredations of one old graybeard who haunted our cabin, I one day assisted in harrying his castle, where I found the following articles: Four candles, one partly burned, three intact; two spoons, one knife, two forks, twenty-seven nails, all sizes; one box of pills; one coffee pot lid and one tin cup; two pairs of socks; three handkerchiefs; one bottle of ink; three empty phials; one stick of giant powder with ten feet of fuse; beans, rice and dried apples galore. His spirit of mischief is as strong as his passion for stealing, and the honest miner solemnly avers that if you leave open a bag of beans or one of rice, he will not rest till he has made a clean transfer of all the beans to the rice-bag, and vice versa. I know that more than once he has, during the night, filled one or both of my boots with the cones of the spruce tree. I have heard also, of a veracious prospector who, returning from a trip without coffee pot, frying pan and bake oven, accounted for their absense by declaring that the mountain rats had carried them off, and emphasized his assertion by shooting through the leg a skeptic who was so injudicious as to doubt the fact.

UNIQUE HAND-WRITING.

An almost unique case of nervous disease was investigated at the last sitting of the French Academy of Medicine. The patient is a young Roumanian, whose malady has been observed by Dr. Marinesco of Bucharest. The most curious manifestation of his disease takes the shape of what is known among scientists as "mirror-writing," which means that the characters are written backward, so that when reflected in a mirror they are to be read in the ordinary way. Dr. Marinesco had observed that the hands of his patient, when unoccupied, were affected with a nervous trembling, which ceased to a great extent when they were used for a definite purpose. Wishing to see what effect this symptom of the malady had on the handwriting Dr. Marinesco asked the patient to write a few lines from dictation; to his astonishment he found that the entire passage had been written backward with absolute accuracy. The experiment was repeated several times with exactly the same result, and it is, in fact, impossible for the patient to write otherwise. When asked to trace a word with his foot on the ground it, too, was found to be written backward. The patient being a Jew, a final experiment was made with Hebrew. This language, as is well known, is always written backward, but the patient, reversing, as usual, the normal process, can only write it from left to right. Partial cases of mirror writing have been observed before, but none in which the tendency was so irresistible.

HARDY FILIPINO BUFFALOES.

Have Immense Strength, and Wild Ones Are Constantly Caught.

The wild buffaloes of the Philippines come from the interior, where many natives spend their time in capturing and taming them. It takes a long time to tame the wild creatures and break them into service. Some old bulls absolutely refuse to be tamed, and they show their resentment for capture up to the time of their death. Most of those in service are born and bred in captivity, and the young calves are very easily trained for use. Still enough of the wild caraboas are caught every year to keep the stock from degenerating. They take to civilized life much more readily than our American bison, resembling in this respect the true water buffalo of India. The strength of these animals is marvelous. In respect to size, strength and ponderousness they resemble the eledhant more than any other creature. They simply haul anything that is hitched behind them, and it is the shaft or traces that break if the load cannot be moved. Across all sorts of rough and miry country they pull the load, although they have not the sure footing of the mule in climbing steep and rough mountains and hills, they are better in the soft, miry lowlands which compose so large a part of the Philippines. When angered and runni[ng] away, they dash across the coun[try] with thesr heavy load, as if it w[ere] so much light, flimsy cotton. N[ot] only are they then regardless [of] what is behind them, but also what may rear itself in front. [Be] it a river, a fence, a ditch or jun[gle] or another cart, the maddened a[ni]mal plunges blindly through across it, and never halts until [dis]abled or its anger has evaporat[ed]. In the latter case it then sudde[nly] becomes as meek and docile as [be]fore. If whipped for its misde[eds] its meek eyes seem to ask why i[t is] punished, and they look as innoc[ent] as those of a child or a deer.

Unfortunate.

There are many Joneses in [the] world, but perhaps not quite [as] many as people think. Not l[ong] ago two friends met who had [not] seen each other for ten years, si[nce] their schooldays.

"Whom did you marry, Billy?" asked one.

"A Miss Jones—of Philadelpia," replied Billy, who was a trifle sensitive.

"You always did take to the name 'Jones.' I can remember when we went to school together, you used to tag round after a little snub-nosed Jones girl."

"I remember it, too," said Billy. "She's the girl I married."

A preacher used to tell the following: He said he was in Appanoose county, Iowa, preaching on one occasion, when he stopped at a farm house to get his dinner. While eating, the lady of the house inquired his business and he replied: "I am hunting the lost sheep of Israel." She left the room and in a few minutes returned with her husband when she said: "This man is hunting some stray sheep and I'll bet that long wool ram that's been around here is his'n." "No, sister, you don't understand me. I am hunting sinners, those for whom Christ died." "And is he dead?" she queried. "Yes," replied the man of God, astonished at her ignorance. "And buried, too, I reckon?" "Oh yes, long, long ago." "There, now, old man, I told you we'd die in ignorance fer not takin' a newspaper."

Originally the turnip came from Europe, but has spread almost all over the world. It grows luxuriantly in Siberia, and is known all over Asia. The turnip in its wild state is found in many parts of North America, but is a small and inferior article compared with those with which we are familiar. As food for cattle, turnips, especially the yellow sorts, are excellent; but they should never be fed to cows that are giving milk, as they impart an extremely unpleasant flavor and odor to the milk, and, for some reason or other that dairymen do not understand, the milk from turnip-fed cows has very little cream.

"Pa," said the small boy, "wh... ...ween Massach... and Kentucky?"

"Well, my boy, guess I will have to give it up. What is the difference?"

"In Massachusetts they make boots and shoes, but in Kentucky they make shoots and booze."

FURNITURE, QUEENSWARE AND HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

$5,000.00

in beautiful Home Furnishings to be disposed of within the NEXT 30 DAYS.

Owing to the ill health of the senior member of the firm, we have disposed of our entire stock of Carpets and Oil Cloth and have decided to close out our entire stock of Furniture, Queensware and Housefurnishings at about

50 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

This is one of the greatest opportunities in a lifetime for the people of Westminster and Carroll county to furnish their homes with beautiful Furniture and Queensware at a very small cost. Now, as the time is short and the goods must be closed out, we hope you will avail yourself of this wonderful opportunity and secure some of the many Bargains we are almost giving away to the people. We would like to give the prices on the goods we are offering, but as the articles are so numerous and the space limited, we ask that you give us a call and learn the goods and the prices we are offering them for. We know that we will save you at least 25 to 50 per cent. during this great sale.

Very Respectfully,

Theo. Derr & Son.

P. S.—Positively no goods sold on credit or delivered out of the city limits during this sale.

WE TOLD YOU SO.

One year ago when prospective purchasers called to see us we urged them to place their orders, stating prices were advancing and to buy at once. The situation has not changed, the prospects are for strong prices this coming season. Drop in and see us, we can save you money on anything you want in Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. If you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of

WALL PAPER
