Dear Sir Bristol July 30th 1781

When I wrote you last, which was the beginning of this Month by Packet to New York, I little thought, I shoud have to address you again from this place, at so late a period - My Business was in such forwardness at that time that I expected to have been at Sea in my Return, at least by this time. But a New Difficulty was started, which I have but just got over, and I am now in hopes, as it is the last that can possibly happen, I shall be at Liberty in a very little time to set off on my Return. Nothing is now wanting to put it in my Power to embrace the first Opportunity that offers, But the drawing of the Profits of the Accounts which I am to bring out with me, which the Attorney is now about - I expect will finish in a few days - Immediately after that is done, I shall go to London, where
