Select Poetry.

NOT WORK, BUT WORRY.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That wrinkles the smooth, fair face,
That blends gray hairs with the dusky,
And robs the form of its grace;
That dims the lustre and sparkle
Of eyes that were once so bright,
But now are heavy and troubled,
With a weary, despondent life.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That drives all sleep away,
As we toss and turn and wonder
About the cares of the day.
Do we think of the hands' hard labor,
Or the steps of the tired feet?
Ah! no, but we plan and ponder
How to make both ends meet.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That makes us sober and sad,
That makes us narrow and sordid,
When we should be cheery and glad,
There's a shadow before the sunlight,
And ever a cloud in the blue,
The scent of the rose is tainted,
The notes of the song are untrue.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That makes the world grow old,
That numbers the years of its children
Ere half their story is told;
That weakens their faith in heaven
And the wisdom of God's great plan.
Ah! 'tis not the work, but the worry,
That breaks the heart of man.

Letter From North Dakota.

July 10th, 1900, Cando, N. Dakota.

Editor of the SENTINEL:

Parhaps some of your readers will be interested in North Dakota. As there are numbers here who came from Carroll county, I thought it would be interesting to give a description of the country, the advance in price of land, settlement of same, mode of farming and the amonnt that can be farmed with so little help and horse power. First, when I came to Towner county, one-third or more of the land was not taken but was all owned by the Government. Now there is not one foot of Uucle Sam's land in the county. Almost every 160 acres has some kind of a house and stable, mostly good and comfortable small houses and some very good large houses and stables. Some have sod shacks and stables. Land is being broke out very rapidly, and of course that will make it advance in price. I know of quarter sections—160 acres—that belonged to Uncle Sam when I came out here that are selling at from $800 to $1200, from 12 to 30 miles from county seat and railroad. Land 2 to 5 miles from county seat is selling at from $2000 to $3000 a quarter, that I could have bought for $800 to $1000. I bought 320 acres two miles north of Cando, county seat, for $1600 that ought to bring $5000 now if I wished to sell. I will sell $1000 worth of hay this year. There were only 35 acres broke when I got it, I now have 200 under cultivation. The balance is hay and pasture land. I bought a quarter adjoining it two years ago for $1500 of which 125 acres was in crop. I got half the crop. There are many large farmers here that own a farm from 1000 to 3000 acres. And in order to make the statement short and plain I will tell you what I did with four horses and one hand. We moved on the farm April 2nd and hired Will Myers, who works for Elder David W. Shorb. He harrowed 140 acres over twice for wheat, some of it being soddy, dished 30 acres over the third time, then drilled it, then he harrowed 27 acres twice for oats, and drilled it; harrowed 60 acres for flax twice, and dished 30 acres of that, and then drilled it. Then went 16 miles to homestead and dished 12 acres over twice and drilled same to flax, then plowed 85 acres, harrowed over twice and drilled to barley, making 1032 acres that one man and four horses worked. That looks a little large to the Eastern farmer, and we only aim to work in field 11 hours. The ground was in as fine order as I have ever seen grain put in. I did the odd jobs, such as burning straw piles and burnt off all the stubble, if possible, and the old stuff that harrows up, cleaned seed grain and hauled it to the field with the fifth horse. When he would get done with one machine I would have the next one ready for him. That explains how a man can put out 3000 acres. My team worked 1000 acres. A large farmer, with three teams, would work 3000 acres. Now, I will explain how it is done. Here our sasons are much longer than in the East. It is claimed that June and July have 360 hours more sunshine than in the East. Thus things grow very rapidly. We sow all spring grain. On the longest day the sun rose half-past 3 and set at 10 o'clock. We unhitch at 7 o'clock, eat supper and go to bed before sundown and sleep till sun is away up, eat breakfast and get hitched up till 7 o'clock. Yet we have had very few days that the horses sweated any. I said we have longer seasons. That is this way, we harrow and sow from April 1st till June 20th. We sow wheat, which takes about 110 days to mature, first; then oats, which takes 90 days; flax next; then barley, from June 10th to 20th; barley matures in 70 days. In harvesting we cut wheat first, then oats or barley, then flax. We begin sowing as soon as the ground thaws three inches, in spring, and sow till June 20th; then break new sod and do up odd jobs till July 15th; then make hay, then harvest, then thrash, then plow till it freezes up in the fall, usually about November 15th. Last year we plowed till December 10th. Threshing crews furnish cooking car, wagons to haul bundles, board all the hands and all we have to do is to back wagons up to the machine, run them full and dump the wheat in elevator. This has been rather a dry season, much more in other places than here, yet we can stand more drouth here than in many places, as we have 2 feet of black loom, then from 4 to 7 feet of yellow alkcli clay, then from 10 to 25 feet of blue clay, very hard. Many places they have a sandy subsoil which won't stand the drouth. Ground freezes about 7 feet deep and it takes till July to thaw out, consequently we have an evaporation sufficient to raise a crop with a few showers. Usually we have plenty of rain. Water is ice cold all summer, and so is the subsoil, consequently things don't suffer from drouth as nights are always cool enough to sleep under cover. Cando has grown to be quite a town since I came here. We have as fine stores as Westminster and residences that cost $7000, heated with hot water and lighted by electricity. We have telephone connections. I will now close.

Respectfully yours,
D. H. ENGLAR.

Porto Rico's "Fourth."

The first general celebration of the great American holiday in Porto Rico (July 4, 1899,) is described in St. Nicholas by Frederick A. Ober:

Although it has not yet been declared that the natives of Porto Rico that latest acquisition of ours, are to be invested with all the rights of American citizenship, no doubt exists as to their desires. For many, many years, and particularly since the United States championed the cause of Cuba, they cherished the hope that we would rescue them from the tyranny of Spain, and when, therefore, it came about so unexpectedly that our soldiers landed on their soil, they were received with great enthusiasm.

After the Spanish soldiers had been driven from the port of Guanica and General Miles's army approached the city of Ponce, the people flocked from their dwellings and lined the roadway everewhere along the route of march, rending the air with "Vivalos Americanos!" Thus it was all over the island, our soldiers being received with open arms and made welcome to the houses of both high and low. All they expected has not been realized, perhaps, for like most people who are freed from oppression for the first time, they indulged in extravagant hopes. But they are still loyal to the flag, and since we adopted them, they have in turn adopted as many as they can of our "institutions."

It might have been expected that a people who already had about two hundred holidays or "feast-days" in their calendar, would hardly want to add more; but the fact is they gladly welcomed all we had to offer. Christmas and New Year's were already on their lists, but Washington's Birthday was new to them. That made no difference, however; or, rather, it was all the more enticing from its novelty, and the last one was celebrated in Ponce and San Juan with great eclat. Washington was the father of our country; consequently as their country belonged to us, he was also the father of their country; they celebrated his birthday.

If only the landing of General Miles and his troops had been earlier in the seasen, so that the Puerto Riquenos (or Porto Ricans) could have celebrated the American Fourth of July in the first flush of their enthusiasm, no mortal man could have predicted to what heights they might have soared! As it was, and despite the fact that nearly a year had passed the landing having taken place the last week in July, 1898, the very first anniversary of that event in Porto Rico was one long to be remembered.

And when we reflect that it was only last year, or in July, 1899, that the Porto Ricans were privileged to participate in celebrating our "great and glorious Fourth," after we, as a nation, had indulged in it for more than a century, who can wonder at their long-repressed enthusiasm? In all the cities there were speeches in the daytime and fireworks at night, while in the country places, where military authority was lax, there were races and processions in honor of their new feast-day—the day they called the "Cuatro de Julio."

Character By The Ears.

With the craze for ear-rings women have suddenly discovered that, small and delicately-shaped as their ears may be one essential element of beauty is missing when the useful features lack color. A woman with pale ears, it is said, can be safely set down as one whose heart is hard to reach, while she whose ears are pink along the curled rims and downy lobes is a creature of sympathetic and responsive temperament. More important still, a well-colored ear is as becoming as a rosy cheek, and, in consequence, many a scrupulous girl, who would scorn to even dust her cheek with powder, thinks it no evil to slightly rouge her ears till they glow with a delicate pink color.

A New York watering place is said to date its downfall from the refusal of a hotel to give a guest a second helping of pie. If the article withheld had been a second plate of soup the town could die content as a martyr to principle.

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. If you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of WALL PAPER

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.
MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:
Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,
EDWARD LYNCH.

WANTED.

Having bought the Smallwood Creamery, of Mr. E. B. Arnold, I wish to say to the farmers of the community that I am prepared to handle 10,000 lbs. of Milk daily, and will pay the highest market price therefor, on or before the 15th of each month.

I ask the co-operation of the farmers. I know, from twelve years experience, that I can do you more good than you can have done for your dairy product in any other way. I would be glad to have any of the farmers call to see me to acquaint them with the business. Will furnish cans at wholesale price.
