ELECTION—TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH, 1900.

Democratic partisan opposition to the United States Government in the Philippines has cost the life of many an American soldier.

Readers of the Advocate in bygone campaigns will not be disturbed by its predictions of a Democratic victory in November. It has too often proved a false prophet to claim confidence in its present foresight.

The Advocate alludes to Charles Emory Smith as "Hanna's Postmaster General." If President McKinley and General Smith could be informed of the opinion entertained of them by the Advocate, as indicated by this "sarkastic" statement, they would probably hereafter hide their diminished heads in confusion and shame.

A paragraph has been going the rounds of some of the newspapers, to the effect that Indiana has always been on the winning side in Presidential elections. The statement is erroneous. Indiana did not cast her electoral vote for John Quincy Adams in 1827, for Martin Van Buren in 1836, for Zachary Taylor in 1848, nor for R. B. Hayes in 1876. Her first vote was cast in 1820.

Half of the last British loan was taken by people in the United States, so that in place of this country having to work to pay interest to British holders of United States bonds, the process is reversed and the Britisher is now compelled to send money to this country to pay interest on his obligations. This is another condition which Bryan promises to change when he gets into power.

A few years ago the South did practically no manufacturing. It now has over $1,000,000,000—one billion dollars—invested in factories, paying over $350,000,000 in wages and producing between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000 worth of products yearly. If the gold standard and the protective tariff are the great evils that the South so steadily denounces how has the South been enabled to make this wonderful progress, most of which has taken place under the present administration?

The Democrats are in favor of maintaining the liberty of the Tagalogs to subjugate all other tribes inhabiting the Philippine Islands. Bryan's election would simply mean a pledge to protect these Tagalogs against outside interference pending the process of such subjugation. That is the logical effect of the Kansas City platform. In Luzon, even, there are many people more than content to submit to the government of the Archipelago by the United States. Outside of that island there is, practically, no hostility nor opposition to American rule.

It is said the Chinese government is in a hurry to make peace. But where is the Chinese government? The Dowager Empress and the Emperor have fled from Pekin, the capital city of the Empire, and their present location is unknown. Even the "Forbidden City," that part of Pekin held sacred as the residence of the country's rulers, is in the hands of the allies. Some of the Powers are unwilling to treat with Li Hung Chang, the great Chinese Premier and present Viceroy. Altogether the situation is very much complicated and a speedy determination of the questions at issue is not probable.

All the great nations of the world recognize the unimpeachable legality of the title of the United States to sovereignty over the Philippine Islands, and none of them will attempt by force to interfere with the exercise of that sovereignty. Not one of them is committed to respect an American Protectorate over the Archipelago. Bryan's theory of a Monroe doctrine for the Orient is impracticable and likely to embroil this country in foreign complications and war. We must either hold the Philippines or abandon them entirely. There is no safe half-way policy in the business. The American citizen who wishes to maintain the honor of his country and to prevent serious complications with foreign nations should vote against Bryan and the Kansas City platform.

The Carroll county delegates to the Democratic congressional Convention, held at Havre de Grace last week, treated Mr. Nicholas W. Steele, of Freedom district, with scant courtesy. The county convention which appointed them passed a resolution declaring that Mr. Steele was the choice of the Democrats of Carroll county for the congressional nomination and instructing the delegates to use all honorable means to make him the nominee. In the face of these instructions, however, the delegates did not even pay Mr. Steele the compliment of placing his name before the Havre de Grace convention. They simply ignored him altogether and treated the wishes of the convention which appointed them with the utmost contempt. As Mr. Steele has saved the Democratic party of Carroll from complete defeat on more than one recent occasion this contemptuous treatment at the hands of its representatives is somewhat remarkable.

United States Senator Wm. G. Stewart, of Nevada, who, as a Free Silver Republican, voted for Bryan in 1896, is out this time for McKinley. He objects to Bryan on account of the position taken by that gentleman on the Philippine question. Senator Stewart shows up Bryan's inconsistency in exerting his influence for the ratification of the treaty with Spain, which bound the United States to pay to that country $20,000,000 for her sovereignty over the Philippines, while he now strenuously urges the relinquishment of that sovereignty and the creation of an expensive American Protectorate in its stead.

The Democratic national platform condemns "the ill-concealed Republican alliance with England," while at the same time opposing the passage of the ship subsidy bill, which seeks to take from British ships the 65 per cent. of American foreign carrying they now enjoy to give it to American ships instead. It is singular that every British shipowner and shipbuilder hopes for the success of the Democrats, if there exists an "ill-concealed Republican alliance with England."

Mr. Bryan was formally notified on Thursday of his nomination by the Populists and made a speech of acceptance. He was guarded in his language, having written his speech in advance; but he served notice upon the country, by inevitable implication, that agitation of bimetalism on the 16 to 1 basis, and without reference to the action of other nations, is to be continued. He is, in fact, a good enough Populist to suit the adherents of that party. Practically, Populism and so-called Democracy unite in Bryan and he is the Apostle of the combination. What a shame that Thos. Jefferson should be stigmatised as the author of such an aggregation!

Never before in the history of the United States has the output of Southern iron ore and pig iron, lumber, coal, and coke been so large as it has been in the past two years, and not for years, if ever, have the prices been so high. Never before was so large a proportion of southern products shipped from southern ports. Never before has money loaned at such low rates of interest. All this under the gold standard and a protective tariff. Yet the South will probably vote almost solidly for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and free trade, as personified in Bryan. She will also vote for Bryan's Philippine and China ideas, and to cut off the great and growing oriental market for her cotton goods.

> The Democrats of the United States set the world an example of heroic devotion to freedom, liberty and self-government in casting off British rule.—Advocate.

It is supposed that George Washington had a little something to do with casting of the yoke of British oppression and with helping to lay the foundations of the great American Republic. But as, according to the Advocate, the Democrats did it, a great mistake has been made in styling Washington the Father of his Country. He wasn't a Democrat and hence could have had nothing to do with "casting off British rule." It might further be remarked that neither the author of the Declaration of Independence, nor the Father of the Constitution would recognize the allies of Populism as Democrats of the genuine order.

Governor Roosevelt, the Republican candidate for Vice-President, has been widely quoted by the Democratic newspapers as having made some remarks in a recent speech at St. Paul, Minn., which were exceedingly derogatory to the Democrats generally, the purpose of these newspapers evidently being to alienate from the support of McKinley and Roosevelt those Democrats who are at variance with the Populistic tendencies and deliverances of their own party. The Governor, in a letter to Gen. John M. Palmer, declares that his remarks were not only garbled but falsified, and that they applied alone to the supporters of the Kansas City platform. The policy of the makers of that platform, he said, "is a policy of infamy and their triumph would mean misery so widespread that it is almost unthinkable and a disgrace so lasting that more than a generation would have to pass before it could be wiped out. They stand for lawlessness and disorder, for dishonesty and dishonor, for license and disaster at home and cowardly shrinking from duty abroad." It is perfectly clear, therefore, that Governor Roosevelt's allusions are only applicable to Democrats who subscribe to the Kansas City platform.

Charles W. Fenmick, a soldier in the Philippines, has written home to his Democratic father at Herndon, Saline county, Missouri, and declares that the election of Bryan is the one hope of the followers of Aguinaldo. The letter says there is no telling how much longer the bush-whacking warfare will last if the encouragement to the natives from the United States is to be kept up. He further expresses very contemptuously the wish that Mr. Bryan himself might have them to deal with, for if he had he would "change his tune." This is in line with the last letter on the subject by the late General Lawton. The troops in the Philippines know where to place the responsibility for the prolongation of their service there.

The Troy, (N. Y.) Times, in publishing the resolutions adopted by the Maryland Republican Editorial Association, says: "Maryland has a loyal and effective Republican press. The Republican editors of that State met recently and pledged unwavering support to the Republican nominees and platform, and to the effort to place the electoral vote of Maryland in the Republican column. The editors will cooperate with the Republican State Central Committee. J. Guest King, who offered the resolutions and who is a power in the political affairs of Maryland, is editor of the Annapolis Examiner, and is one of the most active members of the Republican National Editorial Association of the United States."

Mr. John B. Morrow, editor of the Times, at Ellicott City, died at his home in that place on Monday evening, aged about sixty-two years. Mr. Morrow was actively engaged in newspaper work all his life, learning the printer's art when a boy. In Wyoming he published a daily newspaper at Cheyenne, and subsequently a weekly at Buffalo, also in Wyoming. About 15 years ago he settled in Ellicott City, and for some years published the Howard County Progress. He assumed the management of the Ellicott City Times in 1891 and had conducted it ever since, greatly improving it and enlarging its influence as an organ of public opinion.

McKINLEYISM VS. BRYANISM.

[From the Brooklyn Eagle, Democratic.]

Bryanism is free silver. McKinleyism is the gold standard. Between them choice can be made. Free silver means destroyed enterprise, arrested prosperity, the reduction of labor and of its wages and the repudiation of obligations by more than one-half of their value. The gold standard means the prevention of all that and the preservation and increase of present prosperities. Choice there should not be difficult.

Bryanism means illimitable greenbacks, which are promises to pay with the payment left out. McKinleyism means honest money, solvent everywhere, discounted nowhere, doubted nowhere, and issued everywhere in the country in response to the volume of need for circulation. Choice there should not be difficult

Bryanism means the incoming of Porto Ricans into the Senate and House and into our citizenship with all their unfitness, with all their superstition and with all their moral and intellectual juvenility of barbarism. It means the relapse of Cuba to an anarchy, in which the worst would be on top and the best at the bottom. McKinleyism means the ordered government of Porto Rico and the progressive Americanization of Cuba. Choice there should also be easy.

Bryanism means the estimate of Dewey and Otis, of MacArthur and Taft, of Schurman and Denby as wrong-doers and of Aguinaldo and his murder gang as right-doers in the Philippines, with our surrender and apology to them and our "protection" of them against the world. McKinleyism means the reduction of these mongrel rascals to order and their lifelong sentence to undergo the benefits of good government at our hands, which hold in the Philippines the keys of power, of civilization and of destiny in the East. Choice there should not be hard.

Bryanism means the ignorance, the unrest, the dishonesty, the delusion, the insanity and the disorder of the country under a dreaming roarer or a roaring dreamer. McKinleyism means judicious radicalism, progressive conservatism, the maintenance of honesty, of tranquility and of security for our people here and for the people abroad and the measurement of the nation to the duties of the marvelous times into which Providence has conducted the republic.

Pekin Taken—Legations Rescued.

Pekin was captured by the allied forces on the 15th inst., and the ministers and attaches of the several foreign legations rescued. The Ninth and Fourteenth Regiments, American Infantry, and a light battery participated in the assault upon the gates of the city, and aided materially in the success which crowned the allied arms. The legationers were in dire straits and relief arrived none too soon.

An undated dispatch from Minister Conger, sent probably on the day the relief force arrived at Pekin, was received at Washington on Tuesday. In the dispatch he says that desperate attempts were made to exterminate the foreigners on the night before the allies entered Pekin. Only portions of the dispatch, for State reasons, were made public.

An Associated Press cable from Pekin, describing the entry of the relief column, says that the emaciated tenants of the legations could have lasted but a little longer, as there was only three days' rations left.

The Chinese had been attacking the besieged foreigners furiously for two days.

The dispatch ends with the significant statement that the Chinese had continuously violated the armistice with the legation members that had been previously agreed upon.

The Americans stormed the Imperial Palace and "Old Glory" was the first foreign flag to wave over its walls. This portion of Pekin is known as the "Forbidden City," and its capture is considered a dire disaster by the Chinese.

An Evidence of Prosperity.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

It is estimated in New York that about 4,000 merchants from the interior of the country are now in that city buying goods for the fall trade. The Chicago papers last Monday estimated that 8,000 merchants from the South were in Chicago on the same errand. No attempt is made to collect similar statistics in this city, but it is known that the number of business men from other places who have been here during the past two or three weeks has been very large. This movement of merchants to the centres of distribution, instead of staying at home and waiting for the representatives of the wholesalers to call upon them, is a sign of the prosperity of the country. It will have a result in a great increase in retail sales in the interior during the fall and winter.

Judge Burke nas advised the auditor of the Circuit Court at Towson, Baltimore county, that the grantor must pay the revenue stamp on a deed conveying property. Judge Burke held that the grantor of the deed agrees to deliver a valid deed to the grantee, and that in order that a deed be valid, it must have the revenue stamp attached, and therefore the party selling the property is required to furnish it.

During a windstorm at Aberdeen, Harford county, on Saturday last, a barn was blown down, and Mr. Hugh Thompson was caught under the debris and killed. He was a son-in-law of Ex-Shiriff Ambrose Cooley, of Harford county. His wife and a little daughter survive him.

Miss Judith Page, daughter of Mr. John W. Page, of Frederick county, has been appointed matron at the Maryland School for the Deaf, at Frederick, in place of Mrs. Rinehart, who, after years of efficient service in the position, declined a reappointment.

Captain David Kailer, a native of Middletown Valley, Frederick county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Koogle, in Frederick, on Tuesday, aged ninety-six years.

The Frederick County Agricultural Fair will be held at Agricultural Park, Frederick, October 9-12, and the Washington County Fair, at Hagerstown, October 16-19.

Capt. Quitman S. J. Beckley, a native and lifelong resident of Frederick, died in that place on Wednesday, aged fifty-two years.

The National Encampment, G. A. R., will begin at Chicago, on Monday, 27th inst., and continue during the week.

SENATOR WELLINGTON.

Senator Wellington, swinging his prerogative aloft, rushed into Baltimore on Thursday and utilized the Evening News to blow a blast at President McKinley, General Grosvenor and his loving friend Senator McComas.

As the Senator, with his prerogative, is now actively engaged in the banking and discount business, it affords the public an opportunity to shave him and his utterances at the heaviest rate and to such an extent that the discount will absorb the principal, and leave him politically bankrupt, with nothing but a worn out and useless prerogative as assets.

At Akron, Ohio, on Wednesday night, a mob attacked the city prison, with the intention of lynching a colored man named Louis Peck, who had committed an assault upon a little six-year-old white girl. Peck, however, could not be found in the jail, and the mayor of Akron assured the mob that he had been removed to Cleveland. The infuriated citizens doubted the word of the mayor and opened fire on the prison. The riot continued during the night, and the city building and Columbian Hall were set on fire and destroyed, an eleven-year-old boy was shot and killed, and a score of people wounded. Gov. Nash promptly ordered troops to the scene, the riot was quelled and quiet restored. Peck is is safe in jail at Cleveland.

Joshua Levering, Jr., aged 23 years, and William T. Levering, Jr., aged 24 years, sons, respectively, of Joshua Levering, Sr., and Wm. T. Levering, Sr., of Baltimore, were drowned near Havre de Grace on Thursday afternoon. The young men were canoeing on the Susquehanna, when they were caught in a whirlpool, their boat was capsized and both were drowned. The young men were cousins. Joshua Levering, Sr., father of one of the victims, is a prominent Prohibitionist and has been the candidate of that party for the Presidency.

Fire destroyed the six-story building of the Maryland Telephone Company in Baltimore on Wednesday morning, entailing a loss of nearly $100,000. The building stood near the rear of the Masonic Temple, which was in great danger of destruction. Two lines of hose carried through the temple burst and flooded a number of the rooms with water, damaging the structure and paraphernalia to the extent of two or three thousand dollars.

Fire in the stables at Pimlico, on Tuesday night, burned five race horses to death. The animals which perished were: Muskateer, owned by Charles Rather; Briggs and Tagrion, owned by I. M. Parr; Song Singer, owned by Edward McCann, and a son of Falsetto, for which T. Courtney Jenkins recently paid $1000.

The Census Bureau has issued bulletins of municipal populations, as follows: Omaha, Neb., 102,555, a decrease of 37,897 since 1890; Cleveland, Ohio, 381,768; Toledo, Ohio, 131,822; Columbus, Ohio, 125,560.
