BOSSY.

Bossy is a kind old cow.
She dreams beneath the apple bough
And swings her tail and rings her bell
While roaming up and down the dell.

I see her through the pasture bars
Eat all the pretty daisy stars,
Then gently toss her head on high
To watch the clouds that dot the sky.

When night makes all the meadow black,
She lets the chickens on her back
Fall fast asleep, and sleep until
The sun comes peeping o'er the hill.

The Butter Trees of India.

By far the most remarkable of plants that produce edible flowers is the "butter tree" of India. Its blossoms during the hot months of the year are the chief means of subsistence of the Bhils and other hill tribes of the interior. Under the old Mahratta rule it was a common practice to cut down the butter trees in the country of the Bhils, so as to afflict those lawless people and bring them to straits. A good-sized tree yields several hundred weight of the pulpy, bell-shaped flowers in season. In March and April they fall off and are gathered eagerly by the natives. When fresh they have a peculiar and luscious taste, with an odor that has been described as somewhat suggestive of mice. Usually they are dried in the sun, shriveling to one-fourth their original size. In this condition they resemble raisins somewhat. They are prepared by boiling or in sweetmeats. Jackals, bears, wild pigs and deer are extravagantly fond of the blossoms; in fact, almost every animal, wild or domestic, eats them greedily. Sometimes they are baked into cakes.

There are immense forests of these butter trees in India, and the flowers may some day become an important article of commerce. They are produced in vast quantities, affording drink as well as food to whole populations. They secrete more than half their weight in sugar, and yield a good deal of that substance for domestic use. A powerful alcoholic beverage, somewhat resembling Irish whiskey in flavor, is distilled from them. It is a diffusible stimulant like brandy, and is largely consumed by the inhabitants of the mountainous tracts of the central tableland of India; in fact, this is the liquid of the country, and every village has a little shop for the sale of it. Many of the distilleries are located in the very heart of the forest.

Her Exact Words.

Housekeeper—How's this? You promised to saw some wood if I gave you a lunch.

Tramp—I recall no such promise, madam.

"The idea! I told you I'd give you a lunch if you sawed some wood, and you agreed."

"Pardon me, madam. Your exact words were: 'I'll give you a lunch if you saw that wood over there by the gate.'"

"Exactly. That's just what I said."

"Well, madam, I saw that wood over there by the gate as I came in."

Keep still. When trouble is brewing, keep still. When slander is getting on its legs, keep still. When your feelings are hurt, keep still, till you recover from your excitement at any rate. Things look differently through an unagitated eye. In a commotion once I wrote a letter and sent it, and wished I had not. In my later years I had another commotion, and wrote a long letter; but life rubbed a little sense into me, and I kept that letter in my pocket against the day when I could look it over without agitation and without tears. I was glad I did. Less and less it seemed necessary to send it. I was not sure it would do any hurt, but in my doubtfulness I leaned to reticence, and eventually it was destroyed. Time works wonders. Wait till you speak calmly, and then you will not need to speak, it may be. Silence is the most massive thing conceivable sometimes. It is strength in very grandeur. It is like a regiment ordered to standstill in the mad fury of battle. To plunge in were twice as easy.

"Whom do you consider the greatest inventor of the times?" asked the woman. "My husband," answered the other, proudly. "Why, I didn't know he ever invented anything!" "You should hear the excuses he gives for coming home at two in the morning!"

"I hear your husband is very sick, Aunt Dinah."

"Yes'm."

"Nothing serious, I hope. His condition is not critical?"

"Critical! I should say he wuz! He ain't satisfied with nuffin."

"Your milk seems to be well watered," remarked the summer boarder, facetiously. "'Taint' no sech a thing," retorted the farmer landlord; "we don't use well water. We've got a hydrant."

"And now, children," said the teacher, who had been talking about military fortifications, can any of you tell me what is a buttress?" "Please, ma'am," cried little Willie, snapping his fingers, "its a nanny goat!"

Life is what you make it, so don't make life miserable, if you can help it. The man who thinks he knows it all has a great deal to learn.

The girl who paints her cheeks is not usually the one who is referred to as being as pretty as a picture.

"Doctor, my wife has lost her voice; what can I do about it?"

"Go home late some night."

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. Is you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of WALL PAPER

To the NEW STORE,
No. 80 East Main St.,

recently purchased by them, where they will carry on a

Wall Paper, Paper Hanging and

WINDOW SHADE BUSINESS,

We are under no expense and are prepared to work at the so-called cheap Paper Hangers price to the high priced Baltimore dealers.

Don't let us be reprezented as having a big rent and lots of other expenses to collect from our customers, as that is out of the question now.

We can sell and Hang Wall Paper with any of them. We have on hand a big lot of 50 cent Window Shades at 25 cents per piece, to close them out. Get them while they last. Give us a call.

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.
MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,
EDWARD LYNCH.

For Sale by all Druggists and Merchants in the Country. PRICE 25 CENTS. feb-24-4t

WANTED.

Having bought the Smallwood Creamery, of Mr. E. B. Arnold, I wish to say to the farmers of the community that I am prepared to handle 10,000 lbs. of Milk daily, and will pay the highest market price therefor, on or before the 15th of each month.

I ask the co-operation of the farmers. I know, from twelve years experience, that I can do you more good than you can have done for your dairy product in any other way. I would be glad to have any of the farmers call to see me to acquaint them with the business. Will furnish cans at wholesale price.
