The election is of exceptional importance, the issues involved affecting the interests of the people and of the country to an extent rarely equalled.

Quite a number of our citizens attended the Hanover, Pa., Fair this week.

The Boys' Meeting will be held every Saturday afternoon in Carroll Hall, this city, at 3.30 o'clock.

Judging from the burrs on the trees the chestnut crop promises to be large this year. Those who believe in "signs" tell us that a prolific nut crop is a sure indication of a "hard" winter to follow.

A meeting will be held at the Hall in Winfield, on Wednesday evening, October 3rd, for the purpose of organizing a McKinley, Roosevelt and Blakeney Republican Club for Freedom and Franklin districts. There are no truer or more faithful Republicans than are to be found in that section of the county, and a rousing and active club will be organized. Every Republican who can do so should attend the meeting and participate in the organization.

Not more than a hundred persons, we believe, among whom were several Republicans, constituted the large and enthusiastic Democratic meeting (according to the Baltimore Sun) at which Dr. J. W. Hering opened the campaign in this county on Thursday night. The fact is it was a club meeting, at which Dr. Hering, who had been elected president, accepted the position and made a speech. The attendance at the Republican Club meeting on the previous Monday night was more than twice as large, but was not regarded as anything to boast about.

He leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters, his children being Mrs. Joshua Warner, of Baltimore; Mrs. Joseph Bowers, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Mrs. Andrew Fowler, Miss Alice Gist, Messrs. Tuesday next will be the first sitting of the registers of voters in this county and the next and only other sitting for registration will be on the Tuesday following, the dates of the two sittings being October 2nd and 9th. Every Republican should be alive to the importance of registering every Republican vote. The election of Bryan would be a disaster from which the country would not soon rally, and every Republican having the other qualifications of a voter should see to it that, if his name is not already on the registry, he will not fail to have it placed there. But he should not stop at that. He should remind his Republican neighbor of the fact stated and induce him to be sure of registration and as surely to cast his ballot.

George R. Gaither, Jr., of Baltimore, one of the ablest speakers in the State, will address the club. Speakers for the club meetings will be announced from time to time.

Wm. H. Neville, a wagon-builder at 5.30 Oxford street Baltimore, died on Wednesday, of injuries received by having been struck with a brick, on Thursday of last week, by Jeremiah Albaugh, who runs a grocery store at 823 Hillen street, and does hauling. Albaugh was hauling furniture for a Miss Link, and had to pass Neville's shop where some wagons were in the way and he moved one of them. Neville objected, and a quarrel and fight ensued, in which Albaugh struck the former with half a brick, the blow, it is supposed, causing his death. Albaugh, who was formerly of Snydersburg, says that he struck in self-defence; that Neville was choking him and was reaching for a brick which he, Albaugh, managed to get first. He then ran and was followed by Neville and two or three other men who pelted him with bricks. They also threw cobblestones at him as he passed the shop with another load of furniture.

The case of The Union National Bank, et al., vs. Mrs. Irene C. Bennett, et al., which was decided by the Circuit Court for Carroll county, in favor of the plaintiffs, on the ground that the deed of trust made by the defendants was void because it reserved $100 exemption of the grantee's property, and in which an appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals, has been settled by the appointment of Messrs. D. N. Henning, E. O. Weant and Dr. Thos. J. Coonan, as co-trustees with Messrs. Chas. E. Fink, J. Milton Reifsnider and J. M. Roberts, heretofore appointed by decree of the court. The appeal has been dismissed and all the property and estate will be sold, under this amicable arrangement, by the trustees named.

The barn, hog-house, corn-house and other small buildings on Mr. Alvin Duvall's farm, between Warfieldsburg and Baile, were destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon, with most of the contents of the barn, consisting of 500 to 600 bushels of wheat, a lot of hay and straw, a wagon and other articles. The dwelling house was in great peril, as the pump, which alone would have afforded water with which to fight the flames, is so near the site of the barn that the great heat prevented its use. Many of Mr. Duvall's neighbors were present to aid in resisting the fire. The loss on buildings and contents is fully $1500. Mr. Duvall has insurance in the Dug Hill Company of $650 on the barn and $415 on produce and provender. Some of the property covered by insurance was not destroyed, so that the actual amount due Mr. Duvall on his policy will, it is said, be about $1,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A freight train of the Western Maryland Railroad and a freight train of the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburg branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad collided at Granthem, ten miles from Harrisburg, Pa., on Tuesday evening, demolishing both engines and wrecking several cars. The conductor of the W. Md. train, John Keller, of Hagerstown; the brakeman, Charles Stolzer, of Shippensburg, Pa., and the fireman, Leonard Gilbert, of Linwood, this county, were all killed. The engineer and firemen of the P. and R. train were injured. The accident, it is said, resulted from the trainmen of the Reading train disregarding orders to meet a Western Maryland freight train at the Dillsburg and Mechanicsburg Junction, instead of Bowmansdale. Their orders, when they left Harrisburg for Hagerstown, were to meet this train at Bowmansdale, but when they reached Rossmoyne, the order was changed to meet the train at the junction. Engineer Stehman of the P. R. train, says he and the conductor forgot the second order.

The Carroll County Local Board of the Hagerstown Fair Association, at a meeting held on Wednesday evening, decided to have an exhibit for this county at the coming annual fair of the association, at Hagerstown, October 16-19, and earnestly solicits the co-operation of citizens of the county to make the exhibit a creditable success. Arrangements have been made by which Mr. Howard M. Zile, of Winfield, will be at the office of the Lumber, Coal and Supply Company, Green and Liberty streets, this city, on Thursday, October 11th, to receive and ship all articles left there for exhibition. Such articles will be shipped from that point to the fair ground at Hagerstown, and returned to the same place, free of cost to the exhibitors. Mr. Zile will have charge of the exhibits from the county at the fair. All other information required can be obtained from Mr. Edward Lynch, at the office of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company, this city. It should be a matter of pride with the people of Carroll county to make this exhibit second to none at the fair. From her products Carroll can make a showing which cannot be surpassed, and her citizens can greatly promote her cause by sending in any of their products worthy of special notice.

Young men who have come of age since the last election must, if they expect to vote on the 6th of November next, have their names registered on the 2nd or 9th of October. Don't fail to remember this.

Maryland Collegiate Institute of Union Bridge.

The opening of the second year of this institution of learning, located at Union Bridge, took place on Tuesday last, with appropriate and interesting exercises. The institution is under the patronage of the German Baptist, or Brethren's, Church, by which it was established and under the auspices of which it is conducted. The Faculty is composed of prominent ministers and others connected with the Church. Elder Wm. E. Roop, a graduate of Western Maryland College, is president; Wm. M. Wine, principal; the other members being Profs. Isaac Long, Samuel Zeigler, Emory Crumpacker, C. W. Roller, and Miss Grace Rinehart, the last named being a graduate of Western Maryland College. She is a grandniece of the late Wm. H. Rinehart, the celebrated sculptor, and has charge of the art department of the institute. The board of trustees is constituted as follows: President, Mr. John E. Senseney; secretary, Elder John S. Weybright; treasurer, Mr. Amos Wampler; Elders Wm. E. Roop and Ephraim Stouffer. The institution has recently been the recipient of gifts of considerable value, among which are a heating plant, bathroom, with fittings complete, &c., for the building set apart as a home for young students, at a cost of nearly $800, by a lady of Union Bridge; a fine program clock, from a gentleman of Waynesboro, Pa., which cost over $100; a handsome organ, from Mr. John C, Buckey, of New Windsor district; a fine bookcase, from Mr. Charles P. Baile, of New Windsor, and many articles of lesser value.

The institute opened with eighty-five students with a prospective increase to over one hundred within a few weeks. Addresses by members of the faculty and others formed a prominent feature of the opening exercises, which began with prayer by Elder Uriah Bixler, of Meadow Branch Church, followed with singing by school and audience. The speakers addressed the assemblage in the following order: Elder Wm. E. Roop, president of the institution; Mr. Geo. R. Gehr, cashier of the First National Bank of Westminster; Profs. Long, Zeigler, Crumpacker and Wine, all of whom spoke in an interesting manner in advocacy of education. It is impossible to give the barest outline of their addresses, but reports agree that they were of more than ordinary interest and value and calculated to stimulate effort in behalf of the success of the institution established with such flattering prospects of future success and usefulness.

The greater number of farmers in this section are done cutting off their corn, and to their agreeable surprise find the crop much better than they expected it would be during the great drouth. The yield of some fields will be from eight to twelve barrels per acre. Most of the farmers in this vicinity are ready for seeding, but are in a great quandary what to do for the best, whether to seed or wait until it rains, as the ground is exceedingly dry. The waters are beginning to fail, both in the springs and wells, much to the inconvenience of some people.

Mr. George W. Devilbiss has recently sold his mill property, located in this village, to Mr. John Trough. The price paid was $1400. Mr. Trough will take possession in the spring. A short while ago Dr. B. G. Franklin sold to Elder Wm. H. Franklin his property in Marston, and on last Tuesday, 25th inst., moved to Westminster, where he and his family will reside in the future. On the same day Mrs. Mary E. Franklin, of Westminster, moved to the property in Marston vacated by Dr. Franklin. Mrs. Franklin rented this property in order to be convenient to her farm on Sams Creek, now farmed by Mr. Lewis Green.

Carrollton Items.

On Friday last a division fence between the lands of Mr. D. W. Mules and Mrs. Leppo caught fire in some way and a serious conflagration might have occurred, as there was imminent danger of the flames spreading to the dry grass and shocks of corn near by, and then to the barn, barrack and dwelling of Mr. Mules. But the boy who saw the fire, and may have started it, ran down to Mr. Mules' house, and gave the alarm. Twenty buckets of water were carried from Mr. Mules' spring before the flames were suppressed.

Some farmers in this vicinity are husking corn, others are still cutting and shocking their crop, while some are seeding or preparing to seed their wheat.

Mr. Howard Blizzard and Mr. Wm. Shipley, near Patapsco, spent Saturday and Sunday in Baltimore and Towson, as guests of Mr. August Kelso.

Frizellburg Items.

Politics is receiving some attention and will soon be the theme for general discussion. As soon as the hot weather abates much activity will be displayed in campaign work. The Democrats organized a Bryan and Stevenson club recently.

Gamber Items.

Mr. Elmer Wampler is having erected a dwelling house and all necessary outbuildings on the lot recently purchased by him from Mr. Buchanan Ford.

On last Thursday a couple of sportsmen from Westminster visited friends here and engaged in a squirrel hunt; not having much success in finding squirrels they decided to call on "Mamie Taylor," and were so charmed by her that they pronounced the day's sport quite a success. Notwithstanding the fewness of squirrels, now, for the benefit of those readers who may not be acquainted with "Mamie," we would say that we do not mean a lady but a cooling beverage skillfully concocted by the proprietor of the Hotel McCrea.

Mr. Eli Benson, who has for some time past been quite poorly, both mentally and physically, was removed by his friends on Wednesday to Springfield Hospital for treatment.

Miss Daisy Barnes, who had been visiting friends in Baltimore for the past month, returned home on Saturday.

The illustrated lecture given at Providence Church on Sunday evening, by Mr. Geo. W. Yeiser, was largely attended, and very interesting and instructive; although we have heard plenty of criticism by the ultra-sanctimonious, not of the lectcure itself but of the offering which was taken up at the door.

Messrs. Riley E. Elgen and Fred. Y. Cronk, former students of Winfield Academy, have entered St. John's College, Annapolis.

Quite a large crowd was in attendance on the occasion of the annual picnic of Ebenezer M. E. Sunday School, held in Mr. H. L. Shipley's grove, last Saturday.

The pupils of Winfield Academy were treated to a very interesting address by Mr. Howard M. Zile, on Wednesday last.

Winfield is sad. The war clouds of China and Philippines are far distant; our town is admirably situated to escape the fate of Galveston; there is no strike at our gold mine; but our ice cream factory has shut down. Mr. Zile has struggled manfully to enable us to resist the exceptional heat this summer, but now, when one gives up the struggle against our present hot wave and goes around to order a couple quarts of the cold delicacy sent up, he smiles and says his ice is exhausted.

Our schools opened last week with a good attendance.

Peaches were plentiful but the season is drawing to a close.

Mr. Charles Dotrer, of Littlestown, has sold his farm near here to Mr. Augustus Crabbs.

A man who has traveled extensively throughout the South was here last week, and he said people here have no idea of the amount of fraud carried on in the elections through that section. The elections are entirely in the hands of the Democrats and they think it nothing to stuff the ballot-boxes and control the elections to suit themselves. If the statement of the gentleman is true there is certainly no free government in the South. We do not hear much about politics here. Nearly everybody is in favor of McKinley.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The seventh annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Carroll County convened on Friday, September 21st, at 10.30 A. M., in the Methodist Protestant Church, Union Bridge, Md.

The morning session was opened by singing "Blest be the tie that binds," after which Mrs. Charles Billingslea read the scripture lesson and Miss Sarah Trump led in prayer. Mrs. Chas. Billingslea was elected secretary, pro tem. Then followed roll call of county officers, superintendents and local presidents. The minutes of the meeting of the executive committee were read and approved. The report of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Billingslea, was read, followed by the reports of the various departments.

Mrs. Haslup, State President, gave a very encouraging and helpful talk, at the close of which she conducted the noontide service, after which the meeting adjourned.

At 2.15 P. M., the convention re-opened with devotional exercises in charge of Mrs. S. K. Herr. After congregational singing Mrs. Gideon Smith, our county president, made an address of welcome to which Mrs. Herr heartily responded, and after the president, Miss Sarah C. Trump's address, came the reports of local unions and superintendents. The delegates and friends were then given three minutes each to discuss "What Am I Doing to Promote Temperance Sentiment?"

Business was then resumed and the election of officers was next in order, with the following result: President, Miss Sarah C. Trump; recording secretary, Mrs. Chas. Billingslea; corresponding secretary, Miss Ada L. Trump; treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Mather; superintendent of departments, ——————; superintendent of unfermented wine, Mrs. DeWitt Haines; superintendent of Sabbath observance, Mrs. Eppley; narcotics, Mrs. Lydia E. Smith; purity, Miss Elizabeth Herr; literature, Mrs. Eliza Shreeve; juvenile, Miss Lizzie Trump; scientific temperance instruction, Miss Alice Weaver; press work, Mrs. S. K. Herr, Mrs. Samuel McKinstry, assistant; "Y" work, Miss A. Byrde Myers.

Mrs. Haslup announced that the annual State convention would be held in the First M. E. Church, Baltimore, October 3-6, 1900.

A vote of thanks was extended to the ladies of Union Bridge, who so kindly entertained the delegates and visitors, providing a bountiful dinner and supper in the lecture room of the church.

A night session was held, opened by singing, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," after which Miss Florence A. Hammond read the scripture lesson and lead in prayer. The Mount Union Quartet was present and rendered some fine temperance selections. Rev. B. W. Kindley, of Uniontown, was also present and gave a very forcible temperance talk, which was followed by a solo, "Remember the Dear Ones at Home," sung by Miss Byrde Myers. Mrs. Mary Haslup, State president, gave a very eloquent address, after which the Union Choir sung a stirring temperance anthem, "Wine Is a Mocker." Miss Annie Smith recited "The Bar Keeper's Story," followed by a solo, "Father, Won't You Try?" by Miss Lizzie Rowe. Next on the program came the five minute voluntary speeches by ministers and members of the W. C. T. U. These were all enthusiastic and earnest for the welfare of the people.

After the doxology the benediction was pronounced and the convention adjourned, with the feeling in the bosom of all: "I am but one, but I am one; I cannot do everything, but I can do something; what I can do I ought to do, and what I ought to do, by the grace of God, I will do."

Corn cutting is over and seeding at hand.

The weather continues dry and our streams, springs and wells are getting weak.

School has begun again but we have no schoolhouse. Our children must continue in that dark house and injure their eyes. We think we are not well treated along that line, when we pay our school taxes and then have to be put off this way.

Mr. Nathan O. Hollenbaugh and family, of Bark Hill, visited Mr. H's. parents on Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Hollenbaugh, who has been sick for five weeks, is still confined to her bed and is very slightly improved.

A short time ago the home of Mr. Howard Bower was much saddened by the death of his little son Norman. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the many neighbors in their sore trials.

Last Friday week, death called little Earl, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Pennington, away from earth to heaven. The little fellow was nearing four months old, and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents. Interment was in Stone Chapel cemetery, Rev. Reuben Kolb officiating. The pall-bearers were: Masters Louis Summers, Paul Robertson, Benton Stoner, Price Robertson. The flowers were numerous and handsome.

Mrs. B. H. Greenwood is on the sick list at this writing.

Miss Lucinda Hollenbaugh, of Baltimore, who has been visiting her parents during the warm weather, will return to the city next week.
