LIFE'S SCARS.

They say the world is round, and yet
I often think it square,
So many little hurts we get
From corners here and there.
But one great truth in life I've found
While journeying to the west—
The only folks who really wound
Are those we love the best.

The man you thoroughly despise
Can rouse your wrath, 'tis true;
Annoyance in your heart will rise
At things mere strangers do;
But those are only passing ills;
This rule all lives will prove;
The rankling wound which aches and thrills
Is dealt by hands we love.

The choicest garb, the sweetest grace,
Are oft to strangers shown;
The careless mien, the frowning face
Are given to our own.
We flatter those we scarcely know,
We please the fleeting guest,
And deal full many a thoughtless blow
To those who love us best.

Love does not grow on every tree,
Nor true hearts yearly bloom;
Alas for those who only see
This cut across a tomb!
But, soon or late, the fact grows plain
To all through sorrow's test,
The only folks who give us pain
Are those we love the best.

CENSUS IS COMPLETE.

According to the State census there are 1,181,691 people in Maryland. Of these 664,616 reside in the counties and 517,035 in Baltimore city.

Four additional members of the House of Delegates are gained, making the future membership of that body 95 instead of 91, as present. One new member each will come from Dorchester, Montgomery, Prince George's and Washington counties.

Kent county, which appeared under the Federal enumeration of last year to be entitled to an additional member, failed to substantiate the claim under the State census, falling 212 short of the required 18,000. Only 40 additional names were added to the returns for that county by following clues indicated by the Federal census.

LOSSES AND GAINS.

The total population, as shown by the State census, is 6,353 short of that given by the Federal enumeration last year. Baltimore city gains 8,078, but the counties lose 14,431. Of the three Southern Maryland counties in which a recount was made by the United States officials, the Maryland census gives Anne Arundel 4,829 fewer people than did the revised Federal returns; Charles, 1,060 fewer, and St. Mary's 202 fewer, a total difference for the three counties of 6,181. The Federal recount resulted in dropping 2,006 names in these counties that had been included in the original United States returns last year, making a difference of 8,167 names between the first Federal returns and the recent State figures.

The only counties that show a gain over last year's Federal census are Caroline, Dorchester, Harford, Queen Anne's and Wicomico, all the others showing a decrease ranging from 4,829 in the case of Anne Arundel to 28 in Talbot.

STATE AND FEDERAL COUNTS.

The following table gives the figures of the State census, those of the original and revised Federal enumeration, and the number of members of the next House of Delegates:
