The complications of the new election law are such that no Republican voter heretofore registered should take it for granted that his name is now properly on the list of registered voters. This is especially the case where districts or precincts have been divided. Every Republican voter in such districts or precincts should see to it, personally, that his name is now on the list in the precinct in which he resides. Don't fail to do so. It is higely important.

Several heavy rains have occurred in this locality during the past week.

Master Harold Graham, the twelve or thirteen-year-old son of Rev. W. R. Graham, D. D., of this city, while playing with a football, one day last week, fell and fractured his left clavicle or collar-bone. While subjecting the lad to the inconvenience of having his arm strapped down for several weeks, the accident will not have any permanently serious results.

The Gettysburg, Pa., Star and Sentinel says: "The college foot-ball team played the initial game of the season on Saturday with the Western Maryland College eleven on Nixon's field, and won by the score of 18-5. The game was interesting and well-played throughout. The best work was done by Speer, Sieber and James for Gettysburg and by Robison and Chaffinch for the visitors. John Joseph Zentgraf, stepson of Mr. Vincent Yingling, who ran away from his home, near this city, some time ago and was found at the residence of a citizen of Myers' district, disappeared again on Friday of last week and has not since been heard from. The first time he went away wearing only his working clothes, but this time he put on his Sunday knee-pants suit with his working clothes over it. He was barefoot, but as the day after he left Mr. Yingling missed about $60 from a pocket-book in a bureau drawer where he had placed it, he thinks the lad was well supplied with money. Mr. Yingling thinks he has gone West.

The Baltimore American of Thursday states that the marriage of Miss Bessie Thomas, well known in the millinery world of Baltimore, and Mr. Wm. Shay Arthur, son of Mr. Henry T. Arthur, the well known baker on Eutaw street, near the Lexington market, is announced, the event having taken place March 14th last, in this city, the officiating clergyman having been a priest whose name is not given. It is also erroneously stated that the marriage license was issued here. No license to the parties named has ever been issued by the clerk of this county. About a year and a half ago Miss Thomas sent a very handsome hat to Mrs. McKinley, as a compliment, and received a very pretty letter of thanks from secretary Cortelyou for Mrs. McKinley.

One morning the young people made a trip to Chester, Pa., where a marriage license was procured, and they were wedded. They returned that evening without announcing the matter to their friends, and Mrs. Phillips left for her home, in Carroll county, shortly after. She paid a visit to Mr. Phillips yesterday and the wedding was then announced. The couple were readily forgiven. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. J. D. F. Stoner, Ezra Caylor, George Eckenrode, Benton Flater, Jesse Billmyer and John Few. Mrs. Bankard was a sister of Messrs. Joseph, Solomon and Lewis Myers, Mrs. John Wright, of Uniontown district, and Mrs. Charles Lindsay, of this city.

The complications of the new election law are such that no Republican voter heretofore registered should take it for granted that his name is now properly on the list of registered voters. This is especially the case where districts or precincts have been divided. Every Republican voter in such districts or precincts should see to it, personally, that his name is now on the list in the precinct in which he resides. Don't fail to do so. It is highly important.

During the convention, a long series of resolutions was adopted pledging the members to renewed and consecrated efforts in behalf of temperance; declaring in favor of total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the State; condemning the use of narcotics; favoring woman suffrage; that equal purity for men and women shall be the only standard recognized by the organization, and that the cooperation of other societies be enlisted in the efforts of this organization to have the age of protection of girls raised from 16 years to 18 years; that the officers be authorized to send to Congress the protest against the repeal of the Anticanteen Law enacted by the last Congress; that the members do all in their power to secure the enactment and enforcement of a curfew law; grief is expressed at the death of President McKinley; "that we would approve of measures securing compulsory industrial and moral education for the negro children of our state, believing that it would do much to make them respectable members of society and thus help to solve the race problem."

The closing resolution extended the thanks of the convention to all who extended courtesies to the members of the convention, including the families by whom they were entertained, the church in which the sessions were held, the college, the firemen for the use of their building, where dinner and supper were served each day, the railroads, &c.

For the Sentinel.

To Our Fallen Chief, Wm. McKinley, President United States, who was assassinated on Sept. 6th, 1901. All the Christian denominations of the civilized world should be proud of the life, character and death of our lamented chief.

In life his chief aim seemed to be to secure, if possible, the greatest good to all mankind. In life he united the American people.

In battling with death he displayed the Christ-like christian. In death he won the regard of the civilized world to his memory.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, Augustus Brown, who died six months ago. October 5th, 1901.

Dear Papa, could you speak to us,
And could you live again,
Our aching hearts would then be healed,
But this we wish in vain.

Our hearts are sad and lonely,
Our grief too deep to tell,
But time will come when we will meet,
And all to you we'll tell.

By his Children.
