A runaway horse created great excitement on Main street, between the Hotel Westminster and the Westminster Savings Bank, this city, about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The animal was driven to a buggy by Bernard Shriver, aged 12 years, son of Mr. B. F. Shriver, and nephew of Ex-State Senator C. Herbert Shriver, of Union Mills. The street was full of vehicles, and as the frantic horse approached the railroad crossing the lad, finding the runaway beyond his control, jumped from the vehicle and fell on his head, sustaining severe bruises. He was carried into the drug store of his uncle, Mr. Joseph B. Boyle, and afterward taken to the latter's house, where physicians found that no bones had been broken, and that though his injuries were severe they were not serious. After the lad jumped the horse continued his flight, collided with several vehicles, demolished the buggy and ran on out of the town. He was caught at the residence of Mr. John Royer, on the Uniontown road, with only remnants of the harness on him. One of the vehicles in collision was a spring wagon in which Mr. John T. Cassell, a well known citizen of Westminster district was seated. The wagon was overturned and Mr. Cassell thrown out, but fortunately not hurt. Enthusiastic Republican Meeting.

A very large and enthusiastic mass-meeting of the Republicans of Carroll county was held at Odd Fellows Hall, this city, on Monday. Many persons were present from distant districts. Mr. Charles C. Gorsuch of this city, presided and made a brief speech, in which he predicted a Republican victory. He then introduced Mr. W. O. Beckenbaugh, of Baltimore, who sang a parody, written by himself, to the air of "Maryland, My Maryland." The singer was frequently applauded.

The speakers of the evening were Mr. Herman S. Platt, Republican candidate for comptroller; Hon. Thomas Parran, Republican candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals, and George R. Gaither, Esq., of Baltimore, in the order named. Mr. Platt spoke briefly, and challenged the assumption by his competitor that a larger reduction of the state debt was made by the present Democratic administration than by the Republicans during an equal period, and presented carefully compiled figures to sustain his contention that the Republication administration of the finances was the more successful. Mr. Platt spoke in a conversational tone and explained that public speaking was wholly a new experience with him. His remarks were well received.

Mr. Parran followed in a speech in which he reviewed the history of the Democrats of Maryland, and of Democratic management of the state government and its failure to redeem oft-repeated promises of legislation. He denounced the extra session of the legislature and the new election law, the repeal of which he promised if the Republicans be invested with power to accomplish it. He cited the record of the Republican administration, from 1896 to 1900, and its redemption of its pledges as an assurance that pledges now made will be redeemed. Upon the same theory, he said, that the past history of the Democratic party in the state was a forecast of what may be expected in the event of a Democratic victory in November. He pointed his arguments with appropriate and amusing anecdotes and kept his auditors in high good humor throughout his speech. Neither Mr. Platt nor Mr. Parran had ever spoken here before and they were highly pleased with the intelligent audience which greeted them on the occasion. Mr. Gaither, who is a favorite with Carroll county Republicans, whom he has often delighted and instructed by forcible, able and eloquent speeches, received a very enthusiastic greeting and fully sustained his previous reputation as an entertaining speaker and a clear and logical reasoner. Following is a brief synopsis of his remarks at the meeting on Monday night:

"Mr. John P. Poe in his speech at Broadway Institute last Friday evening, in criticising my statement that national as well as state issues were involved in this campaign, stated that 'to discuss them now would be like reading old almanacs.' I am not surprised that Mr. Poe should feel that his discussion of Democratic issues would be as 'ancient' as old almanacs. I fear that he would find that most of his issues are now either closely allied to solar and lunar eclipses or disappearances, or are properly classed with old almanac jokes. But there is a national issue in this campaign, and that is the election of a United States Senator. Surely the people of this State do not wish as their representative one who they repudiated in their campaign of 1897, and whose political ascendency in Maryland has been a blight on her fair fame and a close alliance with the corrupt machine of the Rasin democracy of Baltimore city. If the Republicans are successful they will select as the next senator from Maryland an able, fearless, upright Republican, who will be true to his State and his party. We are not limited to one senatorial candidate. We have a number of worthy representatives of our party's intelligence and progressiveness from whom the selection will be made. But it is mainly on State issues that we prefer to arraign the Democratic managers of this State. They have affronted the conservative, independent voters of our State by the extreme partisanship of the extra session of the Legislature which they convened last spring. Apart from the expense of the extra session, apart from the unnecessary expenditure of $40,000 of the money of the taxpayers of this State for the purpose of supplying the workers of the Democratic machine with a poll-list at the public expense, the Democratic managers have destroyed manhood suffrage in Maryland. They have recklessly tampered with the fairest election law ever passed in this or any other State, and if not repudiated by the people at the coming election they will mutilate our election law still more, until fair elections in Maryland will be as rare as they were under Ring domination from 1875 to 1895. This new election law which they here passed will disfranchise thousands of voters, both white and colored, in the coming election, and in all future elections in this State. It makes the exercise of the elective franchise more difficult and more annoying for every voter, no matter how intelligent or capable he may be. It violates the spirit and the letter of the constitution of this State which stipulates that "every male citizen of the United States of twenty-one years of age" shall be entitled to a vote. It adds an additional qualification to that presented by the constitution. One hundred and twenty-five years ago Thomas Jefferson, the man whom the Democratic fathers worshipped as the founder of their political faith, wrote the immortal Declaration of Independence, and declared that 'all men were born free and equal.' Jefferson fought through his political career for universal suffrage—the right for every citizen to have a vote. He believed in the equality of every citizen at the ballot-box as the greatest safeguard for American liberties. But it has been reserved for the Democratic machine of Maryland, under the guise of Democracy, to strike down the right to vote of thousands and thousands of the citizens of our State. Let the people overwhelm these conspirators against the right of franchise at the coming election. I believe that the outraged voters of this State will show by their ballots on November 5th that they will not tolerate this attempt of a few selfish men to create a political oligarchy, and thereby perpetuate their own power, by robbing voters of their franchise, and tampering with our election law.

The Republican party has ideal candidates in this contest. It has nominated a sterling, upright, successful business man of Baltimore as its candidate for comptroller. It has selected a bright, upright, aggressive young Republican of Southern Maryland, one who represents its best and most substantial interests, as its candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. It pledges its party representatives, (and our party has a record of fulfilled pledges,) to restore and protect our fair election law, to give us a fair primary election law as a necessary and proper supplement to it, and to restore manhood suffrage in Maryland. These pledges are explicitly and solemnly made. They will be faithfully performed if the voters of this State crown our efforts with success.

Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., scored another red letter occasion on Thursday evening last, the occasion of the 67th anniversary of its organization. The members thought it a fitting time to come together in social meeting to review the changes that have taken place since Daniel Hoover and Jacob Shower, with the grand officers, instituted the lodge, and brought about an organization that at one time numbered over two hundred members. The evening was fine and the turnout was large. At 8 P. M., P. G. Geo. S. Motter, master of ceremonies, called the large company to order and they joined in singing the opening ode. P. G., D. L. Dubbs, of Pacific Lodge No. 63, led in prayer; music from the orchestra was followed by a welcome address, and after another selection by the orchestra Grand Master Perkins, of Cambridge, was introduced and spoke upon the merits of the order in general. He was followed by Past Grand Masters Lee and Hughes and Grand Warden Rossman, of Baltimore, all of whom brought forth illustrations of not only good lessons but good deeds of charity and brotherly love, in their experiences as members of the fraternity. At 9.30 the march was taken up to the lower hall where 108 plates were served and sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake were much enjoyed by all, after which a general good time was enjoyed in the lodge room until the midnight hour was in sight.

On Friday evening the members of Lebanon Lodge No. 175, A. F. and A. M., enjoyed a feast of good things, having had with them in their meeting Grand Instructor Dukehart, of Baltimore, whose presence was much enjoyed by all. Sandwiches, coffee and fruits were served and much enjoyed by the company.

Mr. Chas. H. Everhart, who had been a public servant for a number of years and made many miles in his trips to Greenmount, carrying passengers, mail and express to and fro, has sold his team and fixtures to Mr. Harvey Burgoon, who has been the carrier to Greenmount since the F. R. D. was introduced. He now combines both in his trips, meeting all trains North and South.

Sometime between Sunday evening and Monday morning somebody broke into the general store of County Commissioner J. N. Dehoff, at Greenmount, and stole small quantities of drygoods, underwear, stockings, tobacco and other articles. The exact value of the goods taken could not be determined but it is thought does not exceed $12 or $15. Entrance to the store was accomplished by removing the sash from a window. There is no clue to the thief. On Tuesday Deputy Wilson arrested one of a gang of 4 road men in the neighborhood, who was wearing a pair of shoes of the kind stolen, but which, it was proved, were purchased at Hampstead. This is the third time that Mr. Dehoff has been burglarized.

Letter From Mr. L. M. Bushey.

Mr. L. M. Bushey, of Porters, who is taking a driving trip with Mrs. Bushey through Pennsylvania, sends us the following account of their trip, up to Monday last, 21st inst., when his letter was dated, near Germantown, Pa.:

Mrs. B. and I left our home in Carroll, October 1st, for a drive to the home of my early boyhood days in Pennsylvania. We started in the finest of weather and have had it quite pleasant most of the time. Our route was through Gettysburg to Carlisle, where we stopped for dinner the third day after leaving home. While there we paid a visit to Capt. Pratt's Indian School and had the pleasure of seeing seven or eight hundred Indian boys and girls at dinner. It was a very animated scene. There are about 1000 students on the roll but some were absent. We had not time to see them at work as we had to return to our hotel for dinner. After dinner we started on our journey and a drive of eight or ten miles brought us to the top of the mountain between Cumberland and Perry counties. The view from the top of this mountain is simply grand, as you can see the Cumberland Valley for many miles, and we could have lingered quite awhile viewing the magnificent landscape, but time would not wait and we had to travel onward. We spent the night with friends at Green Park and the next evening reached Ickesburg, where we spent a very pleasant time at the home of our former pastor, Rev. J. L. Nicholas. On Monday morning we left Ickesburg to cross the Tuscarora mountains and had a beautiful day for the trip. The scenery was very grand. We arrived at Mifflintown about noon and called to see Rev. and Mrs. Wm. H. Fahs, who have visited in Carroll. We left our team at Mifflintown and took the train for Huntingdon, where we spent a few days with friends and then went to Altoona, where we spent a delightful time visiting Dr. and Mrs. Brubaker. The Dr. was one of Taneytown's boys. We also visited Mr. Bender, Mrs. Jacob Forney, of Bendersville, Pa., and called on Rev. O. C. Roth and family and Rev. Heilman and family, where we met Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker, of Harney. We spent some time in the great railroad shops at Juniata, said to be the greatest in the world. We also took a trip to Kittaning Point, at the head of the great horseshoe bend in the Alleghany mountains. We are encircled by a train of 85 cars and caboose and three engines.

Anti-Saloon Sunday.

Next Sunday, October 27th, will be observed by three of the churches of Westminster as Anti-Saloon Sunday. Rev. S. E. Nicholson, Superintendent of the Maryland Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters at Baltimore, will be present, speaking at the Methodist Protestant Church in the morning and at the M. E. Church at night. At 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon he will address a union meeting at the Lutheran Church. The League is a non-partisan interdenominational movement, organized nationally and in 38 States, including Maryland. Its departments of work are agitation, legislation and law enforcement, and it has a good record for practical work against the saloon and for law enforcement.

The assurance is given that there will be no abuse of anyone, but a straight-forward, practical presentation of this cause from the standpoint of Christian duty.

Mr. Nicholson served as a member of the Indiana Legislature in 1895 and 1897, when he secured valuable temperance legislation. For two years he has had charge of the League work in Maryland. The following are some of the press sentiments on his work:

"Mr. Nicholson appears before an audience the embodiment of political honor and civic conscience. He represents the moral sentiment, the christian conviction in the domain of politics.  For one hour he poured forth sentences, eloquent in diction, massive in strength and structure, fired with indignation, yet balanced by a statesmanship that knows best how to secure results."—Western Christian Advocate in account of Cincinnati meeting.

"He delivered a powerful sermon in the morning in the M. E. Church. Vincennes people rarely have the opportunity of hearing such a sermon."—Vincennes (Ind.) Sun.

"Hon. S. E. Nicholson delivered the address of the evening, and a magnificent production it was. He possesses a very commanding appearance, uses elegant English, and is an eloquent orator."—Nashville (Tenn.) American.

Ex-Judge George M. Russum, of Denton, Caroline county, died suddenly, on Monday last, aged about 67 years. Judge Russum was among the most prominent Republican leaders on the Eastern Shore of the State. He was several times a candidate for Congress, and was, at the time of his death, the Republican nominee for State Senator in Caroline county. He was appointed a judge of the Court of Appeals by Governor Lowndes and was a candidate for the position at the succeeding election, but was defeated, the circuit having a Democratic majority. Judge Russum was a relative of the Messrs. Vanderford, of this city.

Synod of the Potomac.

The Synod of the Potomac, Reformed Church in the United States, met at Huntingdon, Pa., on Thursday, 18th inst. Much of the time of the first day's session was consumed in the reception of reports. Among these was that of Prof. Joseph H. Apple, president of the Woman's College, Frederick, who stated that that institution now has 122 students enrolled, who are gathered from Maryland, California, Illinois, Michigan, Montana, New York, Delaware, the District of Columbia and Pennsylvania.

Other business was suspended to give consideration to the question of the next place of meeting and Grace Reformed Church, Washington, D. C., was selected.

The item in the report of the committee on missions relating to the building of the Memorial Reformed Church, Washington, D. C., was taken up.

In this connection an overture was received from Maryland Classis proposing to contribute $5,000 at once toward the Memorial Church, provided the seven other classes of the synod unitedly agree to contribute $5,000 to the same cause. The synod promptly decided to raise the sum, and the seven classes pledged sums as follows: Zion Classis, $1,000; Juniata, $1,200; Carlisle, $600; Gettysburg, $780; Virginia, $500; Mercersburg, $825, and North Carolina, $100, guaranteeing the amount.

The statistical report of the synod showed that during the year a dozen new churches have been erected and dedicated and the work of the year manifests a growth along every line. The statistics are as follows: Classes, 8; congregations, 308; ministers, 167; communicant members, 39,479; unconfirmed members, 21,484; infant baptisms, 1,858; adult baptisms, 304; received by confirmation, 1,666; received by certificate, 1,068; dismissed to other churches, 889; deaths of confirmed members, 669; deaths of children, 321; Sunday-schools, 279; members of Sunday-schools, 36,488; students for the ministry, 39; money for benevolent purposes, $43,942, and for congregational purposes, $199,336. The net increase in confirmed church membership is 1,509.

By special action the synod decided to meet in convention at its next annual meeting in Washington, D. C. Ordinarily it meets as a delegate body, and usually numbers in full membership about 115. Meeting in convention its membership will be about 325.

The committee on education reported. The institutions of the synod are Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pa., with over 200 students; Woman's College, Frederick, Md., 122 students; Catawba College, Newton, N. C., 180 students; Massanuttan Academy, Woodstock, Va., 80 students. The synod also has an interest in Franklin and Marshall College and the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, Pa. J. E. Guy, J. H. Smith, A. J. Collison and F. C. Cook are students from Baltimore attending the seminary.

The sum of $3,000 was assessed for the education of students for the ministry. There are now 17 young men under the care of the board. Four are from Maryland.

Frederick Lohmyer, aged 22 years, a brakeman on the Western Maryland Railroad, and who lived at Owing's Mills, was fatally injured on Monday about noon by slipping and falling under the cars while at work near Owings Mills. One of the wheels passed over both of his legs, breaking the right one at the thigh and the left one at the knee. The injured man was put on the train and taken to the Maryland Homeopathic Hospital and attended by Dr. Henry Chandler. He died on Wednesday.
