basement where Kelly stood. The old cobbler sat in the front room, surrounded by the implements of his trade. He looked up as the officer entered, took a wax end out of his mouth and lifted his square silver-bowed spectacles that he might see and speak.

"No," said Kelly, "I haven't any job. The truth is, the whole neighborhood is up in arms about a girl of yours. I've been looking into the matter at the orders of the captain, and from these," taking out the papers containing the complaints, "it looks to me like it was a reform school case."

"I've done the best I could," replied Benson, "but Satan himself seems in that child and I'm afraid I'll have to let her go."

"And she's your child?" asked Kelly, who had expected a strong protest.

"No, she's my grandchild. Her father was Bob Reilly," replied the cobbler.

"What, Bob Reilly of the force?" said Kelly.

"The same," was the reply.

"Why, Bob Reilly was killed saving children," said the officer.

"I know he was," replied the old man. "It was this way. The big school buildings caught fire in the basement in some way and all but about ten of the children got out; these had run up into the top story and were cut off. Reilly was in a building that looked down on it. The firemen had the nets down but the children were afraid to jump, so Reilly got a rope and the men lowered him down to the roof where he broke through the skylight and reached them. He threw them out of the window into the nets, all but one, and that was the girl you're after. He hated to throw her, and what they were doing the Lord only knows, when all at once a belt of flame and smoke surrounded them. The girl shot out of the window and fell into the net, but the father never came out."

"I know that," responded Kelly, "I was there, and if I were you I'd hate to have any disgrace come to that kid."

"So I do," replied the old man, "but I've done everything I can. I'm hated by the neighbors; and they won't bring their work here, all on account of that kid."

"Where is she?" asked Kelly, looking around.

"In the street; I can't lock her up all the time," said Benson.

"Well," said Kelly, "if I put these complaints and the witnesses are called she'll go to the school sure."

The old man said nothing; he was doubtless glad of the opportunity of getting rid of a troublesome hoyden, so the officer walked out of the hot, stifling room and started down the alley. He had not gone more than two blocks when he heard certain sounds which suggested trouble, and in the centre of the street stood a group of boys. The officer moved ahead quickly and reaching the crowd asked,—

"What's up?"

"The red kid's been firing rocks at us," replied some one.

"Where is she?" asked Kelly.

"There," pointed the boy who had been hit.

Pushing into the crowd, Kelly looked down upon a singular scene. On the ground, in the hot dust, lay an old horse, its glassy eyes turned upward, its nostrils dilated, its sides heaving faintly, telling of the intense heat, suffering and approaching dissolution. In the dust at its head, holding an old umbrella over it with one hand and a sharp edged rock in the other, was the reddest-haired girl Kelly had ever seen. "Hit him again and I'll give it to you," she was saying in a threatening tone to the boys, raising the rock grimly; and then Kelly saw that she had a basin of water and had been moistening the animal's head.

"I hope I did," replied Red Terror, for it was she.

Kelly was on the bench, supreme judge, and it occurred to him to suggest that the prisoner should not convict herself; but she was not yet a prisoner.

"It's this way," she said, still holding the umbrella over the head of the prostrate animal. "I was walking down the street when I found the boys throwing stones at this horse. It was sick, anybody could see that"—and Kelly saw the tears starting—"so I called out to stop or—yes, or I'd rock them; but they wouldn't, so I got behind the horse and drove them off; then it fell down and I got some water and washed its head and held the umbrella over it until some one came. But the crowd began to come and abuse me, and——"

Here the Red Terror broke down, the umbrella fell from her hand, and with a cry, "It's dead, it's dead!" she dropped beside the animal and wept as though her heart would break.

There was something about Officer Kelly's looks that made every boy creep away, until finally he, the girl and the dead horse were alone; then he took the dimunitive Red Terror in his arms and carried her up the hot, dusty alley to old Benson's.

* * * * *

"What did you find about the stone-throwing case?" asked the captain of police that night.

"Nothing," replied Kelly, briefly; "accused moved away."

So she had. The Terror had moved into the very heart of Officer Kelly's family—a big one though it was.

TO SCHOOL TEACHERS.

EXECUTORS' SALE OF A

DESIRABLE FARM,

NEAR BEGGS P. O., CARROLL COUNTY, MARYLAND.

By virtue of the power and authority given in the last Will and Testament of Sarah C. Reese, late of Carroll county, deceased, duly admitted to probate by the Orphans' Court of Carroll county, and also an order of said court, the undersigned, Executors named therein, will sell at public sale, on the premises, to the highest bidder, on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26th, 1901,

at two o'clock, P. M., all that farm, containing 146 ACRES AND 13 PERCHES OF LAND, more or less, that was conveyed to the said Sarah C. Reese in her lifetime by John L. Reifsnider, mortgagee, by deed bearing date September 22nd, 1896, and recorded among the Land Records of Carroll county, in Liber B. F. C. No. 83, folio 278 &c., and of which she died seized and possessed.

The improvements thereon are two comfortable Log Dwelling Houses, Large Bank Barn, Wagon Shed, Corn Crib and other necessary outbuildings. Water convenient to the buildings. Silo, 14 x 30, has just been erected on the premises.

About ten acres of the land is in good timber; a due proportion of meadow land, and the balance under a high state of cultivation.

The property is now occupied by Mr. Jacob Starner and is situated on the Stone road, about a quarter of a mile from Beggs P. O. (formerly) on the Littlestown Turnpike road and four miles from Westminster.

This is one of the best farms in that section of the county, and this sale should receive the attention of persons desiring to purchase a farm. Mr. Starner will be pleased to show prospective purchasers over the farm.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale, or on the ratification thereof by the said court, and the residue in two equal payments, the one payable in six and the other in twelve months from the day of sale; the credit payments to be secured by the bonds or single bills of the purchaser or purchasers, with approved security, bearing interest from the day of sale, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser.

Proclamation.

WHEREAS, at the January Session in the year nineteen hundred of the General Assembly of Maryland, bills were passed proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State:

First.—By amending section 9 of Article 5, of the Constitution of the State.

Second.—By amending section 4 of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State.

Third.—By amending section 2 of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State, which said bills and amendments are in words following, to wit:

CHAPTER 185.

AN ACT to amend section nine, of Article 5, of the Constitution of this State, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring.) That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article 5, of the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, herein and as by law provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of section nine of said Article.

SECTION 9. The State's Attorney shall perform such duties and receive such fees and commissions or salary not exceeding three thousand dollars, as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law; and if any State's Attorney shall receive any other fee or reward than such as is or may be allowed by law, he shall, on conviction thereof, be removed from office; provided that the State's Attorney for Baltimore city shall receive an annual salary of forty-five hundred dollars, and shall have power to appoint one deputy, at an annual salary not exceeding three thousand dollars, and such other assistants at such annual salaries not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars each, as the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City may authorize and approve; all of said salaries to be paid out of the fees of the said State's Attorney's office, as has heretofore been practiced.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall be, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly, to be held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the direction contained in Article 14, of the Constitution; and at said election the vote on said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter shall elect, and immediately after said election one return shall be made to the Governor of the vote on said proposed amendment, as directed by the said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

Approved April 5, 1900.

CHAPTER 432.

AN ACT to amend section four, of Article 3, of the Constitution of this State.

SECTION 1, Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the members of the two Houses concurring.) That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, said section shall supersede and stand in the place and instead of section four of Article 3, of said Constitution.

SECTION 4. As soon as may be after the taking and publishing of the National Census of 1900, or after the enumeration of the population of this State, under the authority thereof, there shall be an apportionment of representation in the House of Delegates, to be made on the following basis, to wit: Each of the several counties of the State, having a population of eighteen thousand souls or less, shall be entitled to two delegates; and every county having a population of over eighteen thousand and less than twenty-eight thousand souls, shall be entitled to three delegates; and every county having a population of twenty-eight thousand and less than forty thousand souls, shall be entitled to four delegates; and every county having a population of forty thousand and less than fifty-five thousand souls, shall be entitled to five delegates; and every county having a population of fifty-five thousand souls and upwards, shall be entitled to six delegates and no more; and each of the four legislative districts of the City of Baltimore shall be entitled to the number of delegates to which the largest county shall or may be entitled under the aforegoing apportionment, and the General Assembly shall have the power to provide by law, from time to time, for altering and changing the boundaries of the existing legislative districts of the City of Baltimore, so as to make them as near as may be of equal population; but said district shall always consist of contiguous territory.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution, shall, at the next election for members of the General Assembly of this State, to be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, nineteen hundred and one, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14, of the Constitution of this State; and at the said election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter shall elect, and immediately after the said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by the said Article 14, of the Constitution.

Approved April 7, 1900.

CHAPTER 469.

AN ACT to amend section two of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State.

SECTION 1, Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the members of the two Houses concurring.) That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, said section shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of section two of Article 3 of said Constitution.

2. The City of Baltimore shall be divided into four legislative districts as near as may be of equal population and of contiguous territory, and each of said legislative districts of Baltimore City, as they may from time to time be laid out, in accordance with the provisions hereof, and each county in the State, shall be entitled to one Senator, who shall be elected by the qualified voters of the said legislative districts of Baltimore City, and of the counties of the State, respectively, and shall serve for four years from the date of his election, subject to the classification of Senators hereafter provided for.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall at the next election for members of the General Assembly of this State, to be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, nineteen hundred and one, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State; and at the said election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter shall elect, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by the said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

Approved April 7, 1900.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOHN WALTER SMITH, Governor of the State of Maryland, in pursuance of the provisions of section one of Article fourteen of the Constitution of the State, do hereby order and direct that a copy of said bills proposing said Constitutional Amendments be published in at least two newspapers in each county where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be in the German language, once a week for at least three months preceding the next ensuing general election (which said general election will be held on Tuesday, the 5th day of November, nineteen hundred and one), at which the said proposed amendments shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection, so that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, so two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store, therefore I have no opposition. Is you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of

WALL PAPER
