1771 SEPTEMBER 26 JOHN WELSH TO JAMES CRISTEA

SIDE TWO

made me. I have disposed of about 700 Casks flour by said Vessells at 33 p. 4 p.ce and had I as many more now in the Bay could dispose of them on the same terms for the Havana.

As to Wheat we are still in an uncertain situation our prices in the bay for hard grain rule from 32 to 34 rs. and little demand as we are so frequently supplied from different parts of Bombay and the demand as few buyers appear most people are obliged to lend their grain & wait a change towards Winter; according to present prices of hard grain I am would not sell with in a prices of 26 to 28 rs.

I remain sincerely

Sir your most humble Servt

John Welsh
