1792 NOV. 28 WILLIAM RANDOLPH

Dear Sir Bristol 28th Novr. 1792

You were wrote fully from the house this day, & your particular attention to which I must beg leave to recommend. I now address you about an affair in which you and I are both equally concern'd in the first place I intreat you to turn the matter over seriously in your mind & in the next place enjoin you to secrecy, that should nothing further happen in the affair that this information be buried in Oblivion —

In March last it was currently reported your Uncle Jennings would be appointed one of the Supervisors to Indies & if any information was right he in some measure looked on the matter as fixed, his annual salary was to be £8000 — in consequence of which he wrote our W. G. Imsphof and made him a very handsome offer to go his Secretary
